UNIQUE CELEBRATION.

Farmers and Union Laborers Unite at Walla Walla in a Great Holiday.

Walla Walla, Wash., Sept. 1.—"Straw day" a new holiday, and Labor day, a fitting recognition to organized labor in this country, are being jointly celebrated here today, for the first time in the history of the city. Never before has organized labor been strong enough to claim recognition, and but once before have the farmers made any pretensions of noticing the day when the roads are to be treated with straw, and that was rather informal. Today all parts of the county are represented and hundreds of people from city and country are joining hands in a common jollification.

At 10 o'clock most of the business houses closed and the banks and public offices did not open at all. At 1 o'clock the labor unions formed a parade at Main and First, while at the court house gathered scores of farmers with teams hitched to loads of straw, the wagons also carrying large loads of people who wanted to be in the unique parade. The labor unions formed with the Walla Walla band in the lead and after marching a few blocks picked up the straw veterans and their friends, thence passing through Main street and to the grounds. The parade was the most unique in the history of Walla Walla. At the grounds this afternoon a program of speeches and music, with a splendid barbecue dinner, entertained the people, and tonight the labor union will give a dance at the hall corner of Main and First streets.

The feature of the day's enjoyment will be the final awarding of prizes to parties who have scattered straw, but the task will be a hard one, and may not be completed until tomorrow. Prizes ranging in value from a dollar to perhaps $25 or $50.

Forger Arrested.

Walla Walla, Wash., Sept. 1.—Deputy Sheriff Painter arrived today from Pocatello, Idaho, where he went a few days ago in search of A. Hoerber, wanted in this city for obtaining money under false pretenses. Mr. Painter found his man, arrested him and landed him in the county jail to await trial here. He is also wanted by the Idaho officials, but they will have a second chance at him.

A few weeks ago Hoerber appeared in this city and representing himself as the agent of the Continental Tobacco Co., contracted several debts. He issued checks against the company which in most cases were always dishonored. A complaint was made, a warrant issued and Deputy Painter started in pursuit a few days ago. Hoerber is a very smooth man, and the outcome of his case here will be watched with interest.

A Bad Accident.

Amalie Schuler, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Yost Schuler, met with a serious accident Saturday afternoon. The Schuler family live over the Crane saloon and a dumb waiter is used to pass meals to the men working down in the bar room. The little girl was sending dinner down to the bartender when she lost her balance and fell through the shaft to the floor below, a distance of 20 feet. One bone of the spine was fractured, and the skull crushed. She is still alive and strong hopes are entertained for her recovery.

A Local Poet.

Pendleton now has a citizen-poet of considerable prominence in the person of Miss Agnes Dunbar. She has written a large collection of poems and many of them are pronounced gems of literature. East Oregonian publishes a poem by the young lady today. Miss Dunbar is also an elocutionist of note. She is a graduate from Cooper's School of Acting and Elocution, of San Francisco, and has taught elocution in the cities and towns of the Pacific coast. She will open a school of elocution in the East Oregonian building tomorrow.

Wanted—A first-class stenographer and typewriter. Steady employment to right person. Address Box 105, Pendleton, Oregon, giving experience, salary and references.

Reward Offered.

Strayed, from Helix, Oregon, two 3-year-old colts, had halters on and were tied together when they left Helix. Both have white spot in face and branded "N. C." on left stifle. Will give reward for return of said animals or information leading to recovery of same.

D. B. RICHARDSON, Helix, Or.

Jim Spence.

J. M. Spence, better known to Athena people as "E. O." Spence, has quit selling farm implements and on September 1 will be in the harness again for the Pendleton paper. Spence was never cut out for a farmer, anyway. He is as much out of line outside a printshop as a drunk siwash is when he tries to walk the chalk line. The genial Spence will be with us in a few days.—Athena Press.

An Invitation.

Those wishing to while away the long evenings are extended a cordial invitation to call at the music warehouses of S. L. Wakefield & Co., Court street.
