AT THE FRAZER TONIGHT.

Richards & Pringle's Minstrels Will Entertain Fun Lovers.

The rare combination of old-time minstrelsy and the bright new ideas in this line of entertainment is seen in the mammoth minstrel organization of Richards & Pringle's that will be seen at the Frazer tonight.

Its program is a revel of bright minstrel ideas retaining the pleasing traditions of "Old plantation days" as well as the gaudy, dandified acts of today and runs the entire gamut of the best in vaudeville and minstrelsy.

Every feature is new this season, and the organization is the best effort of its enterprising management. One of the special features this year expressly engaged for this tour is Bonamor's troupe of Arabian acrobats. A special train of the company's own Pullman cars are used in its transportation and the street parade, which takes place at 5:30 p. m., is one of the most pleasing spectacles one would wish to witness, as it introduced new features and many of them. The seats are on sale at Frazer's Book Store, and a rush for seats is looked for after witnessing the street parade, the prices are 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.

Next Attraction.

DEATH ON RANGE

TWO MEN, 100 HORSES AND 750 SHEEP VICTIMS.

They Crossed the Dead-line and the Cattlemen Were Merciless, If Story Be True.

Will Allen, who arrived in town today from Susanville, tells of the reported killing of 750 sheep, 100 horses and two men, on Big Creek, a few miles from Susanville.

Mr. Allen does not tell the story as being absolutely correct, but says it came pretty straight and he thinks it is true.

The report has it that a band of sheep were driven below the dead-line by a herder who struck camp on the cattlemen's territory. The cattlemen went to the herder and asked him to remove the sheep back on their own side of the dead-line, but he refused and they went away. A mob of men was then organized with the intention of forcing the sheepmen to take their herd back to their own territory, but did not go with the intention of doing any harm. According to the story they were only going to see that their mandate was adhered to and that the sheep were driven back, but the herders told them in no unmistakable terms that they were supposed to remain on their own side. When the committee went to the sheep camp they found dead cattle strewn on every side and a close investigation found nearly 100 head of dead cattle. The herders, two in number, were asked who killed the cattle, and they said they did not know. An argument ensued and the two sheepmen were shot down and 100 sheep slain.

COMING TO OREGON.

C. H. Horsman, Just Returned From East, Says That Every Train Is Bringing Homeseekers to Oregon.

C. H. Horsman returned this morning after spending a year in the Middle States. He reports having had a very pleasant time, but is pleased to get back to Pendleton.

Mr. Horsman says that every train coming from the East is filled with homeseekers. The train which arrived here this morning with him, had several families and young men who were on their way to Portland and Eastern Oregon seeking a place to build homes. He says many of these people were badly discouraged with the country they passed through and were beginning to wish themselves back at the old homestead. When they reached Pendleton, however, they began to feel better. They had several hours here between trains this morning and took a general survey of the town. All were well pleased with the looks of things and while they could not see the country, they said that so prosperous a town could not be found in a place without being surrounded by a rich country.

MRS. LAVADORE ASKS TO BE SENT TO ASYLUM.

Wants a Rest and Fears That She Will Commit Some Violence—Will Be Sent to Salem.

Mrs. Mollie Lavadore was examined this forenoon by Dr. D. J. McFaul and sentenced by County Judge Hartman to be sent to the insane asylum at Salem.

Mrs. Lavadore's case is particularly a sad one. She has a husband and several children living on the Umatilla reserve near Adams and for the past several years has been somewhat demented but at no time dangerous. Recently she became worse, and of her own accord came to town and asked Dr. Smith to send her to some place where she could be treated and get a rest.

At times she would appear rational, and other times would show unmistakable signs of insanity. Her principle hobby is that she sees angels. She said they were all dressed in red, white and blue and she could hear them playing music but she could not get close enough to touch them. She claimed to be left alone at home a great deal of the time while her husband was out working, and said she would burn the house down some day if he did not stay with her. It is said that she suffers from female complaint and that this is the cause of her insanity.
