

"The Girl From Up There."

Says there isn't a collar, cuff or shirt front laundered anywhere in the country that can compare with our laundry work. The color and finish are superb, and they always give genuine satisfaction to our patrons. Ladies' shirt waists are also laundered in a manner that makes them look like new, and the color is preserved longer than by having them done by any other method.

IT WAS A FAST GAME

PENDLETON WON SECOND IN SERIES FROM LA GRANDE.

This Makes Ten Straights Taken From the Beet Pullers by the Reds—Both Teams Played Excellent Ball—Walla Walla Won From Baker.

Standing of the Clubs.

	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Pendleton	22	8	.733
Walla Walla	15	15	.500
La Grande	12	17	.413
Baker City	10	19	.344

Pendleton, 2; La Grande, 0. Walla Walla, 6; Baker City, 2.

The above was the way the scores stood at the end of the two baseball games, one here and the other in Walla Walla, Friday. The two strong teams crawled another notch toward the top and the two weaker teams went another notch back.

The game here between the Indians and the Beet Pullers was another exhibition of the national game which any loyal fan can witness with pride. Although the score stood the same as the game the day before, it was, if anything, a little better. The boys all played good, snappy ball and notwithstanding the fact that the Beet Pullers did not get a man nearer the home plate than second, they did not get discouraged and played a lively snappy game from start to finish.

Sensational Plays.

Several good sensational plays were made and La Grande pulled herself out of some very close places which looked as though the score was going to be run up by the Indians above that which is recorded.

Adams Crossed Plate First.

Adams was the man to whom the honor of the first tally fell. Not a man safely crossed the home plate until the last half of the eighth. Stovall was the first man at the bat in this inning. He was put out in a vain effort to reach first on a short grounder. Adams followed and went to first on a beautiful safe grounder. Hammond followed him and was put out while trying to reach the initial bag, but Adams—"Tamerack"—as he is familiarly known to the fans, stole second on a ball to Hammond. When Brown came to bat he brought Adams home on a safe and went to first, but the side was retired by a sensational run and catch of a foul by Bolin, in right field.

Then again in the seventh inning another tally was made when Fay safely crossed the home plate on Schills' safe and going to first. When this run was made two men were out and Stovall retired the side by a fly. The rest of the time was occupied by the teams in playing good ball and each side retired at the end of the inning and being compelled to see a large, hard-boiled goose egg marked up against them.

La Grande Defeated Quickly.

La Grande went down to defeat in much shorter order than did Pendleton. They were first to bat and Adams and Edwards both fanned, while Black hit a pretty fly to center field and it was taken in by Bobby Brown. In the second they went down in the same short order. Brown got to first on balls and went to second on a bunt of Thompson. Bolin fanned and Shea was put out on a pop-up foul. Thompson was caught napping off the first base and put out retiring the side in the second.

In the third Castner was put out by a bunt to pitcher, Russell out by a fly into Brown's mit in center field and Adams fanned again.

Edwards got his base on balls in the fourth, but was put out trying to steal second, while Black and R. Brown both fanned.

Thompson was put out in the fifth by a tip to the pitcher and Bolin and Shea both fanned.

In the sixth Castner fanned, Russell was put out by a pop-up to Hays in the pitcher's box and Adams retired the side by a grounder to Schmidt which was taken in time to head him off at first.

In the seventh Edwards and Black fanned and R. Brown was put out by a grounder which beat him to first base and was taken in by Stovall.

In the eighth Thompson flew out to center field and was caught by Brown, Bolin was retired trying to reach first and Shea was caught out by a fly to Schmidt.

In the ninth Castner hit a tip to Hays was outrun with the ball to first, Russell was put out on a fly and Adams ended the game by being put out in a vain attempt to reach first.

The Way Pendleton Played.

Brockhoff was the first man up for Pendleton. He got first on balls and Fay sacrificed, sending him to second. Schills was put out at first and Brockhoff went to third, but Stovall was put out by a tip to the pitcher.

In the second Adams landed on first by a grounder and Hammond hit a beautiful grounder down by the short stop. Brown got to first on Russell's fumble. Schmidt went out by a fly to Castner in center and Adams was caught at third while Hays retired the side by a tip to Russell.

Brockhoff was caught in right field on a fly to Bolin in the third. Fay got to first and when Schills came to the bat he sent a fly into right field which looked like it was going to be a safe, but Bolin made a sensational running catch and threw the ball to second putting Fay out while trying to get to second after the ball was caught.

In the fourth Stovall was put out on first, Adams was caught on a foul, Hammond made the only two-bagger of the day on a safe to left field, Brown was caught in left with a fly retiring the side.

In the fifth Schmidt got to first on a safe hit and Hays fanned, Brockhoff hit a safe to right and Fay flew out to second, while Schills flew out to right.

In the sixth Stovall went out at first, Hammond went out on a grounder to first and Adams was brought home by a safe of Brown's. Schmidt retired the side by a foul fly to right.

In the seventh Hays went to first on a safe, Brockhoff sacrificed, advancing him to second. Hays then undertook to steal third and was caught, but in the melee Fay stole second and went to third on a passed ball. Schills brought Fay home on a safe and Stovall retired the side by a fly.

In the eighth the side was retired in quick succession. Adams was put out at first, Hammond out at first and Brown fanned.
