STATE FAIR A HUMMER.

So Says Judge Brents, of Walla Walla, Who Was There.

Judge Brents returned yesterday from Salem, Or., where he has been taking in the Oregon state fair and the races the past week. He is greatly pleased over the work of his string of trotters, Helen Norte, Miladi and Belladi.

"It was the greatest fair I ever attended," he said this morning. "The blooded stock show was the finest I ever saw and I heard eastern men who are well versed in the cattle business say they never saw such a fine lot of cattle. Aside from that part of the fair I was of course more interested in the races which were very good this year. I am more than pleased with the work of my string. I now hold the northwest two and three-year-old records.

"The two-year-old event which Helen Norte broke the record was as pretty a race as any one would want to see. The little mare was in fine fettle that day and Rutherford, her trainer, had great hopes of winning the race. Miladi made a grand race when she took the three-year-old event and at the same time broke the three-year-old record. She was pitted against some fast horses from California, but Rutherford knew what she could do and brought her up the home stretch in a wonderful burst of speed in each heat.

"I never wanted to bet on a horse race so badly in my life as I did when I went down to the pool boxes and found Miladi was just about the tall ender with the sports. I think the odds against her were 5 to 1, a California horse being the favorite. I stood around for quite a while and the longer I stood the greater became the temptation to take a few bets, but I pulled away and went up into the grandstand. Several of the boys on the inside as to Miladi's condition made a mint of money.

"Besides breaking a few records the mares came in for more honors. Helen took second premium for a standard-bred two-year-old and came very near winning first. If she had been a bit larger she would have gotten it sure. The judges were a long time deciding between her and a California horse. Belladi won first premium for standard-bred 3-year-olds and Miladi second.

"The horses will be taken to Portland for the races there this week. From there Rutherford will take them to Yakima for the races during the state fair. Taken altogether, I feel pretty proud of my string."—Walla Walla Statesman.

WILLAMETTE PRUNE HARVEST.

It is Now Under Way in the Valley—Yield is Very Good.

The prune harvest is well under way in the Willamette valley, and while many growers will soon be done, there are a great many others who have not yet begun. On account of the great number of people flocking to the hop yards this year and hop picking not yet finished, the prune growers who began early in the week experienced some little difficulty in procuring the necessary help, but this difficulty is being gradually overcome through the return of the people from the hop yards.

Although the fruit was damaged to a considerable extent by the late rains last spring, the yield is proving much better than was at first estimated, still the crop will fall short of last year in quantity, but the quality will be equal if not superior. The Italian variety, as is usually the case, suffered from the inclemencies of the weather, and it was early estimated that there would be no more than a fourth to one-third of an average crop.

Mr. H. A. Kuntz, who is jointly interested in the home farm on Kaiser bottom, of which seventy acres are devoted to prunes, began the harvest and curing of the Petite, or French prunes, on Tuesday of last week. Ordinarily Italian prunes are from a week to ten days later than the Petites, but when the harvest began on the latter this year an inspection revealed the fact that the Italians were also in a condition to be gathered and they are drying both varieties.

Mr. Kurtz brought in a mixed load of one and one-half tons of Italian and French prunes yesterday afternoon which are believed to be the first of this year's crop in the city warehouses. He says that they will realize between 2000 and 3000 bushels this year, or between 40,000 and 50,000 pounds of the cured stock.

Mr. Kurtz says that he experienced quite a surprise in weighing his Italian prunes this year, as he found that they ranged from 30 to 33 to the pound, ungraded, which is indeed quite satisfactory. He thinks they will finish in about ten days.—Salem Statesman.

Says Rev. J. C. Smith Who is Now in Oregon.

Rev. J. C. Smith, in charge of the northwest work for the Christian Adventists, left last evening, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, for Grants, Ore., where he will conduct services for some time to come. Elder Smith, before leaving this city, said: "I will continue holding services throughout Oregon until the weather becomes so cold it is no longer practicable. Then I will go back to California. We have a great work to perform in preparing

BIG, BUSY BOSTON STORE

NEW MINING COMPANY.

Harry Hendryx, a Umatilla County Boy, at the Head.

Harry T. Hendryx, the local mining man, has just organized a company composed largely of Sioux Falls, S. D. men, for the development of the Portland group of claims on Baldy Mountain, in the Bald Mountain and Mammoth district. This property was located in 1899, and has considerable development. The company with which Mr. Hendryx has placed it is a strong one, insuring a large amount of work. This week he is engaged in preparatory work, which will include the installation of a sinking pump and a hoist of good capacity. The work to be taken up will for the present be in a shaft which is to be sunk rapidly as possible, till the manager is able to determine more of the nature of the veins. November 1 Manager Hendryx will start a force of men at work, probably on the contract system.

There are four claims in this group. Being situated on the Mother Lode belt and having good surface values, with a wide vein, there is every encouragement for sinking. With such neighbors as the Bald Mountain, Ihex and Mammoth, there is an excellent example for vigorous development which will be done—Blue Mountain Eagle.
