He helped to make history as did tions those other pioneers who gathered at the recent reunion.

Mr. Goodhue was a sailor in his youth and left his old home in Mas-sachusetts just 50 years ago the 26th of September, coming west by way of Cape Horn. A peculiar coinci-dence, says Mr. Goodhue, is the fact that half a century after he left the homestead his granddaughter went to the old home to reside. The old expressman tells an amusing story of his initial trip as an express

"I was employed," he said, "to carry express and mail from Portland to Corvallis and along the Rogue river valley. I was a sailor and knew comparatively nothing about a They asked if I could ride and I said I believed so as I had set a main royal yard in a gale. So they gave me an old mule and a big pair of Mexican spurs. I called them stern wheelers."

Everything was peaceful until the Goodhue's destination lay to the left but the mule wanted to go to the right. The spurs were used and the

"The beast ran into the timber and came down stiff legged," continued Mr. Goodhue, "and from the way the mule behaved I thought I had injured it. I ventured to lean forward to look at my animal and in an instant I was sprawling on the ground. The mule galloped away.

"I saw a tail lank Missourian coming up the road and yelled to him to sure that it is a man who is well stop my steed. He did so and when of the road and its branches will be sure that it is a man who is well I reached him remarked, 'He doesn't eight miles and it will enable visitors seem to be hurt much,' the fellow relieved himself of a good old Missou- tle fatigue as possible. Rev. Dr. Olmsted Consecrated.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 2.—The consecration of Rev. Dr. Charles Tyler Olm-sted, former rector of St. Agnes' Chapel, Trinity Parish, New York, as bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Central New York, took place in Grace church here today with imposing ecclesiastical ceremonial. The edifice was crowded to the doors. Bis-hops Huntington, of Central New York, Potter, of New York, and Walker, of Western New York, acted as consecrators. Bishop Potter also preaching the sermon. The attending Presbyters were the Rev. Samuel Hart, D. D., of the Berkeley Divinity School, and the Rev. Philip A. H. Brown, vicar of St. John's Chapel, Trinity Parish, New York. The servences were marked by a soleron digniices were marked by a solemn dignity that was very impressive. It included the examination of the candidate, the promise of conformity to the church canons, the assumption of the Episcopal vestments, the laying on the consecrator's hands, and the final announcement of the complete consecration. Later in the day a breakfast was given by the clergy of the diocese to Bishop Olmsted and the visiting bishops and clergy, at which nearly 200 guests were present.

Continental Hotel Sale.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 2.-Following in the line of recent change and improvement that has been so marked in Philadelphia during the last year, the Continental hotel, long one of the Quaker City's most famous hostelries, is likely soon to pass into history. A meeting of the stockholders was held today at which proposals to sell the the lepers, and aroused their arger property were discussed. It is assert- the fact that this is an off year politcommission, of which Wilcox was a Cooper & Co., of New York and Chian attempt was made to give him a a New York insurance company intends to erect an office building on the corner. However true these rumors may be, it appears certain that the hotel itself will soon pass out of existence.

Canadian Cotton Losses.

Ottowa, Ont., Oct. 2.—The cotton situation in Canada is said to be critical and the companies engaged in that trade are clamoring for increased protection. The competition of American slaughter sales of prints and the preference of 33 1-3 per cent given to English goods are held accountable for the losses sustained by the Cana-dian companies. The Hon. J. Israel Tarto, the minister of public works, has spent considerable time visiting the cotton factories and declares himself in favor of protection for the Canadian industry.

Ohio Librarians Meet.

Columbus, O., Oct. 1.-The mission, needs and management of public libraries will be discussed from every viewpoint at the annual meeting of the Ohio Library Association, which begun its session in Columbus today. The three days' program provides for special conferences concerning large and small libraries, and men and women who have devoted years to practical study of the question will give the assembled librarians expert knowledge on the different phases of library work. The attendance at the convention is large and the meeting league show a preference for Theorems to be unusually successful.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN LEAGUE Interesting Session Begins in Chicago Today.

Chicago, Oct. 2.-The spacious Col-League of Republican Clubs. Despite usual round of routine business. i nthe league's history, and is likewise remarkable for the large number of prominent republicans present. Among these are Governor Yates, of Illinois, Cornelius Vanderbilt, James S. Clarkson, formerly of Iowa, and now credited with having a promi-nent part in the management of President Roosevelt's campaign for the re-nomination; Senator Beveridge, of Indiana; Senator Dolliver of Iowa; former Governor Frank S. Black, of New York, and J. Hampden Moore, treasurer of Philadelphia Ohio, Texas, Iowa, Minnesota, Colorado, Nebraska and other states are also conspicuously represented. It was a few minutes after 10 o'clock when the rational president. Isaac Miller Hamilton, of Illinois, called the gathering to order. Nearly 2000 spectators ocup of the rear and the gallery. After brief welcomes and responses, Treasur r John R. Wig-gins, of Pennsylvania, read the call for the gathering and various para-graphs of which were loudly acceleragraphs of which were loudly applauded. President Hamilton then proceeded to read his annual address. which was permeated with republican flavor and cordially received.

The work of the convention is to include the election of officers, the reading of renorts from committees and retiring officers, a general discus-sion of political matters and addresses by prominent party leaders. The constitution of the organization forbids the indorsement of any candi date previous to his nomination by dore Roosevelt in a manner not to be misunderstood.
