NEW TRAIN SERVICE.

Will Be Appreciated by the Traveling Public—is Permanent.

The following new rules for the holding and running of trains at and out of Pendleton and Umatilla when incoming trains are late, has been sent out from the general passenger department of the company:

When No. 5 is five hours late, or over, No. 3 will be held at Umatilla until No. 5's time, and will then run to Portland on the time of the latter train. Under such conditions a special will be run from Pendleton to Umatilla to connect with No. 3 thus giving local service on No. 5's time from Pendleton to Portland. The special from Pendleton to Umatilla will also give connection at Umatilla with train No. 4 for the Washington division.

No. 4 will be held at Umatilla for No. 5, when the latter train arrives at Umatilla not to exceed two hours later than her schedule. This will enable us to put No. 4 into Spokane not later than 12 o'clock noon. The Great Northern will hold at Spokane for No. 4 under such conditions when we have not less than 10 passengers for that line. When there are less than 10 passengers, the Great Northern will not hold to exceed one hour.

No. 8 will be held at Pendleton one hour and 30 minutes for No. 1, when the latter train has passengers for points east of Walla Walla. No. 8 will be held not to exceed 30 minutes for No. 1 for passengers destined to points beyond Pendleton and Walla Walla, as such passengers can be delivered at their destination in the early evening by using No. 42, leaving Pendleton at 5:30 p. m.

The foregoing is a fixed arrangement, and will enable you to give information to passengers in regard to connections in case of delayed trains.

REDS WON ANOTHER

VERY FAST AND SENSATIONAL GAME.

Beet Pullers Played an Excellent Game, But Could Not Keep Up With the Indians—Walla Walla Wins From Baker City.

Pendleton, 2.
La Grande, 0.

Few prettier exhibitions of the national game have been seen on the local baseball diamond than the one between Pendleton and La Grande Thursday afternoon.

The game was very evenly divided from start to finish, it being nobody's game until the end of the ninth when La Grande was retired.

Way the Runs Were Made.

When the tallies were made which brought Pendleton out on top two men were out. Brown went to bat in the eighth and fanned. Schmidt flew out to Castner and it looked as if another inning was going to end without a run. Salisbury took the stick, and hit a safe, making first base. Brockhoff was next up and got to first on balls. Fay knocked a grounder to George Brown at short stop and Brown fumbled. He picked up the ball, throwing it to Thompson on second, who dropped it, Salisbury scoring and Brockhoff reaching third on the same error and Fay reached third. Schills then stole second and Stovall flew out to Adams in left field, retiring the side.

Some Close Places.

By excellent work Pendleton crawled out of close places twice. In the second and ninth was the only times the Beet Pullers had a man on third and for a minute each time it looked very dangerous for the Indians. The closest call, however, was in the eighth, and it was only for the sensational running catch and an sensational throw to second, making a double play, which put the Pullers out of business. In this inning McGucken got to first base on the error of Schills at third, which was the only error made by Pendleton. Adams got a safe hit and went to first, advancing McGucken. Edwards was next to bat and advanced the men on bases to second and third, but was put out himself before getting a safe footing on the initial bag. Then was when Hammond made the play of his life and won warm applause from the fans. Thompson sent a swift fly to left field, which made the onlookers hold their breaths as it looked safe, but Hammond got in its way. He made the only sensational play of the day, as he made a run for this ball and it did not look possible for him to take it in, but he did and threw the ball to second, putting out Adams and completing a double play which ended the game. Had Hammond missed this ball two scores would have been run in, making the score a tie at least, and it would have been possible for Thompson to have scored, winning the game for the Beet Pullers.

The Score.

Playing This Afternoon.

The teams are playing the second of the present series on the Alta street diamond this afternoon. The Indians have taken nine straight games from the La Grande team, but from the way the Beet Pullers held them down yesterday the fans are not so confident of being able to say they have taken 12 when the series is closed. La Grande has strengthened greatly and has a good team. Next week the same teams will play in the Pullers' own town and this will end the season between these two teams.

Walla Walla Won.

The Walla Walla baseball team won in the first game of the present series at Walla Walla yesterday by a score of 7 to 2. This was a pretty good game and some excellent plays were made.

PERSONAL MENTION.

R. S. Moore is in town from Ukiah. W. H. Upton is at Hotel Pendleton from Walla Walla.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Judd left this morning for Hartford, Conn., where they make their winter home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Clopton and daughter, Sybil, have returned from the summer spent at the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron left this morning for Walla Walla to visit their daughter, Mrs. Norval Jones.

Deputy United States Marshal Jake Proebstel is in town from Portland. He is looking after the business of Uncle Sam.

Walla Walla Union: Mrs. L. C. McGinnis, of Pendleton, is at the Walla Walla hospital, receiving medical treatment.

Mrs. Mathews, Miss Mabel Mathews, Miss Dena Hendley, Clarence Penland and Fred Earl returned last night from Kamela, where they spent two weeks recreating.

Portland Daily Journal: Indian Agent Wilkins, of the Umatilla reservation, is en route home from Washington, where he has been for some time on business with the department.

George T. Hamblin has returned from Thunder Mountain country where he spent a week or two looking over the country. He says the Thunder Mountain stories are greatly exaggerated.

Frances Norton is in town from Portland, where he is employed in the office of the O. R. & N. Company. He was formerly car clerk with the company here, where he has many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Perry and daughter, Miss Jennie, have returned from the coast, where Mrs. Perry and daughter have spent the summer and Mr. Perry spent the past two weeks. They report having had a very pleasant time.

Mrs. A. M. Sheridan writes from the Middle John Day, stating that she and her family would be home about the first of September. They have spent the past week and a half in the John Day and before going there were at the springs.

R. Alexander, proprietor of the Alexander Department Store, past grand master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, accompanied Grand Master C. W. Andrews, and Grand Secretary E. E. Sharon, of Portland, to Weston last evening. In Weston they were entertained and banqueted by the local lodge last night.

ETERNAL ICE LAKES

Claimed to Have Been Discovered in Baker County.

Two lakes covered with ice at all times of the year have just been discovered in Baker County, says a correspondent from Baker City. C. M. Sage, a business of this city, on Sunday, July 27, crossed two good sized lakes in the Granite mountains, some miles northeast of Cornucopia in Baker county, on hard frozen ice. Mr. Sage with a party of friends went on a hunting and pleasure trip to the almost inaccessible mountain peaks back of the town of Cornucopia, in the Panhandle district of Baker county. The mountains are high and rugged, and before passing the timber line the explorer must find his way through a primeval forest. A packhorse is the only means of getting into this district, except to trudge along on foot, which, to say the least, is uphill business. One part of the road is so encumbered by fallen trees that it is almost impossible to get through. In order to get supplies to their claims, two prospectors were obliged to cut a trail through this tangle of fallen trees, and it was by means of this trail that Mr. Sage and his friends were enabled to ascend the mountains, until they finally discovered the two frozen lakes referred to.

The lakes are near the summit on the north side of the mountain, and in order to reach them the party travelled over ice and snow for a distance of five miles. The bodies of water are small. One is 150 feet across, and 700 feet in diameter and the other is between 600 and 700 feet in diameter. They are well defined lakes or pools, however, covered with a thick coating of ice, clear as crystal, and as smooth as glass, which is so thick and strong that the exploring party did not hesitate to ride across on horseback and with their loaded pack animals.

Mr. Sage says so far as he was able to judge, the ice on the lakes never melts because they are so situated behind two tall peaks that the sun's rays never strike them with sufficient power to make any impression on the snow and ice.

This land of perpetual snow and ice is within a day's ride of Baker City by the present means of transportation, part way on a buckboard and the rest on horseback. It would scarcely be more than a ride of an hour and a half on an electric railroad, which is entirely practical and among both the probabilities and possibilities of the future. The scenery on the road to the summit is attractive, alike to the tourist in search of pleasure and the scientist in search of knowledge. There are a number of fine gold and copper prospects in the mountains, both below and above the frozen lakes, and in the course of time there will evidently be some very rich mines opened up in this unexplored region. Mr. Sage is of the opinion that from the lay of the country other larger and more picturesque lakes with perpetual ice will be discovered.
