So severely in London has the criminal population pressed upon prison accommodation, that during the year between three and four thousand prisoners of both sexes have had to be transferred to provincial goals, the commitments in the metropolis having increased from 38,373 in 1891 to 53,591 in 1901.

Today Completes His Ten-Year Service on the Supreme Bench.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—Justice Shiras today completes ten year's service on the supreme bench and therefore becomes eligible for retirement on his full salary of $10,000 a year. Although no formal announcement of the intention of Justice Shiras to retire has been made, it is expected by the members of the bench and bar that he will do so.

He was appointed to succeed Justice Bradley in 1892, and during the ten years of his service has won a high reputation for learning and judicial acumen. He is a graduate of Yale in the celebrated class of '53, and was admitted to the bar in 1856, and practiced in Pittsburg until he was elevated to the bench. He has been in feeble health for some time, and although he is very much interested in his duties his doctors have informed him that his retirement is imperative if he would prolong his life.

President Roosevelt has been considering former Attorney General Griggs of New Jersey for the position, while Senators Quay and Penrose have recommended J. J. Brown, of Pennsylvania. Attorney General Knox also has been mentioned, but it is believed that he would prefer to remain at the head of the department of justice.

Will Not Be Hanged.

Portland, Oct. 10.—Andrew White was saved from any possibility of being hanged for the murder of Peter Beauchene yesterday, when Judge Frazer held that there was not sufficient evidence to show premeditation or robbery, and that those questions could not go before the jury. It was a strong point for the defense. In view of the evidence that has gone before the jury, and the fact that it was considered as such, could easily be seen by the expressions on the faces of the attorneys for the defendant and White's relatives, who have been in constant attendance upon the trial.

Oppose Sympathetic Strike.

Regarding the Denver offer of Western miners to go on sympathetic strike, he said this morning he had corresponded with them on the subject, but as most union miners in the West and Northwest quartz and coal men are in the minority, and he had not reached a conclusion. Reported by I. L. Ray & Co., Pendleton, Chicago Board of Trade and New York Stock Exchange Brokers.

New York, Oct. 10.—The wheat market quickly recovered from yesterday's decline and the close was near the best figures of the day. As the season advances a good many people in the trade are becoming convinced that the statisticians have overestimated our this year's wheat crop and that prices are too low. Affairs of Southern League

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 10.—Pursuant to the call of President Kavanaugh, the managers of the various baseball clubs comprising the Southern League are gathered in Little Rock for their regular fall meeting. Though the only scheduled business is of a routine nature resulting from the winding up of the season it is not improbable that some important matters affecting the future of the organization will be discussed. The make-up of next year's circuit will probably be considered informally, though no action in this matter will be taken. Talks with the majority of the managers indicated an inclination to continue the league as at present constituted. There is a report in circulation, however, that when the proper time arrives, a proposition will be made to increase the circuit to ten clubs by the addition of Montgomery and Mobile, both of which cities have manifested a desire to enter the organization.

SENSATIONAL DEFENSE.

Judge McGinn Puts Forth Novel Plea for Portland Gamblers.

Judge Henry McGinn, with an eloquence worthy of a better cause, yesterday made the most peculiar and sensational defense in a gambling case ever heard in the municipal court at Portland. He said: "My clients have been hounded like wolves and lions. They have been dragged here like criminals to appease the thirst of virtue of the church people, who have on a spam of reform."

"It was a sorry day when the men became gamblers. They, however, support themselves and families by this avocation. They have made it their business and could not do anything else. When the wave of goodness was not rolling over the community these men were allowed to follow their occupations without molestation. If it was right then to gamble, it is right now. The men are only doing what they have always done. Because a streak of short-lived virtue is abroad these men are dragged here like criminals. These men have gambled and will gamble again and will not be molested. That they should be punished now is not fair. Remember these men are poor, and since the crusade have been out of employment at their business. They have no money, and to convict them would work a great hardship. To find them guilty, you must not only suspect that the men were gambling but have evidence that they were."—Portland Journal.

PORTLAND TIE-UP

Probable That All Boats Between That Place and San Francisco Are Idle.

SHIPMENTS NOW GO THROUGH BY RAIL.

The Same Rates Are Allowed by Rail as Were in Effect by Water—Perishable Goods in Statu Quo.

All boats are possibly tied up between Portland and San Francisco. It has been feared for some time that the trouble between the employes and the owners of the boats would result in this.

The local agent of the O. R. & N. Company today received the following instructions:

"Effective today and until further notice, shipments from San Francisco to all rail and Snake River stations on the lines of the O. R. & N. Company, as well as movement in the other directions, will be handled by rail between San Francisco and Portland, the same through rates applied as if carried by steamer from Portland to San Francisco, except the current all-rail rates will continue to be applied on green fruit, vegetables and other perishable freight, including tin cans. All shipments destined to San Francisco should be waybilled through to that point via the Southern Pacific from Portland."

Later.

Portland, Oct. 10.—Engineers on the steamer George W. Elder, handed in their resignation to the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company yesterday without assigning any reason for their action. The steamer was scheduled to sail for San Francisco at 8 o'clock last night, but the sailing date was postponed 24 hours.

The company declined to accept the resignations of the men and notified United States Inspectors Edwards and Fuller that the engineers had violated the law in quitting without giving good and sufficient reasons. The inspectors notified the engineers to appear at their office today and show good and sufficient reason for their action.

If in the minds of the inspectors the engineers fail to show good reason for resigning it is in their power to revoke the licenses of the men. The engineers on the Elder are not members of the local lodge of engineers, the members of whom have been on a strike for several weeks.

It is believed the strike was ordered by President Uhler, of the national body, in sympathy with the local engineers on the steamer Columbia and all Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company tugs have been ordered out though definite information is not obtainable.
