Life Underwriters' Convention. Cincinnati, O., Oct. 15.—Two hundred and fifty delegates, representing 30 states, met in the assembly room of the Grand hotel today at the opening of the annual convention of the National Association of Life Underwriters. In the absence of Mayor Fleischmann, Lieutenant Governor Gordon welcomed the visitors. Very little business was transacted, the time being consumed with the opening formalities and routine business. During the coming two days, however, there are weighty matters to be discussed of vital importance to insurance interests, and before the convention closes Friday much that is now being thought will be expressed and determined.

Some of the questions scheduled for consideration are as follows: "What Features Have Rendered Local Association Work Most Successful?" Second—"What Benefits Have Life Underwriters' Associations Conferred Upon the Membership?" Third—"Should Membership in the Local Associations Include the Representatives of all Companies Known as Legal Reserve Life Insurance Companies?" Fourth—"In What Way Can the National Association Increase the Number of Local Associations and Strengthen Those Already Formed?" Fifth—"What Method of Educating Agents Will Best Insure Their Productiveness?" Sixth—"Life Insurance Solicitation as a Vocation for Graduates of Colleges."

Mrs. Fred Vnrath, No. 228 Territorial Street, Benton Harbor, Mich. "I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me every superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise." MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve or aspire to. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they go through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer from miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity. Wine of Cardui, in re-inforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy. A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

BRONCHO "BUSTING" CONTEST. Bosco, the Oregon Outlaw, Lost His Nerve and Was Easy. Baker City, Oct. 14.—Two days of broncho breaking proved a deviation from the usual routine of Saturday and Sunday to local sport lovers and both performances were well patronized at the ball park. The horses ridden were the best subjects to be secured and hard work was necessary before the fiery steeds were subdued. "Bosco," the Oregon outlaw, was ridden by Bob Cavin, though with a bridle. The equine showed little temper and was mastered with ease. Cavin and Caviness executed stunts in riding double. During the two exhibitions, 20 horses were brought into the field, ridden and broken. The horsemen are regarded as the most skilled in the country in the art of training horses for the saddle. A number of visitors came into the city from outlying districts and the entire program was conducted successfully.

A MAGAZINE SWINDLER. Claimed That the Woman's Home Companion is Being Used. The Woman's Home Companion, published at Springfield, Ohio, warns the public throughout the Pacific and Mountain states against an impostor who has been taking subscriptions for that magazine at various prices, all below the regular price of $1.00 a year. In some cases he has offered a cook book or other premium with the magazine, all for $1.00. This swindler is described as a rather heavy-set and quick-moving man, a voluble talker, and of darkish complexion. He uses blank receipts bought of different stations, usually signing with his left hand in a cramped, almost illegible style. Among his numerous aliases are W. M. Hill, W. M. Hull, A. B. Cook, B. M. Howard, W. M. Howard, C. F. Baker, J. M. Hall and P. A. Hooker. The Woman's Home Companion has many bona-fide agents, but these in every case can show letters signed by the Crowell Publishing Company, who issue the magazine. The Crowell Publishing Company will suitably reward any one for the arrest and conviction of this young scapegrace.

Kentucky Bankers Meet. Paducah, Ky., Oct. 15.—About 150 of the leading bankers and financiers of Kentucky faced President George C. Thompson of the State Bankers' Association this morning when he called to order the annual meeting of the organization. There was an address of welcome by George W. Keller and a response by John Andrew Steele, of Midway. The remainder of the morning session was devoted to officers' reports and routine business. Upon assembling after luncheon the delegates listened to an address on "The Trend of Banking," by Frank O. Watts, of Nashville, and an address by S. K. Sneed, of Henderson, who took "The Fowler Bill," as his subject. Officers will be chosen tomorrow.
