MR. SCOTT IS THANKFUL.

Appreciates Attention Shown Sick Son in His Absence—His Trip East.

W. M. Scott, of Helix, the unfortunate father who lost one of his sons by death while visiting the East recently, was in Pendleton today and expressed his thanks to the people who so kindly looked after his son's comfort in his last sickness.

It will be remembered that Mr. Scott and his wife left their home about a month ago for a trip to the old home in the East after an absence of nearly half a century, where they intended visiting friends in Missouri and Illinois for a couple of months, but that a few days ago they were summoned home to the funeral of their son, Ray, who had died suddenly in this county, and who was buried before their return.

In speaking of his visit, Mr. Scott said that they had visited the old home in Missouri and had just reached the old home in Illinois a few hours when the sad message came summoning them home. He says that he found that country much changed, though in a fairly prosperous condition. The most noticeable thing was the fact that about all of the timber has been cut away, and where large forests grew when he left, are now great corn fields. He left Illinois in 1855 and left Missouri in 1859. He says that corn crops are good throughout the section visited, though a great flood was raging, and in the states of Illinois, Missouri and Iowa much damage will result from the flood. Everything is under water.

He thinks, however, the damage will not prove serious, as the corn is all ready garnered. Blue grass and stock, he says are in fine condition. While he visited all of the country intended on his trip, yet the news of his son's sickness cut short an intended visit with many of the friends of olden times.

Mr. Scott is in Pendleton today looking for a house in which to reside. He expects to move here soon for the winter in order to take advantage of the schools for the education of his remaining son.

NEW SUIT FILED.

Martha Bonifer Wants Divorce From W. D. Bonifer.

Only one suit was filed at the courthouse today. Martha Bonifer asks the court to grant her a divorce from her husband, Walter D. Bonifer on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

The complaint alleges that they were married in Walla Walla in March of 1893, and soon after the marriage defendant began a course of cruel treatment which made life burdensome for plaintiff. She says he frequently got drunk and when drinking would curse and abuse her, and at times she had difficulty in keeping him from assaulting her with his clenched fists and she believes it is unsafe for her to live with him longer.

In addition to the divorce plaintiff prays for $250 attorneys' fees and costs of action while it is pending, and for $15 a month alimony during the remainder of her life. Plaintiff owns 160 acres of land on the Umatilla reservation. There are no children. S. A. Newberry is attorney for plaintiff.

DISTRICT COURT TODAY.

Case of Kline vs. I. L. Ray Being Heard Today.

District court is still in session. The case of Adelle Kline and Maurice Kline vs. I. L. Ray, was brought up this morning. The forenoon was taken up in getting a jury and enpaneling it and the evidence was commenced this afternoon, but has not yet been finished.

This is a case in which the complainants sue to recover money alleged to have been given defendant to invest in stocks and which was not used to the satisfaction of plaintiffs. The jury is composed of H. J. Taylor, William Zigman, Nicholas Brown, Charles Weiss, A. B. McEwen, William McCorkell, Thomas Duffee, G. W. Linsner, Cass Cannon, Frank Richmond, Frank Frazier and Alber Harala.

Epinger Arraigned.

W. Epinger, charged with taking a watch from M. S. Montelb, was arraigned today but waived until tomorrow when he will plead. What will be his plea is not positively known but it is thought he will plead guilty as charged and throw himself on the mercy of the court.

TWO MORE FINED.

P. A. McDuff and S. C. Smith Arrested for Violating the New Bicycle Ordinance.

There was plenty of business in police court today. Three men were fined for riding on the sidewalks without a license, one this morning, whose name is given in another place, and this afternoon P. A. McDuff and S. C. Smith were arrested on the same charge. McDuff was fined $2 and Smith $3.

Judge Fitz Gerald and the police officers say they are going to arrest and fine every man who is caught riding without a license under the new ordinance and those who have not purchased the license had better ride on the streets or walk.

An assault and battery case was also up for hearing before Judge Fitz Gerald. This was R. J. Siddens, charged by Jack Roach with running into his little daughter with a bicycle. The minimum fine of $10 was given Siddens.

AT THE FOOT OF THE CLASS

Oregon is Away Down in the List of Irrigation States.

Congressman-elect Williamson has returned from Colorado Springs, where he attended the irrigation congress. He went there to learn about irrigation matters, says the Portland Oregonian. And he learned something that was not flattering to himself nor creditable to the state. The scales fell from his eyes and he is now an active disciple of the irrigation cause. He always believed in it, of course, but now he is thoroughly convinced that Oregon cannot get along without it.

"I learned from the irrigation experts, both in and out of the government service," said he, in speaking of the matter last night, "that Oregon is clear down to the foot of the class. Of course that did not please me, and I did not accept such statements without evidence. But I was forced to recognize the truth. The other states having arid lands are clamoring for the government to take hold of the reclamation projects under the new law, but I am told that Oregon is rather pushing the government away. The authorities say nobody in Oregon takes any interest in reclaiming arid land, nobody makes suggestions as to where irrigation would be desirable, nobody tries to point out a way for the government to help the arid districts of the state. There is no local organization to take hold of the matter. Officers come out to look into local conditions and learn the local desires and can hardly find anybody willing to talk about the subject, much less give encouragement and support. Indeed, Oregon is regarded as almost helplessly apathetic. And this in the face that Oregon has contributed nearly one-eighth of the money now available for irrigation works in 16 states. Nearly $1,000,000 was paid by Oregon, more than by any other state, and yet, Oregon seems content to sit with folded hands and see the reclamation enterprise go elsewhere."

Moen-Chambers

This afternoon Judge Fitz Gerald united in marriage Nels Moen and Cleora Chambers at the office of the city recorder. Mr. Moen is from Baker City and the bride is from Umatilla county.
