NEWS OF NATIONAL GAME IN EASTERN OREGON.

New Series at Baker City and La Grande Today—Bits of News of the Great Game.

The Walla Walla baseball team passed through Pendleton last evening on its way to La Grande, where it crosses bats with the Beet Pullers today in the first game of a series to be played today, tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday.

The Pendleton Indians left also, for Baker, where they will try conclusions with the Gold Diggers in a similar series and as they put a keen edge on their scalping knives before leaving, they are confident of having some scalps to salt down when they return. The Baker team is now one of the strongest in the league, at least in individual players, and the Indians will have to get a swift hustle on them to do much business with the boys from the tall timber and gold mines.

Walla Walla will also have a tough proposition to go up against as the Beet Pullers have been getting better right along since their last series when they divided honors with the Sharpshooters at Walla Walla, while the Washington team is weakened by the defection of three of their strongest players.

Chances of Victory.

In the contests to come off at Baker City the Indians have somewhat the best of the matter, as they have added strength to their team since doing stunts with Baker City and La Grande, while the Gold Diggers have practically the same aggregation as that which met defeat here.

Walla Walla on the other hand, has lost Titus, "Spec" Hurburt and Swindells, the latter having quit the team yesterday, pay day, and when the Sharpshooters passed through last night they again had with them their old stand-by, Cryderman, while either Mullane or Weaver, their new

FREIGHT RATES ON FRUIT

FRUIT GROWERS PLEASSED OVER REDUCTIONS MADE.

Rates to Chicago Will Go Down Ten Cents and to Missouri River Terminals About 15 Cents Per Hundred.

Fruit raisers in the northern section of Umatilla county are pleased over the announcement that the same rates which prevailed on carload shipments of fruit from all points in the Inland Empire last season will apply again this year.

This means that the rate on carload lots of fruit to St. Paul, St. Louis, Minneapolis and Missouri river terminals will be 60 cents per hundred, and to Chicago the rate will be reduced to about 75 of 74 cents, thus allowing Umatilla fruit raisers to market their crops in the central and eastern states in competition with that grown in those sections. The new rate means a reduction of about ten cents a hundred on Chicago shipments and 15 to the first named points.

An Apple Problem.

The marketing of the apple crop will be somewhat of a problem this season, as it is not yet known how the eastern and middle state crops are going to turn out, and the quantities of apples raised there will have a marked effect on the prices of Eastern Oregon apples by curtailing or expanding the markets.

Should the Eastern markets prove light the farmers of this vicinity still have large territory in the Northwest, including Idaho, Washington, Montana and British Columbia, in which they can find fruit markets at good prices, so there is not much fear of the price going low enough to cause any serious difficulty.

Peach Crop Light.

The peach crop this season is light and what few peaches are raised will be in market within the next couple of weeks, after which Eastern Oregonians will have to depend once more on shipments from the south. Snake River fruit is not handled in the Walla Walla markets and but little of it in this city.
