AL COFER, THE OUTLAW.

He Is Still Missing, But Some of His Effects Are in the Hands of the

Al Cofer, the outlaw and follower in the footstaps of Harry Tracy, still missing and his whereabouts is unknown, but some of his effects are in the hands of the sheriff.

Among the articles brought to the office was Cofer's revolver. J. Morrison brought it to the sheriff and it is prized very highly by the official. Cofer worked for Morrison prior to his career as a bad man and all-round highwayman. While there he cashed the revolver and it was found later by Morrison. The revolver is a modern make. It is of 38 calliber and was perfect except that it was minus a cylinder. Why the gun had no cylinder is a mystery, and this mystery will never be solved unless Cofer is arrested and gives the information himself.
