WANTED ADVERTISERS TO MAKE USE of these classified columns. If you have something you have no use for, offer to trade it for something that some other body may have and have no use for, something that you may need in your business. You may have an extra horse that you wish to trade for a cow or a vehicle. Somebody may have a cow or vehicle and want the horse. A fifteen or twenty-five cent want ad will probably do the business.

FAITH FOOLS.

Having Tortured Human Beings Would Not Afflict Stock.

New York, Sept. 22.—Christian scientists in this city read with a great deal of interest yesterday a report which came from the west to the effect that the trotting stallion, Lord Vincent, which is entered in the 2:09 class races at the Empire City track next week, had been restored to health and put into racing form after a serious breakdown through Christian science treatment. Lord Vincent is owned by H. W. Foote, of Texas. He has a record of 2:08 1/2 and two years ago won the rich Transylvania stakes at Lexington. It was after winning this race that his illness occurred.

The story is that all efforts of veterinarians to remedy the horse's troubles were unavailing, and then a woman in Youngstown, Ohio, tried the treatment of mind over matter, and restored him to health. Such a report was naturally received with incredulity by horsemen, but not by the members of the cult of Mrs. Eddy.

Franklin Burke, who is a reader in the Second Church of Christ, and a well known practitioner, was asked yesterday if such a thing could be true. Mr. Blake said he had not yet heard of the cure of Lord Vincent, but that it was a fact that many horses and other domestic animals of all kinds had been cured of all sorts of disorders by Christian science, which was nothing in the world but scientific prayer.

"The cure of animals is a side of Christian science that has not been touched upon very much," said Mr. Blake. "but in these days of criticism of Christian science it might be well to refer a little more to it. Anyone who attends our Wednesday night meetings is apt to hear of cases in which animals have been cured. Christian science is the science of the power of God and that extends over animals as well as men.

"Animals often respond to treatment more readily than human beings for the reason that there is not that antagonism that we often encounter and have to subdue in the human mind before we effect a cure. We treat animals generally by the absent method. Of course animals not being able to speak or reason, it does no real good to be with them.

"An animal is always in the right mental attitude and a man is not. Anything a person does for an animal towards relieving him is appreciated. You throw the right mental atmosphere around them and they respond.

"There is just one difficulty sometimes. Animals are reflected thought as we regard them. They are subject to the ruling of man's mind and the powers that guides them are mortal, not God's. Now in the case of a horse or any suffering animal it is necessary to clear the atmosphere around him before a cure can be effected. If I had such a case I would probably begin the case on the persons with whom the animal was associated, as the animal would be a reflection of their thought and the antagonism which would lie in the way of the animal's cure would come from them not from the animal.

"It is wonderful what influence thought has on an animal. If I see a horse pulling a heavy load I always stop to send out the right thought to help him along. So do most Christian scientists. I used to have horses of my own and I kept them always under the kind, calm and peaceful influence of mind—an atmosphere of calm was over them, thrown there by me, or rather the thought they reflected from me was peaceful thought. They were better horses than those around them—my father's for instance. I could get almost twice the work out of mine on half the amount of food.

"Of course it is only occasionally that we treat animals. There is so much to be done, you see, to advance Christian science among men that all of us are kept busy. In time we will do more animal treatment. It might be well to do more of it now. It might do us all good."

Mr. Blake said that a friend of his living near New York had a valuable horse that went lame, and no veterinary surgeon succeeded in curing him. The owner asked him to treat the horse, and he did, giving him the absent treatment.

"From the very day I started," said Mr. Blake, "the horse began to improve and in two weeks he had no limp at all."

"Are there any practitioners who treat only animal patients?" Mr. Blake was asked.

"No," he said, "and there will be none. There are no specialties in Christian science."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for each case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Most Effective Advertising.
That advertising is the most effective which attracts the eye and appeals to the brain. Strong adjectives may be as much out of taste in an advertisement as in a bit of more aspiring literature. Exaggeration is always to be avoided. People nowadays demand sincerity in all matters of business. It is observable that all the big and successful advertisers are most careful as to their statements of fact. They realize that confidence is the key-stone in the arch of trade. Their success came of their jealous regard for their work.
