Edgar Smith Carries Off the Honors and Receives Frazier's Cash Prize.
 The advertisement writing contest conducted by L. G. Frazier, the enterprising proprietor of the stationery and book store, closed yesterday and the prize of $2 was awarded to Edgar Smith. The prize winning advertisement is presented in this issue. There was a large number of "ads" prepared by school children submitted to Mr. Frazier and a strange feature is that all but one of them were written in rhyme, showing the trend of the minds of the young folks. The capitalization and punctuation in most of the copy entered were correct which reflects great credit on the instructors in our schools.

"All the King's Cattle."
 King Edward of England has at Sandringham one of the most complete herds of shorthorns in Europe. It is from this herd that many finely bred animals are expected for exhibition at the World's Fair. Senator Harris, of Kansas, special livestock commissioner for the World's Fair, is now in Europe for the purpose, among other things, of securing a representative exhibit from the king's herds. It is said that the king's love of finely bred animals is inherited from his father whose chief diversion was the breeding of high-grade stock.

Forty carpenters wanted at once at Weston, Oregon, to build houses, many more will be needed soon; it is estimated that 100 new houses will be built this winter. The city of Weston has offered as an inducement to get houses built, free water for 10 years for household purposes, houses must be started before January 1 and completed before April 1, 1903; work can be had all winter. Weston has the only state normal school in Eastern Oregon and is an educational center. For information, address Weston Improvement Co.

RAY SCOTT DEAD.

Passed Away This Morning at His Home Near Helix.

Helix, Oct. 11.—Ray Scott, 17 years of age, was a healthy and robust young man Friday morning and today lies cold in death.

The young man said when he arose Friday morning that he had a slight cold, but gave no sign of feeling very badly. During the forenoon he suddenly became very sick and a doctor was called in, but that dread disease, appendicitis, had gotten hold on him and at an early hour this morning he passed away after several hours of intense suffering.

One thing that makes the death particularly sad one is the fact that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Scott, left here several days ago for a visit to their old home in Missouri and are there now unaware of their son's death. Every effort has been put forth to locate them by telegraph, but up to noon the efforts had proved futile. They are perhaps in the country, several miles from any telegraph station and may not be found for several days. Young Scott was a brother of Mrs. A. E. Mann, of Pendleton. No arrangements for the funeral or burial have been made.

SENT TO THE PEST HOUSE.

Dave Edwards, Employed at Hunt's Junction, Has Smallpox.

Dave Edwards, son of Rev. Jonathan Edwards, of this city, was taken in charge today and ordered sent to the pest house. He has a well developed case of smallpox.

Edwards has been working for the W. & C. R. company at Hunt's Junction for the past several weeks and has been quite sick, but did not know what was the matter with him. Today he came to town on the W. & C. R. train and was standing around the W. & C. R. depot until noticed by someone, who notified the marshal. Dr. Smith was then called, and the minute he saw Edwards he told him that he had a well developed case of smallpox. He was sent out to the pest house to keep company with a negro, the only other case of the disease in town. The negro was sent out Friday.

MEN'S OUTFITTERS

"BOSCO," THE OUTLAW.

Prize Offered for the Man Who Can Hide Famous Broncho.

J. J. York, Jr., and J. F. Sutherland are the promoters of a broncho-breaking tournament, advertised for Saturday and Sunday, which will undoubtedly prove much more exciting and interesting than was held here during the carnival. A cash purse of $15 has been hung up for anyone who can successfully ride "Bosco," the Oregon outlaw. This feat must be accomplished with but a breast strap and not full leather, says the Baker City Herald.

Jesse Hart, Fred Cavin, Bob Cavin and Dutch Lease are the riders and the boys say they will have upon hand the hardest horses to break upon the range. Twenty animals have been rounded up and await their entree into the arena. The ball park has been secured for the two days and accommodations arranged for the vast crowds that will undoubtedly flock to witness the exhibitions.

The broncho busters, who are home from La Grande where they rode before large crowds and returned with fresh laurels, are rated among the most expert in the country. They have been raised upon the range and know wild horses and their tricks.

Sheepmen Attention!
