WOULD STIR UP TROUBLE.

The following, taken from the Sumpter Reporter, shows how dangerous it is to place a thoughtless man at the head of a newspaper. While no law-abiding man or man of reason would be influenced by such utterances, yet there is a class that is only waiting for an excuse to violate the law, and seeing such sentiment in print as the following, might lead it to get itself into trouble. The Sumpter paper says:

"A drove of several thousand head of sheep passed through town yesterday morning, headed towards the Greenhorns or the John Day. We would not care to be one of the herders if we mistake not the feeling of the miners and ranchers out that way. The deadly simoom of Northern Africa, as it sweeps across the hot sands of the desert is not more destructive to vegetation and animals which depend on it for subsistence than the maggots of the range." When these pests surround the cabin of the miner or the rancher, he had just as well pack up and move for the balance of the season as no other domestic, nor even wild animal will touch or endure the stench-laden herbage marked by their tracks across it. The milch cow, pony, burro and even the jack rabbit and coyote alike flee from the pestilence. If ever there was a business that needed strict regulation, it is that of allowing sheep to roam on public lands or travel over public roads. The law ought to compel sheepowners to confine them to their own lands, and to haul them in wagons instead of driving them over public roads."

The range question has proved a serious one during the past season, and it has taken the most persuasive words of the law-abiding to prevent more serious trouble than has already arisen, and for a newspaper to speak in a way that indirectly suggests violations of the law is without the province of newspaper work.

While there is considerable prejudice against sheep on the range among many, yet all good citizens admit that sheepowners have equal rights with other stockmen. The sheep industry in this state is an important one and its destruction would be a sad blow to the state. The most liberal stockmen in other classes feel kindly toward the shepherd, and they are trying to arrange the grazing problem equitably and satisfactorily. The miners are little affected by the range question. Sheep do not eat below the surface and there is wherein the miner's hopes lie. The stockmen only look to the surface and would not interfere with the miner.

It is true that some of the miners have milch cows and that the destruction of the range affects them this far, but under the law sheepmen are not allowed to graze their bands within certain distance of the settlements, and this distance places the sheep beyond the serious interference with miners' milch cows.

The woolgrowers at their recent meeting in Pendleton, showed a much more liberal spirit toward the miners than the editor of the Reporter shows toward the sheepmen. They passed a resolution requesting the department at Washington to pass such rules and regulations as would protect their interests and that of all other stockmen and also the miners, in reference to the forest reserve and range question upon an equitable basis. The sheepmen show no prejudice against any class in their discussion of the subject, though they had been greatly wronged in many instances. It is not a one man's country, or a one industry country. It is a great country, full of resources, and all interests should be protected alike, and will be in spite of the thoughtless utterances or ideas of newspapers or narrow citizens.

It is claimed that President Roosevelt does not receive so formally when away from the White House as he does when at that place. This is proper. He is no better than other men when you strip him of the title of president. At the White House he must hold up the dignity of that place and go through the red tape naturally required at the home of the chief executive of the greatest of nations, but when he is at Oyster Bay it is more the home of Mr. Roosevelt than the home of President Roosevelt, and there he should receive as an American citizen as nearly as possible.

The latest move on the part of the mine operators was to bribe the leaders of the strikers to get the men back to work. Bribery is weakening as a factor to move the laborers of all classes. With organization laborers are educating themselves in more ways than one. They are learning their power and no longer will a few paltry dollars move them to turn against themselves. The money power will continue to be a strong one, but it will have to operate along different lines than through bribery.

The days of personal journalism have passed. The public does not care to read a newspaper's troubles. It has troubles of its own. The paper that persists in personal journalism finds that it is using a boomerang and that it always comes back.

Umatilla's tax rolls show up well. Only about one-eighth are delinquent. With this record kept up there is no reason why Umatilla should not get out of debt in a very few years.

With Speaker Henderson and Governor Cummins at outs the outlook for general harmony is not very bright in Iowa republican circles.

A HANDFUL OF PARAGRAPHS.

The sun of human woes is fast diminishing. Fourth of July orations and funeral sermons have been cut down in length fully one-half, in five years.

The mule business in Missouri will probably decline now. Peace in South Africa will allow the British to land more choice edibles.

Spain is preparing to build another navy. In the interests of a good fight, we hope it will be built on modern plans.

Tastes are undergoing a change. The pumpkin and the spud take back seats for the Hootchie Cootchie and the snake eater at "agricultural" fairs nowadays.

It is to be hoped that St. Louis has plenty of jail room for all the "hoodler" councilmen she captures. Some of the most prominent of the rascals are trying to wash their hands clean of the affair, but it is thought the Mississippi will be inadequate as a water supply.

As a providential turn of things the La Grande Beet Sugar factory will start on the day after her street fair closes, so she will have a chance to sweeten up her mouth, after the bad taste remaining from her midway.

A business man recently remarked that it was not necessary to go to the midway to see the "dodging ape." Just take a trip around town collecting.

If Mont Pelee does not keep quiet, it may be necessary to call in President Roosevelt. He has cured the "spouting" mania in several old landmarks lately.

It will take some time for Americans to change the belief of the Filipino woman. Her motto is: "Friar here, or fry 'er in Hades."

Why don't somebody invent something new for the thief? Horsestealing is an awfully old-fashioned trick.

Maud Muller, on a day most sweet, Slashed the top from a sugar beet; Her knees were calloused from constant wear And hayseed filled her nut-brown hair;

The Judge drew rein by the barbed wire fence And blessed the errand that called him hence; He banished the rasping cares of earth And wondered how much her father was worth.

BERT HUFFMAN.

KEEP PACE WITH PROGRESS.

One of the most important measures to come before the next legislature of Oregon, is the bill to found an agricultural college on the beautiful tract of land at Union. The entire population of Eastern Oregon is vitally interested in this matter and it should be forcibly presented to the legislature, and pushed to a finish. The phenomenal increase in population east of the mountains, the excellence of the site for such an institution, and the fact that most of the educational institutions of the state are west of the Cascades, offer substantial reasons for this move. Some systematic effort should be made to present this subject at the proper time, and urge upon the law-makers its imperative importance.

Every foothill in Eastern Oregon is settled upon. Every farm is supporting its quota of school children. Its large tracts are being divided up. In some cases 10 families now own and cultivate land owned by one man five years ago. This vast increase in population necessitates more school facilities. It calls upon the state for an equal distribution of the facilities for more thorough and practical education. In all frankness and fairness we ask the co-operation of citizens from all parts of Oregon. It is for the benefit of Oregon pupils. It is needed as a matter of convenience to Eastern Oregon. Its population justifies the location of public institutions nearer to its business centers.

This is an age of system. Farmers as well as business men feel its need and seek its aid. It must enter into all education as its basis and groundwork. An education in farming, mining and stock-raising is absolutely necessary in this age of competition. We must get good results. Grow abundant and profitable crops and market them with system and success. Let us keep pace with progress. It is the watch word of the century.

12 Minutes for Lunch.

That is the average time spent in a large city restaurant by three thousand lunchers. It takes three hours to digest a fresh egg soft boiled; three hours to digest apple dumplings; three hours to digest fresh roast beef. In fact, three hours is about the time required to digest the average twelve minute lunch. The object of the hasty lunch is to let the busy man get back to his office work. But when the brain is active, the stomach is inactive for lack of necessary blood. The natural consequence is indigestion, and indigestion opens the door to many diseases.

Indigestion is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

"It is with heartfelt gratitude that I send this testimonial which I wish you to publish with my name and address," writes Mr. Willis Seaman of Washingtonville, Orange Co., N. Y. "I had stomach trouble from childhood and suffered with it more or less as I grew up. At the age of 26 I was broken down with dyspepsia. My suffering was terrible. Could not eat without distress. Could only eat a few certain things and was not able to work half the time. Every thing I tried only gave me temporary relief. My wife finally persuaded me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I took six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I then felt so well that I stopped taking medicine. Several months have passed and I can do the hardest kind of work, can eat anything that is set before me and enjoy it. I am 27 years old and this is the first time I have ever been well."

Free. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser in paper covers is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only; or 31 stamps for cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A JUDGE'S WIFE CURED OF PELVIC CATARRH

She Suffered for Years and Felt Her Case Was Hopeless—Cured by Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. Judge McAllister writes from 1217 West 33rd st., Minneapolis, Minn., as follows:

"I suffered for years with a pain in the small of my back and right side. It interfered often with my domestic and social duties and I never supposed that I would be cured, as the doctor's medicine did not seem to help me any. Fortunately a member of our Order advised me to try Peruna and gave it such high praise that I decided to try it. Although I started in with little faith, I felt so much better in a week that I felt encouraged.

"I took it faithfully for seven weeks and am happy indeed to be able to say that I am entirely cured. Words fail to express my gratitude. Perfect health once more is the best thing I could wish for, and thanks to Peruna I enjoy that now."—MINNIE E. McALLISTER.

What used to be called female diseases by the medical profession is now called pelvic catarrh. It has been found by experience that catarrhal diseases of the pelvic organs are the cause of most cases of female disease.

Dr. Hartman was among the first of America's great physicians to make this discovery. For forty years he has been treating diseases peculiar to women, and long ago he reached the conclusion that a woman entirely free from catarrhal affection of these organs would not be subject to female disease. He therefore began using Peruna for these cases and found it so admirably adapted to their permanent cure that Peruna has now become the most famous remedy for female disease ever known. Everywhere the women are using it and praising it. Peruna is not a palliative simply; it cures by removing the cause of female disease.

Dr. Hartman has probably cured more women of female ailments than any other living physician. He makes these cures simply by using and recommending Peruna.

Miss Phoebe Cary Sheffield, writes from Seguin, Texas, as follows:

"I have followed your directions and treatment, and will always thank you for your kindness. Your medicine is the only medicine that gave me relief from heavy pains in my chest, on account of which I could hardly rest at night. Several of my friends thought I would go into consumption. I now think I am well, but will always have a bottle of Peruna in the house. I think Peruna is the best medicine in the world, for I went to my home doctors and they never did me any good, but when I took your medicine it did me all the good in the world. I have recommended your wonderful treatment to my friends. Since I have taken Peruna I look like a new woman."—Miss P. C. Sheffield.

Mrs. William Kenning, Mt. Clemens, Mich., writes:

"I am happy to be able to write you that I am now again well. I was not well for a year, and did not know what ailed me. Last fall I got a bottle of Peruna. It did me good. I wrote to Dr. Hartman for a book 'I'lls of Life,' and he luckily sent me a book about my disease.

"My disease was catarrh of the head, eyes, stomach and liver, and he said if I would follow his advice I would soon be well. I followed the directions closely, and am now entirely well."—Mrs. William Kenning.

Congressman Thad. M. Mahon, of Chambersburg, Pa., writes:

"I take pleasure in commending your Peruna as a substantial tonic and a good catarrh remedy."—T. M. Mahon. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.
