"COUNSELOR" NOLAN WAS A WIT OF THE NEW YORK BAR.

some of the Quaint Sayings of This Picturesque Legal Light, Who For Years Kept Gotham's Judges and Lawrers Laughing.

In a book entitled "The Barrister" Charles Frederick Stansbury has your ribs!" brought together the best of the anecdotes of Tom Nolan, who was known popularly among members of the New York bar as "Counselor Nolan." For many years the counselor kept judges and lawyers of New York laughing. factory and being in close contact and at political conventions he was one of the important, if not serious, attractions. The counselor was himself sui generis. His drollery was individual. Some characteristic giories from Mr. Stansbury's collection are here set

> At a political convention a friend asked Nolan:

> "Isn't it strange, counselor, that your friend Croker, who is such a mighty power down your way, does not get a nice political job for himself?"

The barrister drew himself up, looking his inquisitor over from the corner of his eye, and then replied, with severity: "Tis a peanut brain you have, Clancy, to ask me that. Is there anny job he hasn't got?" Judge Horace Russell told the following story: Nolan once had a client whose name was Mrs. Moriarity. After her case had been placed upon the calendar Mrs. Moriarity appeared every day in Noian's office with her eleven witnesses. Finally the case reached the top of the calendar, and Nolan was on hand to try it. The opposing counsel asked for a postponement. Nolan fought the postponement with great eloquence, laving much stress upon the fact that Mrs. Moriarity had been put to enormous trouble and expense of coming every day to his office with her eleven witnesses. Judge Dugro, who was sitting, was not convinced apparently by Nolan's perfervid oratory and granted the adjournment. Then the barrister arose. "Your honor," said he, "has seen fit Bays there isn't a collar, cuff or shirt to grant a postponement of the case, ing of the court, yet I would like to ask your honor to do me a personal favor." "Certainly, counselor, with pleasure," replied Judge Dugro. "What is it?" "Go you to my office," thundered the barrister. "and inform Mrs. Moriarity that this case has been postponed."

Witty and keen as Noian was be once in a while got the worst of an encounter with a witness, as the following incident illustrates:

The plaintiff, Mr. Foley, was suing Mr. W. for damages sustained by carelessness of defendant in allowing his donkey to escape from his stable and trespass upon plaintiff's lawn. Foley is in the witness box.

Barrister Nolan (for defendant)-You say that Mr. W.'s animal caused all this injury to your property? Foley-Yes, sor.

Barrister-Where did you first see this donkey?

Foley-Tied up in defendantis stable. Barrister-Where did you next see Foley-On me premises Barrister-How do you know it was the same donkey?

Foley (emphatically)-If I saw yez up in the sthable, don't pose I'd know yez whin yez got loose?

The barrister excused Mr. Foley. It was in the old superior court before Judge David McAdam and a jury. and the barrister was trying a case on behalf of the plaintiff in a negligence sult against the Twenty-third street crosstown railroad, which was controlled by Jacob Sharp, who afterward gave the name of "boodle aldermen" to the world. On rising to sum up on behalf of his client Noisn launched forth he concluded his peroration as follows: "And who, gintlemen of the jury, is Jacob Sharp? I will tell you, gintle men. He is a man so lost to all his sinse of ethics and the rights of man that for the sake of palthry prospective dividends he would run a railroad up your spine and make ties out of

When the bar of the city of New York gave a dinner at Delmonico's in honor of former Justice Abraham R. Lawrence on his retirement from the beuch, one of the remarks Nolan made

"There's Recorder Smyth. He's a good judge, a foine judge, but be thinks ivery man ought to go to prison at least wance," Nolan on one occasion was a candidate for a municipal office, and in the course of his canvass he asked a woman of his acquaintance if she would use her influence in obtaining for him ber husband's vote, "Sure, I will," said the woman. "Are we not everlastingly grateful to you ever since you got my busband off for stealing a gun?" "No, no, my dear woman," cried the barrister, "not for stealing a gun, but for the alleged stealing of a gun." "Alleged be bothered." replied the woman, "Come up stairs and I'll show you the gun."

Once arguing a case in behalf of clients who were sallors and while in the midst of an exhaustive display of nautical scholarship Nolan was interrupted by the court:

"How comes it, counselor, that you ossess such a vast knowledge of the

The Economical Mule.

The mule is ready to begin work two or three years earlier than the borse. He can be put to pretty heavy pulling when he is three years old, and from that time until he is forty, if he has fair treatment and does not meet with an accident, he is not likely to lose any time. He is not subject to the many allments to which the borse is a victim, at least not to any great degree. He lives about twice as long, and his actual period of usefulness is nearly three times as long, for the horse is really not fit for heavy service until he is five years old or after he is twenty, while a mule will often do good service for forty years, and they have been known to work fifty, according to one writer, without being turned out at any time during all that long period.

Like the ass, the mule will live upon next to nothing, and during all his forty years of hard service a mule will not require-and generally does not get -half the feed necessary to sustain a horse during his much shorter period of usefulness.

Where Allapice Grows.

The island of Jamaica produces about all the alispice that is used. It is known also as pimento, or Jamaica pepper. The tree on which the berries grow is evergreen, and the flowers grow in dense clusters. These develop into small green aromatic berries, the size of black pepper. If allowed to ripen, they be come pulpy and lose some of their pungency. For commercial purposes the berries are gathered when green, carefully dried in the sun and afterward packed in bags bolding 160 to 180 pounds and shipped. Pimento trees grow in many parts of tropical America, but nowhere do they thrive as in Jamaica. The trees are never planted by man and receive no cultivation worthy of the name. The seeds are dropped by the birds, and the rains and the tropical sun do the rest. Surplus trees are cut down and become walking sticks and umbrella handles. This spice is more mild and innocent than most other spices.

He Won the Youngster.

The Rev. Dr. Mackenzie of San Francisco was once calling on a new parishioner who had a "limb" of a boy She had invited the doctor to dine. "Willie," she said to her hopeful, "pass Dr. Mackenzie a potato."

Willie seized the potato between thumb and finger, and before his mother could utter a horrmed remonstrance he had tossed it across the table and squarely luto the good man's lap. "Judgment," cried Wille.

"One strike." quoted the quick witted clergyman.

"Willie, leave the table!" stormed his mother.

"Madam." said the minister, "do not judge him barshiy. See bow beautifully he put the sphere over the plate." And from that time there wasn't a more earnest worker in all the big Sunday school than that same Willie.

Two Hospitals Said Diabetes.

Are Positively Curatio.

People either cured or recovering from the above diseases are in every ward in this city. Mrs. C. C. Mathewson, proprietor of the Clifts Hotel, 505 Powell street, is one of them, and makes this statement: MR Powell St., San Francisco, Nov. 21, 1901.

For two years I suffered greatly from dislots.

Finally I had to go to one of the hospitals, going to one of this city's very best. Three physicians there confirmed my case as disletes, and put me under treatment and strict diet. Getting no rettet, I went home. I got steadily worse and went to anoth well-known city hospital. The physicians there also said diabetes, and stated that they could prolong my life, but that I could never be well. I left the ? pital after a few months completely broken down, the percentage of sugar being 11 per cent. It was at this juncture I heard of the Fulton Compound and sent for it. The second and third weeks I began to sleep uninterruptedly, and found that the thirst I had suffered with for over two years has left me. I am now an entirely different person though still taking it to insure permanency. I have recommended it to a number all getting favorable results. One was a warm friend and another is a Berkeley attorney who had Bright's Disease and is now perfectly restored. I dislike publicity, but feet that this thing ought to be known

Medical works agree that Bright's Disc. and Diabotes are incurable, but 87 per cent. are positively recovering under the Fulson Com-pounds.
