Pendleton will have a new city recorder on and after next Wednesday night. The newly-elected recorder, Thomas Fitz Gerald, will then be installed in the place now held by Recorder McCourt, who resigned.

One of the most important events at this theater during the present season will be the joint appearance in the near future of Louis James and Frederick Warde, in Wagenhals and Kemper's sumptuous spectacular production of "The Tempest." Few if any of this season's enterprises have provoked such lavish praise. The scene of the storm and shipwreck with which the play opens presents one of those marvelous transformations which are rarely seen except on the stage of the old Drury Lane theater in London. There are 47 people in the company which includes a ballet and chorus among whom are such artists as Norman Hackett, Teresa Maxwell, Thomas Cooke, Edith Fassett, and Wadsworth Harris. The scenery was painted by H. Logan Reid who was for many years the scenic artist for Augustin Daly.

Theatrical.

Among the more important events on the local stage this season will be the joint appearance of Louis James and Frederick Warde in the early part of October, when they will be seen in Wagenhals and Kemper's sumptuous spectacular production of "The Tempest." Although the play is a classic and acknowledged to be Shakespeare's greatest masterpiece, it does not need a studious mind to appreciate it. It is an exquisite comedy, a type of play in which the fancy of youth and age, of boy and girl, child and parent may run riot. There is no villain to annoy the sensitive, no tragedy to upset those who are nervous, but all is sunshine and frolic. It presents a constant succession of beautiful and wonderful scenes, with the charm of music and dancing, in addition to the portrayals of interesting characters by the greatest legitimate players of the present time.

Wagenhals and Kemper have just purchased another new play for Blanche Walsh entitled "What Will People Say," the daring nature of which is said to have suggested its odd title.

Picnic Ends at Kine's.

Last night ended the season's gaieties at Kine's grove. For the past several months Peter Smith has been running a dancing platform and general Sunday afternoon and evening picnic in the grove and last night was the last of the season. The evenings are getting too cool to continue the dances longer and Mr. Smith has announced that they would be discontinued until next year, when the platform will again be put into use for the entertainment of those wishing to spend a few hours once a week tripping the light fantastic. Mr. Smith wishes to thank the general public for their patronage and appreciation of his efforts in entertaining, and promises to give a better time, if possible, next season.

Hughes Gone to Salem.

Sheriff T. D. Taylor left this afternoon for Salem with Billie Hughes, who will be cared for in the asylum. Hughes was examined Saturday and found to be suffering from the results of a kick from a horse which he received several months ago, and which left an indelible mark on the skull, from which he never completely recovered. He was not apparently in a very serious condition until recently, when he became a heavy drinker and this brought on temporary insanity. Hughes was born in Wales and is 24 years of age. His parents are living in Utah.

Funeral of Levi Hays.

The funeral of Levi Hays, who died at the Sisters' hospital Friday, was held at the Congregational church Sunday afternoon. The services were conducted under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World and was attended by a large number of friends of the deceased.

A Remedy Always Handy.

Keep the carbolic acid and other poisons out of the children's reach. But if enterprising little fingers are too much for your caution, remember that vinegar, vinegar, vinegar is the thing to give internally and to apply externally. Then follow with lard—warm lard or olive oil, if you have it. Do just the same if a child swallows lye and do it quick. It will save life every time if the remedy is reasonably speedy in the giving.

Notice.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to me must settle by October 10th, or their accounts and notes will be placed in the hands of an attorney with instruction to collect.

Census of Domestic Animals.

The census bureau in a report on domestic animals, fowls and bees in the United States on June 1, 1900, announces that all the domestic animals in the United States have a probable value of at least $3,200,000,000. Of this amount the value of the animals on farms and ranges constitute over 93 per cent and those not on farms 7 per cent. The total value of all domestic animals on farms and ranges was $2,981,054,115 against $2,208,767,513 in 1890. There was a gain in all parts of the country except in the north Atlantic states.

Gluten For Horses.

Gluten products for horses may be fed with good results, in connection with oats, corn or other grain. Begin by giving to each horse each day about half a pint or half a pound of gluten feed or gluten meal. After a few days increase slightly, but at no time should these concentrated feeds constitute more than from one-fourth to one-half the horse's grain ration.
