PENDLETON SURPRISES THEM.

Homeseekers Never Heard of This Town and Wonder at its Size and Prosperity.

The coaches of the westbound passenger train which came through several hours late again today, were all crowded with homeseekers. Men, women and children rushed for the doors of the cars, got out onto the platform and began to ask questions about Pendleton and the surrounding country. All seemed to be more or less interested in this section, but they had heard very little about it. Many asked how large a town Pendleton was, and when told it was a city of 6000 people, they were surprised. They said Pendleton had scarcely been heard of in the Middle States, and they had formed the opinion that it was some small hamlet stuck off in the hills as its notoriety never reached the outside world.

One man in particular, D. B. McGee, was very much interested in Pendleton. He asked many questions about the town and Umatilla county. He is looking for farming land, and made inquiry about prices. When told that he could buy land that would grow 40 bushels of wheat to the acre for $30 and $35, he was surprised. He is from Oklahoma and said he just sold a large tract of land there for $52.50 an acre. On this land the greatest crop of wheat ever grown was 29 bushels to the acre.

Mr. McGee said that he had his ticket for Seattle, but when he got to Seattle and looked over that country he would return to Pendleton and perhaps settle in this vicinity. He was accompanied by his family, and came West partly for his wife's health. He said that wherever he settled many other Oklahoma people would seek homes.

THE JOLLY CLUB DANCE.

Was a Well Attended and Very Pleasant Event.

The dance Friday night at Music hall was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. While perhaps not so large a crowd was present as at some former events, every one enjoyed the occasion and expressed themselves in the highest terms to the management of the club. The floor was not crowded, as it is at some such occasions and this made it more pleasant for the dancers. Kirkman's orchestra rendered the music and it was up to the usual good standard. Refreshments were served. The next event by the Jolly Club will be two weeks hence.

The Sock Social.

The sock social given at the First Baptist church, corner of Alta and Johnson streets, last night, was a success. The house was not crowded, but a good sized crowd was present and the fun was enjoyed immensely. The program was good and the social was a success financially, as well as socially.

Pleasant Party.

A very pleasant party was given by Mrs. C. S. Jackson last evening in honor of Miss Miriam Strong, one of the teachers in the Pendleton schools. Only a few friends were invited and light refreshments were served. The evening was spent in listening to music and playing various games.

Weston Donates.

Mary Stanislaus, sister superior of St. Francis Academy at Pendleton, was in the city Tuesday, accompanied by another sister. They were soliciting funds for the magnificent new hospital at Pendleton, built by the Catholic board at a cost of $40,000, a large sum being also subscribed at Pendleton. Some money is yet lacking for equipment, and this is now being obtained. A number of donations were made here.—Weston Leader.

FOOTBALL SPORTS.

High School and Academy Teams Practicing for Coming Frays.

Football! This is about the only thing to be heard from the high school and academy students. The high school eleven are putting in some time each evening practicing in a wheat field on the hill south of the high school building, and are getting themselves in readiness for all who aspire to win honors with the pigskin.

While only the one game that between Pendleton and Baker City high schools Thanksgiving, has been arranged for, arrangements are being perfected to have other games at an early date. The team is figuring on challenging the academy team in a short while and are also talking of a tour into Washington and Idaho. No definite arrangements have been made but this is the talk.

The high school team claims to be the strongest for years. With a little more practice and toughening they claim that they will be equal to any emergency which might arise on the gridiron and are confident of winning everything that comes in their way.

The academy team has just begun to practice. This team was only organized a few days ago, but a strong aggregation will compete for honors on the gridiron for the academy.

The Eastern Oregon Normal School team at Weston has been organized after a year's layoff, and are now hard at work under the supervision of an experienced coach, Columbia College at Milton is also putting athletics to the fore and may be out with a strong eleven to do battle with other teams. With these teams in the field the Pendleton aggregation will have games in plenty.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Adjournment Taken Without a Single Readjustment.

After being in session for one week the board of equalization will adjourn this afternoon without having been called upon by a single tax payer to readjust his assessment.

The board was satisfied that something should be done to equalize the taxes, but no steps could be taken without notifying the property owners and they concluded that to do this at least 1500 or 2000 notices would have to be sent out and then to get the tax payers before the board would take several weeks so the matter has been allowed to remain as presented by Assessor Buzan with the hopes that something may be done next year by the new incumbent of that office.

The equalization board has the power to lower assessments when it finds they are out of proportion, but it can do nothing toward raising them without first notifying the taxpayer to appear and show cause why his assessment should not be raised.

COURT CONVENES.

Law and Civil Docket Will Be Lengthy. But the Criminal Cases Are Few.

All the preliminary arrangements will be completed this afternoon by County Clerk Chamberlain for the calling of the October term of district court Monday morning.

Judge W. R. Ellis will be on the bench, and this term is not expected to string out very long. While the law and civil dockets are quite lengthy, the criminal docket is short, and of all the cases to come before the court there are few of any importance.

The case of Leroy, the colored hot tamale man, who is charged with taking a shot at Clarence Penland, and the two Japs, accused of attempting assault on Yardmaster Leonard, of the O. R. & N., will be tried. The first case will be remembered as one which occupied considerable time in the justice court last summer and resulted in Leroy being bound over in $250 bonds.

The history of the case was that Penland was at the home of Mr. Mathews, in the south part of town, late one evening. He and a young lady were in the yard, and someone came sneaking through the yard, going toward the chicken house. Penland stepped in front of the suspicious-looking character and demanded to know what was wanted. The man started away and Penland followed to the gate. After getting into the street the man turned and shot back at Penland and later Leroy was arrested, accused of being the man who did the shooting.

BOLD CATTLE RUSTLING.

Eleven Head of Cattle Stolen and Sold at Dayton, Wash.

One of the boldest and apparently most successful cases of cattle stealing in Eastern Washington, occurred about two weeks ago, when a well-appearing man giving the name of L. Jones, entered Mr. Chandler's meat market and wanted to buy enough cattle to make up a carload for shipment. He afterward tried to sell 11 head of steers which were in pasture at the Blessinger place.

The man sold them to Mr. David Barclay, who paid him $275 in cash, and turned over to him a team of horses valued at $175.

From Dayton he went to Wabburg with the horses, where he sold one and bought another, and then he disappeared. Mr. Barclay, together with a deputy sheriff from Garfield county, are out trying to get some trace of the man.

His description given by those who conversed with him is: He is about 55 years old, spare but firm built, very dark complexion, 5 feet 6 inches high, black whiskers, several front teeth missing in upper jaw, smokes pipe with thick stem.—Dayton Courier-Press.

Poetical Editors.

Boyd, of the Athena Press, and Wood, of the Weston Leader, are still inflicting "poetry" upon each other and the public. This is the latest from Editor Wood, entitled, "Boyd's Soliloquy:"

Once inside my sanctum dreary,
While I pondered, weak and weary,
Over that outrageous doggerel,
Doggerel I now deplore—
Methought I heard a gentle bustling,
As of some mystic garments rustling,
And a voice in anger calling—
Calling loudly, "Nevermore!"

"It is Satan's voice," I muttered,
(And my heart within me fluttered)
"Satan calls to me, a sinner—
Foolish stuff makes Satan sore;
Ne'er again will Wood I slander,
Ne'er again to foul minds pander;
Oh, may I turn to truth and candor?
Quoth the Devil, "Nevermore!"

Pioneers-Washingtons.

A grand ball will be given next Tuesday evening, October 14, at Music hall, by the Pioneer-Washingtons, which all members in Umatilla county are invited to enjoy. If you have been a member of the Pioneers of the Pacific, you are cordially invited. Good music for dancers. Cards and other games. No admission charged.

BACK FROM ALASKA.

Charles Peterson Returns After Varied Experiences as a Fisherman.

Charles O. Peterson, who has just arrived in town from Alaska, will leave tonight for Michigan to visit his relatives and the home of his childhood.

Mr. Peterson was employed during the summer on Bristol Bay, by the Columbia River Packers' Association and was in the fishing business. He says the fishing was not very prosperous this season owing to the rough waters. The salmon run was almost as large as usual, but the waters were rougher than ever before and this made the fishing not only dangerous, but difficult. He says that he was with the fishermen who went on a strike for higher wages a few weeks ago, but their strike did not pan out to their benefit. The fishermen were being paid 2 cents a fish and they struck for 3 cents, but the company refused to allow the raise and the strikers could not enforce their demands because they were not sufficiently organized.

Mr. Peterson left Bristol Bay several weeks ago and the first day out a Chinaman packer died suddenly and the crew wanted to pitch him overboard, but the captain of the ship would not allow it. The Chinaman was well and on deck at noon and at 2 o'clock he was dead. No one knows what was the cause of death. Another fatality befell one of the boat's crew while on the Behring Sea. The weather was very bad and the water rough. One of the men was up on a mast and fell, injuring himself so badly that he died a few hours later.

At bedtime I take a pleasant herb drink, the next morning I feel bright and my complexion is better. My doctor says that it acts gently on the stomach, liver and kidneys and is a pleasant laxative. It is made from herb, and is prepared as easily as tea. It is called Lane's Medicine. Lane's Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. Price 25c and 50c. For sale by Tallman & Co., sole agents.
