ANOTHER HOLD-UP

ROBBER WENT THROUGH FRED KEMPER'S POCKETS.

But Got Nothing—Had an Ugly Gun and Wore a Mask—No Clue.

Fred Kemper, bartender in the Golden Rule beer hall, was held up last night on West Webb street. The robber secured nothing for his work, as Mr. Kemper did not have a cent of money or anything valuable on his person.

In telling the story today, Mr. Kemper said: "I was going home from my work last night about midnight and walking leisurely down the sidewalk. When about in front of Charles Frazier's home, on Webb street, I saw a man coming to meet me. I thought nothing of this, but when the fellow got within a few feet of me he produced an ugly-looking revolver and pointing it at me, ordered me to throw up my hands and said to move would be to jeopardize my life. No quicker said than I sent my hands heavenward and the man stood in front of me with the muzzle of the revolver pressed close to my face and ment through my pockets. When he found nothing he appeared angry and cursed me. He then told me to move on toward home and not to look back or dare come back to town."

Mr. Kemper describes the man as being about 5 feet 8 inches in height, weight about 160 pounds and wearing a grey suit of clothes. He had a dark handkerchief around his face, which covered it from view. Mr. Kemper has no idea who the hold-up man was, but he would know him should he see him again.

Athena, Or., Sept. 25.—A pretty wedding ceremony took place in Walla Walla yesterday at the home of W. A. Koontz, brother of the bridegroom, when Mr. Edward E. Koontz and Miss Alma S. Kirk, two of Athena's prominent young people, were joined in the bonds of holy matrimony. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. B. E. The groom is one of Athena's prominent young business men, being the head of the grocery department of the Athena Mercantile Company. He is a brother of W. A. CHARLES CRAIG SICK.

is a Pioneer of the Pilot Rock Country.

Dr. C. J. Smith was called to Pilot Rock last night where Charles Craig was found to be in a very precarious condition from apoplexy. Mr. Craig is 64 years of age and lives all alone on his farm, one mile from the Rock. Yesterday a passerby found him lying in his yard, near the door of his home, in an unconscious condition. When Dr. Smith left him he was yet only partially conscious and little hopes of his recovery are entertained. Mr. Craig is a pioneer of Umatilla county and is said to be wealthy and he has lived entirely alone for many years.

LA GRANDE CARNIVAL.

Yesterday Was Labor Day and the Best Day Yet.

La Grande, Sept. 25.—Yesterday was Labor Day, and the program was in the hands of the labor organizations. The parade was the principal feature and was the most successful one yet attempted.

The parade was several blocks in length and made a most imposing appearance. The various labor unions made a splendid showing. The Masons and Brick Layers' Union were awarded the prize for having made the best appearance in the parade. One of the most striking features of the parade was the beautifully decorated carriages.

The parade marched through the main business portion of the city and then drew up in line upon both sides of the street and remained standing, forming a guard for the queen and her court as she returned to her royal apartments at the Hotel Foley.

The labor organizations certainly made a grand success of their day of the La Grande street fair and carnival.

Child Died.

The 10-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Warner, living north of the river, died at an early hour this morning after an illness of a few days' duration. The shock of the little one's death comes very heavily to the mother, as Mr. Warner is in the mountains where he has been looking after his sheep and does not know anything about the illness or death of his child. Every effort is being made to locate him, but so far he has not been found. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

SHIPPED FROM PENDLETON.

Valuable Consignment of Cattle to be Loaded Here.

C. M. Grims, is in town today from Portland looking after the shipment of cattle purchased recently in the John Day country. Mr. Grims is purchasing for the Union Meat Co., and says the present lot of cattle is the best he has ever secured since he has been buying for the company.

Mr. Grims has just returned from an extended trip into the John Day country, and all through Eastern Oregon and Idaho. In speaking of his cattle and trip Mr. Grims said:

"I will have 300 head of steers to ship from Pendleton in a few days. For these cattle I paid on an average of $43 a head, netting the men from whom I bought, $12,900. These cattle are fine looking fellows and were secured in the Ince country, in Grant county, on the south fork of the John Day. It is in this section that the war between the cattle and sheepmen has been warmest, and the superiority of the cattle in that country over others is due to the fact that the range is reserved for the cattle and not eaten out by sheep as badly as in other places.

Being 165 miles from the railroad it has taken 16 days to deliver the herd at Pendleton. Considering the dryness of the season, stock is all in good condition and cattle bringing a better price than last year. In fact, each year prices are increasing, due to the increase in consumption. Even in this regard is the effect of the increased population of Oregon and Washington having its effect."
