OUR HELIX LETTER.

Items About People at the Lively Town on the "High Line."

Helix, Oct. 8.—Dr. Griswold reports his typhoid fever patients in Vansycle doing as well as could be expected. The doctor thinks prevalence of so much typhoid was due to bad water used during harvest.

Chris Christenson, who lives north of Helix, has purchased the beautiful little home place of Harlow Richmond, and will move his family to town.

Alex Finley, formerly a resident of Helix but now of Pullman, Wash., came up from Pendleton last evening.

D. B. Richardson made a flying trip to Athena and Pendleton Monday.

Miss Pearle Smith went to Pendleton Monday.

Ed Whiteman and Dr. Ringo were Pendleton visitors Monday.

Miss Sarah Montgomery has returned from Connell, where she has been improving her homestead.

Daw Howard has gone to Portland for a few days.

Mr. C. Alspach has just returned from Portland and Astoria and other points of interest in that vicinity.

Mrs. Andersen, once a resident of Juniper, but later of Pendleton, passed through Helix on her way to Seattle to attend her mother who is very ill.

Miss Alcy Foss, who has been employed in the Hill district to teach school, began her duties last Monday morning.

Frank Young went to Pendleton Tuesday on business.

One of the most charming social events of the year was the party given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Betts, at their beautiful home, to the young people of Helix and vicinity.

Progressive crokinole was the game of the evening. A beautiful set of nut crackers was given as a prize to the one making the highest number of points during the evening.

When all points were counted it was found Miss Della Bott was in the lead with several points to spare, so captured the prize. Other games were participated in. All those present enjoyed the evening so well that it was decided to organize a club to be known as the "Jolly Club," which will meet several times during the winter months. Miss Emma Green was chosen as president; R. E. Ringo, secretary, and Ira Julien, treasurer.

A social committee was also appointed by the president, who will select the games and look after the program for the meetings which are to follow.

The organization being completed a delicious lunch was spread, which was enjoyed by all. Among those present were: Rev. and Mrs. Hugel, Miss Emma Green, Nellie Herndon, Winnie Hanscom, Pearle Smith, Anna Brannon, Stella Whiteman, Cora Whiteman, Della Bott, the Misses Stanton, Julia Pierce, Lucy and Sarah Montgomery, Myrtle Knight, Celia Burns, Grace Cockerline, Zelene Hugel, Ethel King, Guy Smith, Vernon Curly, Eleanor Bond, Allie, Clarence and William Knight, Henry Hill, Norvall Bott, Perry Curtis, Ira Julien, Lyman Griswold, Will Curtis, Dr. Ringo.

TIMOTHY FROM BASKET MT.

Much Hay Being Hauled by Teams From Weston Country.

All timothy hay now being used at Fort Walla Walla is hauled by team from Basket mountain, Oregon. A large quantity has already been brought here in that way and more is to follow. Col. M. McCarthy, who has the contract for furnishing the local post with hay, says the quality of hay is excellent and it is being supplied to suit. It is cheaper to haul the short distance from here to the Weston country than to ship on the cars, especially as those selling the hay have teams and shipment on the railroad would require loading and unloading.

The hay contract already in force will not give enough feed for 300 cavalry horses if the latter are brought and supplied the colored cavalrymen soon to be stationed here. In that event another contract will have to be let, as the amount of hay now being supplied is sufficient only for artillery mounts at present in service.—Walla Walla Union.

James and Warde in "The Tempest."

From all indications, a crowded house will greet the joint appearance next Thursday night of Louis James and Frederick Warde in "The Tempest." So few play-goers of the present generation have seen this most exquisite comedy that it will have all the elements of novelty attaching to an entirely new play, and will be the means of providing new roles for these famous players. The scenic equipment which is the most elaborate that has perhaps ever been given a Shakespearean production on tour, represents an investment on the part of Managers Wagenhals and Kemper of nearly $25,000. There are 47 people in the organization, which includes a chorus and ballet, and among whom are such well-known artists as Norman Hackett, Teresa Maxwell, Edith Fassett, Wadsworth Harris and Thomas Cooke. The scenery is the work of Mr. H. Logan Reid, formerly scenic artist for Augustin

Daly, and the incidental music, a most attractive feature of the performance, is the work of Maxime de Grosse. No one will be ushered to seats during the first scene in the first act, as the plot of the play lies therein.

"Down Mobile."

A brand new melodrama will be given at the Frazer Tuesday, October 14th. It is fresh from the pen of Lincoln J. Carter. The scene is laid upon a Southern plantation and in an adjacent camp, and the situations are said to be sufficiently thrilling and sensational to please the most blasé theater-goer. The plot of "Down Mobile" for this is the suggestive title of Mr. Carter's romance of Southern life, hinges upon the real identity and ancestry of the heroine, Josephine Egerly, the orphan daughter of a wealthy planter whom the villain, white in color but with negro blood in his veins, tries to prove only the daughter of an old negress. His object is the separation of Miss Egerly and her lover, with a view to ultimate union with himself. Associated with the villain in his conspiracies are detectives and a negro witch, who aid him in his desired purpose. A bright vein of comedy is promised in the second act of "Down Mobile," the scene of which is laid in the negro quarters of Colonel Harper's ranch.

His Life in Peril.

"I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Bee, of Welfare, Texas, "billousness and a lame back had made life a burden. I couldn't eat or sleep and felt almost too worn out to work when I began to use Electric Bitters, but they worked wonders. Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work." They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, run-down people. Try them. Only 50c at Tallman & Co.'s drug store.
