DELINQUENT TAXES

LEVY SAVED BY PAYING UP BEFORE OCTOBER 6.

Sheriff Will Be Compelled to Levy After That Date—This Year's Showing Good—Washington Law.

Only 25 days more in which to pay taxes and save levy and the cost of the levy, is the stern condition under the law confronting tax-payers.

The new law makes levy compulsory on the part of the sheriff after the first Monday in October, which comes on the 6th. Then the penalty and costs of levy will be added to the penalty already attached.

The Old Law.

Under the old law if a tax-payer failed to pay his taxes and made a good excuse to the sheriff in his capacity as collector he could defer the levy at his discretion and give the tax-payer more time. This, as a matter of course, was done frequently, as officials are never inclined to oppress citizens when they can avoid it. A great number who were able to pay their taxes took advantage of this leniency and as a consequence tax collections were often behind.

Better Under the New.

But the new law has made collections better all around. Many of the property owners took advantage of the law which gave them 3 per cent off for paying up on or before March 15, and many also took advantage of the law permitting them to pay half of their taxes and saving penalty by paying before March 15.

Better collections have been made and the books show fewer delinquents this year than ever before in the history of the county. A greater number of property owners paid all of their taxes than those who only paid half.

To Save Costs.

But it is now necessary for delinquents to pay up before October 6 to save additional costs, and this applies especially to those who have paid half of their taxes. Having gone this far and saved the 10 per cent it would now be bad for them to permit the time to lapse and thus have to pay the penalty of levy at last.

The sheriff can show no leniency. After the date named no kind of excuse or plea will enable him to assist tax-payers. All taxes become subject to the penalty on that date and no power under the law can give relief.

Careless Business Men.

It is astonishing how careless men are in regard to paying taxes. A great number of men, and even business men, permit the time to pass and then find a penalty assessed against them, which they will have to pay hereafter, and which they could have saved by paying up in time, and which they were amply able to pay in time. At least three-fourths of the tax-payers took advantage of the new law and paid up prior to March 15. A great number have paid up since that time and those who expect to save further costs in the way of penalties will have to pay up before October 6. The cost of levy is usually large and the property owner who permits this penalty to be attached, when he can prevent it, wastes just that sum negligently.

Real Estate Looking Up.

The tax assessor is busy making up his 1902 rolls and will have them completed by March 1, or possibly earlier. The work has not proceeded to that point where a synopsis can be given, but it is safe to approximate a substantial increase in real estate values for this year. The improvements on homes, acquiring new homes, and the substantial citizenship settling in this county from many points, accounts for the increase of valuations in this class of property.

The Washington Law.

While the new Oregon law has resulted in good collections throughout the state, a prominent official said that he thought the Washington law was still better. In that state any one may go to the tax rolls and pay the taxes due by another, take a receipt for the same, and from the date of payment his receipt bears interest at 15 per cent. By reason of this law speculators are always on the lookout and when they see taxes due on good property they immediately pay the taxes and but few tracts of land become delinquent for taxes. It also stimulates property owners and they look after the payment of their taxes more promptly. It is claimed that under the Washington law no sales are made, and the costs of levy, advertisements, etc., are all saved, and that while the law would apparently work a hardship in the fact that one man can pay another's taxes without his consent, yet it results in good all around and prevents running costs up even against the property owner, except the per cent which is allowed as interest to the person paying the taxes. A receipt is practically a deed, subject to redemption, and this is all of the cost that attaches to collecting taxes in that state.

But the main point that should be impressed upon Umattilla property owners at present, the officers say, is that they should pay their taxes on or before October 6 and save a levy and the costs attached thereto.

LOSES VALUABLE KEEPSAKES.

Col. Parsons Has Two Navajo Blankets Taken From His Porch.

Col. William Parsons is lamenting the loss of two fine Navajo Indian blankets which were taken from the veranda at his home, on East Court street this morning.

Col. Parsons made a collection of these blankets while engaged in the government service among the Navajo Indians 12 years ago. These blankets are very valuable as they are scarce and he prized his collection very highly, not only for their intrinsic value, but as keepsakes. Last night two of the blankets were left on the porch and when the family arose this morning they were gone, but their loss was not discovered until about the middle of the forenoon.

One of the blankets was worth about $50 and the other $20. The large one was seven feet long and is red with diamond shaped figures while the small one is red with stripes of black.

There is no clue to the theft.

Rheumatism

The liniment bottle and flannel strip are familiar objects in nearly every household. They are the weapons that have been used for generations to fight old Rheumatism, and are about as effective in the battle with this giant disease as the blunderbuss of our forefathers would be in modern warfare.

Rheumatism is caused by an acid, sour condition of the blood. It is filled with acrid, irritating matter that collects in the joints, muscles and nerves, and liniments and oils nor nothing else applied externally can dislodge these gritty, corroding particles. They were deposited there by the blood and can be reached only through the blood. Rubbing with liniments sometimes relieve temporarily the aches and pains, but these are only symptoms which are liable to return with every change of the weather; the real disease lies deeper, the blood and system are infected. Rheumatism cannot be radically and permanently cured until the blood has been purified, and no remedy does this so thoroughly and promptly as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and sends a stream of rich, strong blood to the affected parts, which dissolves and washes out all foreign materials, and the sufferer obtains happy relief from the torturing pains. S. S. S. contains no potash or other mineral, is a perfect vegetable blood purifier and an exhilarating tonic. Our physicians will advise, without charge, all who write about their case, and we will send free our special book on Rheumatism and its treatment.
