SHEEP SHIPMENTS

JOHN TOWN COMPLETES SHIPMENT OF 11,500 HEAD.

Will Be Fed in Montana for Eastern Markets—Prices Going Up—Increase Over Other Years.

John Town, who is in Pendleton today on his return from a sheep buying tour through the hills, will ship 15 cars out, via the W. & C. R. line, the last of this week, providing he can get cars. This completes Mr. Town's shipments for this season. He makes regular semi-annual trips into Umatilla county for sheep and ships several thousand head out of here every season. The shipment the last of the week will be the last batch of 11,500 head which he has purchased of the Umatilla county dealers within the past two weeks.

These sheep are going to Montana to be fed and held for the Chicago and St. Paul markets this winter. Mr. Town's home is at Great Falls.

Market Advancing

These sales and shipments are causing the market for sheep to advance a little, but a great many sheep dealers are yet unwilling to let go their surplus at the prevailing price. The price being paid generally is $2.70 for two and three-year-old weathers, while $2.25 to $2.50 is being offered for ewes. Lambs are demanding $1.50 and $1.75. One reason for the low prices being offered for sheep is the overstocked condition of the ranges. Last fall very few buyers were shipping sheep to feeding points in Montana, Dakota, and other wintering places. The light shipping was due to the shortage in feed stuffs in those places. This made the price so high that sheep could not be fed at a profit. At the present rate that sheep are going out, there will be no competition on this score this season. Everything will be cleaned out before snow fits. Feed is very plentiful in the great feeding centers and will warrant the handling of many sheep this winter.

Loosening Up Expectations

There was a good corn crop in the middle west and this, with the increasing shortage in the range conditions, will tend toward causing a general loosening up of sheep before next spring. According to prominent sheepmen it is estimated that not less than 350,000 sheep will be sold and shipped out of Eastern Oregon before the end of this year.

Eastern Movement Heavily

The eastern movement of sheep off the Oregon range is likely to be much heavier this fall than in either 1900 or 1901. During the whole of 1901 only a quarter of a million sheep were shipped out of the state, while nearly 200,000 have been already exported this year, and the heavy shipments of October, with those of November and December, are still to come.

According to the estimate of C. J. Millis, livestock agent of the O. R. & N., there are about 4,500,000 sheep on the Oregon range now, nearly all in Eastern Oregon. Some sheepmen say this estimate is too high, and place the figure at about a million less. A quarter of a million turned off leaves 3,750,000. Of the 1902 lamb drop between 750,000 and 1,000,000 were saved. If 200,000 head have been sold since last year, approximately 4,500,000 head remain. This means heavy shipments before range time next season, according to both railroad men and stockraisers.

Beef Trust Helping Mutton.
Speaking of the market yesterday, Mr. Town said:

"The high price of beef is resulting in an enormous consumption of mutton in the East. The long continued and severe droughts of Australia have resulted in a heavy shortage of sheep there.

"I ran sheep a few years in Australia," continued Mr. Town, "and while it is a great country, yet the distance to European markets is a great handicap, while the possibility of droughts makes capital wary of investment and makes it hard for the stockman when he has failed to start up again. In fact, the Northwest, here in the United States is not only the best sheep country, but it is the easiest place for a young man to make a start.

Oregon the Boss.
"The Australian sheep, which are heavily creased, are not sufficiently hardy for this country. Oregon wool, especially Eastern Oregon wool, is of a very fine texture and quality, which is the reason why I come here every year to buy sheep. The price of wool I think will be as good or better than it is now for the next four years, unless they tinker with the tariff."

LARGE STOCK SHIPMENTS.

Stock in W. & C. R. Yards Awaiting Delayed Train for Shipment

If the W. & C. R. train gets here this evening in time to return to Pasco tonight, 15 cars of cattle will be shipped out on the road, billed to the Pacific Meat Co., at Tacoma. They were bought in the John Day country by J. C. Lonergan and are of the pick from the best herds of cattle to be found in the interior. One car of hogs will also go with the next train out from the W. & C.

R. yards. These porkers were purchased for Carston Bros., of Seattle and are going there for local trade.

Tomorrow night 11 cars of cattle will be shipped from the same yards by Mr. Ball. These also go to Seattle and are for local and Nome markets. This concludes the shipping of marketable stock out of here over the W. & C. R. line for a few days. Within the past week more than 100 head of cattle and several hundred head of hogs and sheep have gone out over this line. No more cars are ordered ahead and if there are other shipments they will be made later.

W. & C. R. IMPROVEMENT.

New Steel Turntable and Track Being Placed in the Yards.

Considerable improvement is being made in the W. & C. R. railroad company's yards in this city. A new steel turntable is now being installed in the place of the old table which has answered the purposes of the road ever since it was built. New track is being laid on which to stand cars. This will give the company room for about 25 more cars than could be handled in the local yards before the change.

The extra room is made necessary by the heavy shipments of livestock which are being made over the road.

The King Crowned.

The recent illness of the King of England necessitated a postponement of the coronation proceedings and prevented the carryout of the original plans. Many superstitious persons then claimed that the king would never be crowned, but he recovered sufficiently to go through the ceremony, and superstition was again overthrown. The king of household remedies, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, was crowned over fifty years ago, and today it still occupies the foremost position among medicines because of the wonderful record of cures it has made. For building up the run-down system, steadying the nerves or to cure indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, insomnia, kidney troubles, or malaria, fever and ague, it is without an equal. Try a bottle and see for yourself. It won't disappoint you.

Long Trip for Bowlers.

Dayton, O., Oct. 2.—The All-American bowling trio, which is to make a trip to the Pacific coast, has completed all arrangements for the tour. The opening games will be rolled here tonight and tomorrow, after which the trio will go to Chicago for a series of games with the Windy city bowlers. From Chicago the trip will be started west and will not terminate until Los Angeles is reached. En route, Denver, Salt Lake and other leading cities will be visited. The trio will be on the road 103 days, during which time 66 leading cities will be visited in 25 different states and one territory.

"Why," remarked Stupid, putting down his paper, "why will people take such terrible things as carbolic acid and rough on rodents when they commit suicide?" "I'm sure," replied Simplemuss, "I'm sure I don't know, unless it is that they want to kill themselves." — Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

EXHIBITS GO EAST

TO ACT AS IMPETUS TO IMMIGRATION MOVEMENT.

Some of the Products of the Walla Walla Valley, Displayed at the Fruit Fair, Will be Gazed Upon by People Inclined Westward.

A part of the advertising plan of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company in connection with the home-seeker and immigration movement is to gather a display of the products of each point along the line and send it east in order that the people there may clearly understand just what the soil in the west may be relied upon to do when properly cultivated. A portion of the exhibit at the Walla Walla valley fruit fair will be devoted to this purpose and Secretary C. F. Vandewater, who is also ticket agent for the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, will make the selections. These will be turned over to General Agent Robert Burns and by him forwarded to Portland.

From the general headquarters of the road at Portland the Walla Walla exhibit, with those of other sections and districts, will be sent on to Chicago and here placed on display at the office of the Harriman lines. All interested in the west will then have opportunity of viewing its products. Later these exhibits may be divided and sent to the immigration agents or displayed in other cities throughout the middle west. It is the policy of the railroad to thoroughly advertise the west, and the belief of those at its head that there can be no disputing a display of the actual fruit and vegetables grown in a locality.
