300 SHEEP KILLED

E. L. DAY GIVES STRAIGHT STORY OF SHEEP SHOOTING

Sheep Herders Held Up by Twelve Men at Breakfast Time—Sheep Were Slaughtered—Later a Gang of Men Came Who Killed and Wounded a Large Number of His Sheep.

E. F. Day, one of the large sheep owners of Morrow county, is in town attending the Woolgrowers' convention. In speaking of the recent shooting in which it was reported that he lost 750 head of sheep, Mr. Day said: "I had 2400 yearling ewes on my summer range, on Greenhorn Mountain, 10 miles above Susanville. On Wednesday, the 27th of August, at about 5:30 o'clock in the morning, just as the herder and camp-tender were about to sit down to breakfast, 12 men came into their camp and told them to throw up their hands, enforcing their threat at the muzzle of their guns. While some of them kept my herder and camp tender covered with their guns, others shot repeatedly into the band of sheep, killing and crippling over 30 of them. They warned my herder to take the sheep out of the country at once. Four of the men remained and covered the herder and tender after the shooting, while the eight others disappeared. They still keeping the herder and camp tender covered with their guns, backed off out of sight. My camp tender rode to Susanville to notify me by telephone and while in town he saw several of the men who helped do the shooting.

"When they visited the camp, the men who committed the outrage, were disguised by having their faces blacked. The camp tender found several men in town whose faces still showed traces of lamp black.

"When I arrived at the sheep camp four days later, I had been in camp but a few minutes and was telling the camp tender where I intended to move the sheep, when the herder came running into camp and said that a large number of men were surrounding the sheep. I hurried to where the herder had left the sheep, but before I got there I heard a perfect fusillade of shots. Then came a lull and I hurried forward, but the shooting commenced again. I shouted toward the men and the shots ceased. I told them the sheep belonged to me and that I would have them taken out of the country at once. No more shots were fired and we took the sheep out, about 300 head having been killed and many were badly wounded and dropped out of the band to die. I sent a man back, giving him the pelts and meat of all the sheep if he would kill the wounded ones we had been compelled to abandon.

"The men doing the shooting were miners, I think. Their motive in shooting my sheep was to keep them out of that district. They want the range for their pack horses. As yet, the officers seem to have made little or no effort to apprehend the guilty parties."

houses, tells of a narrow escape of the destruction of 200,000 bushels of wheat at that station Monday.

During the high wind storm some Japs, who are employed by the O. R. & N. Company as section hands, built a fire to heat water to take a bath. The fire was transmitted to a pile of railroad ties and from there was about to catch the warehouses. It took the most strenuous efforts of all the men employed at the station to keep the fire from the warehouses, and had it once reached them all the men in the county could not have saved them. There were three large warehouses crowded with grain and no less than 200,000 bushels would have been destroyed, causing a loss of $100,000 worth of grain, beside the buildings.

O. R. & N. Cars Demolished.

An accident occurred in the yards of the O. R. & N. yesterday evening in which no one was hurt, but a freight car was badly demolished and one or two others badly jammed up. Three cars had been run into the coal bunkers loaded with coal to be unloaded and one of them had been emptied. In some way the brakes became loose and the cars started down the steep incline. Standing a few rods below where the track comes to the ground were three or four loaded cars. The runaways struck these full tilt and the one which was in front, being the empty one, was completely demolished and the end knocked out of the one which was struck.
