VAN DUSEN HERE

GOING TO GRANDE RONDE TO INSPECT HATCHERY.

Says New Irrigation Laws Should be Passed to Protect the Salmon in the Umatilla—Water Very Low—Dam at Umatilla Has Been Arranged Satisfactorily.

Master Fish Warden Van Dusen passed through Pendleton Sunday on his way to inspect the Grande Ronde fish hatchery on the Wallowa.

While here Mr. Van Dusen said that the Holbrook Ditch Co. had opened its dam, one mile below Umatilla, across the Umatilla river, and now ten feet was left so that the fall run of salmon could pass. For several months there has been a great kick raised against this dam which literally obstructed the stream at this place. Deputy Game Warden Wells, of this city, made a personal visit to the dam a few weeks ago and on his way Mr. Van Dusen stopped and inspected the dam and found that after Mr. Wells' visit the company had made arrangements to allow a waterway for the fish to pass and the matter was now satisfactory.

Mr. Van Dusen said that owing to the scant water in the Umatilla river this season the fish outlook for the fall run of salmon was not as flattering as usual. Mr. Van Dusen also said that he thought the salmon spawn would be lighter this season than ever before.

The cause of the scarcity of water is laid to the numerous irrigation ditches where water is being taken from the river to water gardens, orchards and for different purposes. These take the water from the stream so much that very little is now reaching the mouth of the Umatilla. Mr. Van Dusen suggests that an effort be made to have the next legislative body pass some well-defined irrigation laws for the protection of the fish industry of the state. Just what could be done was not suggested, but Mr. Van Dusen said that it was evident that some laws could be passed which would protect the fish and at the same time would not conflict with the rights of the people and work a hardship on those wishing to use the water from the river for irrigation purposes. Just what end could be worked to is not yet defined but it was hinted that many irrigation ditches were allowed to take more water than was actually needed and some regulation along this line may be the course to be taken in passing laws.

His Life in Peril.

"I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Bee, of Welfare, Texas, "biliousness and a lame back had made life a burden. I couldn't eat or sleep and felt almost too worn out to work when I began to use Electric Bitters, but they worked wonders. Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work." They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, run-down people. Try them. LOVE WILL FIND ITS WAY.

Two Hearts Made One After Invoking Aid of a Lawyer.

It took two days and the aid of the courts for Jessie T. Conrad, a young Umatilla county farmer to secure a bride, but now that he has her, he feels more than repaid for the trouble and expense he underwent. It all happened this way. Sweet little Iris Vincent, the bride, is a Umatilla girl, only 16 years of age. She suffered the loss of her parents some years ago. Wednesday Mr. Conrad called on Auditor McLean for a marriage license, but as the bride-to-be was only 16 and had no guardian to give the necessary consent, the auditor had to refuse. Then it was that Mr. Conrad invoked the aid of Judge Brents and showed that he was wise. The judge advised that the services of a lawyer be secured and straightway Conrad hunted up Attorney Ped-igo. After much pondering Mr. Pedigo saw a way out of the dilemma and petitioned the court to appoint a guardian for Miss Vincent, which was accordingly done yesterday evening. Judge Glasford consenting to act in that capacity and give his consent for his ward to get married. The license was duly issued and last evening the Judge pronounced them man and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Conrad will take up their residence on a farm in Umatilla county.—Statesman.

Forgery at La Grande.

La Grande, Ore., Oct. 29.—Early Saturday morning groceryman C. L. Thorn cashed a check for A. D. Sigler supposed to have been signed by Gedde Bros. Mr. Thorn had a few days previous cashed a smaller for Sigler signed by Gedde Bros., and supposed that this check was all right, but when presenting it to the La Grande National Bank for payment, the forgery was immediately detected. Sigler left on the east-bound passenger train and officers along the line have been notified.
