

NEWS OF WESTON.

Football Practice at Normal—A miniature Park Talked of.

The Leader: Hugh Rogers, a popular member of Company A, Second Oregon, while in the Philippines, came up from Pendleton Sunday, and spent the day with Weston members of Company D.

V. H. Chestain, the Milton druggist, has been re-elected president of the State Pharmaceutical Association. Mr. Chestain, accompanied by his wife, has been in Portland this week attending the association, and also the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias.

Mrs. R. M. Powers arrived home from California Sunday accompanied by her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds lived at Weston when a boy, and managed to journey up town Tuesday to greet old playmates. He has been suffering from a protracted sickness.

Football practice is being energetically pursued upon the Normal gridiron. Coach Rupert says that for first-year men he is well pleased with the material on hand in Patison, Nelson, DuPuis, Saling, Baddeley, Holway, Walden, Ely, Calvert, Arbogast, Banister, Barnett, Price and Blair; and with the new men expected in the near future he feels sure that the E. O. S. N. S. will be favorably heard from in football soon.

Mrs. L. B. Nellis, of Tacoma, Mrs. Hattie Stanfield and Mrs. Charles A. Maskrey, of Pendleton, were visitors at the Normal on Monday. They were shown through the various departments and expressed themselves as greatly pleased and edified by the excellence in class work, by the good discipline everywhere seen, and by the commodious building and its beautiful surroundings. Several fine views were taken with a kodak by the visitors.

Messrs. J. W. Young and I. E. Saling have in view the making of a small public park on the vacant property east of the Marshall house. Shade trees will be set out, lawn grass seeded, and walks and settees arranged—so that it will be a pleasant place in which to spend an idle hour on a summer day.

The case of H. Henker vs. O. T. Douglass was tried by jury, S. V. Knox appearing for plaintiff and R. M. Powers for defendant. The plaintiff is an eye specialist, and was bitten by defendant's dog, while entering the latter's premises with advertising matter. He sued to recover $100 damages and verdict was returned for the defense. Plaintiff gave notice that he would appeal the case to the circuit court.

CALIFORNIA LETTER.

D. W. McDannald Describes a Sugar Beet Factory—Other News.

Santa Ana, Cal., Oct. 14.—To the Editor:—I called at W. A. Clark's big sugar beet factory at Los Alamitos the other day and was shown through the great building and had the intricacies of sugar-making described to me.

I first went to the store room where I saw several thousand sacks of the snow-white material stacked up awaiting shipment. Where all this condensed sweetness is going to, the great Father and the shipping clerk alone know.

The average output is 1300 sacks a day and they will have about four months' run. They will put out, during the season somewhere near 150,000 sacks, or 750,000 tons, or a total in money value of more than $600,000.

I next went to the room where the refined sugar comes out of four long spouts and looks like sifted snow. It falls into a hopper holding several tons. From there it is drawn out into sacks and sewed up ready for shipment.

I might go on and describe the whole process in detail, from the time the beets are weighed in, until the sugar is weighed out, but doubtless most of your readers have visited the factory at La Grande, and the story would be uninteresting.

During the forenoon I spent at the factory they turned out 860 sacks. This was above the average, however.

They employ 115 men about the place and their monthly pay roll, all told, amount to $75,000 a month. From 700 to 800 tons of beets a day are required to keep the machinery running at full capacity.

Two monster engines of 150 horse power each are required to turn the machinery, and while I looked at the myriads of wheels, pulleys and belts, all going at a rapid rate of speed, I was not surprised at the amount of force necessary to propel them.

If I should stand on the bluff overlooking the deep, dark pit, where fork-tailed lumps are supposed to be forever shoveling brimstone into a limitless furnace, I shall not witness a sight more awe-inspiring, than that which greeted my entry into the furnace room of the factory. On either side of a narrow hallway are eight huge boilers and you step into this narrow passage and catch a glimpse of the sizzling, hissing flashes of burning oil in the furnace below, and watch the smut-begrimed and sweat-soaked fire tenders as they hurry from one throttle to another to turn on a little more of the burning fluid, your first flight of fancy will call up the old Padres pictures of perdition. Seven hundred barrels of oil are consumed every 24 hours, and the fires are never "banked" from the time the year started in mid-summer until the season's run is ended late in autumn.

In a building a few hundred feet from the big brick factory are two large iron flues, or kilns, where the lime used in clarifying the sugar is burned. The rock is shipped from Lake Elsinore, in Riverside county. Artesian wells furnish the water for the factory and after it has performed its duty in cleansing and beautifying everything about the premises it is pumped into reservoirs and turned out on adjoining lands to aid the soil and sunshine in the production of a bountiful crop.

I learn that Jesse Baker, late of Weston, has purchased a farm out in San Jacinto valley, about 30 miles from Riverside.

My wife was in the city the other day and had a ride in the elevator. She was so taken up with it that she came home and wanted me to put one in our house.

THIS IS OLD DR. KESSLER

One of the World's Greatest Specialists, Who Has Kept Hundreds From an Early Grave or the Insane Asylum.

Now, look here, young man, don't be so careless. Don't put off any longer; have your case attended to today, for your looks tell on you. You may conclude to get married some day, and to live happy you must be a man rugged and strong physically and mentally. So many divorce cases we hear of, if an investigation was made, would disclose the fact that physical and nervous weakness of the husband causes the wife to finally hate him. Women love a manly man, just as much as men love beautifully developed, healthy, red-cheeked women. Blisters and pimples show something wrong. All kinds of diseases are cured by this old doctor. It is not necessary to go to see him; in a few diseases where surgery is required or cancers, old ulcers and such it is better to see him, but all weakness and private conditions can be cured at home. He has a perfect system for home treatment; he always answers your letters in a plain envelope and keeps every case a profound secret. Pay no attention to the little books you find on streets, but trust yourself to an old doctor who has been curing cases like yours for over a quarter of a century in this city. Always inclose 10 2-cent stamps when writing for consultation, and send small bottle of your urine if possible. Address,

J. HENRI KESSLER, M. D.

ARTILLERY REMOVED.

Left Walla Walla Saturday for Fort Snelling—Four Troops of Cavalry to Take Their Place.

Walla Walla, Oct. 20.—The Tenth Battery, light artillery, which had been stationed at Fort Walla Walla for nearly two years, left this city for Fort Snelling, Minn., Saturday afternoon, with the full equipment of the battery. It required 16 cars to transport the men, guns and horses, and a special train was made up by the O. R. & N. Company for the long trip. Mr. A. L. Craig, general passenger agent of the road, was in the city, and arranged all the details of transporting the soldiers to their new quarters. It is expected that four troops of cavalry will arrive in the city tonight or tomorrow to take the place of the artillerymen. Battery Thirty is still at the fort, but is expected to be transferred daily.

Out of Death's Jaws.
