A VALUABLE PRIZE

WILL BE GIVEN MOST POPULAR SECRET ORDER.

By the Sisters of St. Frances, Who Are Planning for a Fair in November—Money to Be Used Toward Furnishing New Hospital.

The Sisters of St. Frances are preparing to give a very valuable prize to the most popular secret order of Pendleton. The plan is on foot for a fair or bazaar to be next month, the exact date of which has not yet been set. This will be like all other church fairs and all kinds of small articles of beauty and usefulness will be found for sale.

The plan for giving a prize is one which will be highly appreciated by the society lucky enough to receive it. The prize will be a year's free room rent and care both of physician and nurses for the sick members of the society to receive the most votes. Tickets will be prepared to vote on at 10 cents each, and these will be for sale by the sisters.

This prize, if paid for by the year, would cost just $2 a day, or a total of $730. While this is a large prize the sisters have hit upon this plan to raise some extra money with which to finish their hospital. The new hospital building is to cost $32,000 and as this was found to be more than at first figured it is more than those backing the proposition can well afford to put up—in fact, more than the funds on hand for this purpose. The first estimated cost of the building, when it was decided to build an up-to-date hospital in Pendleton, was not half what the actual cost will be, as the first planned building was found not to be ample for the demands of the city and as a result a much larger building was undertaken.

When finished, this new hospital will be a great thing for Pendleton, and those voting in the contest for the prize are not only winning for their choice order a valuable prize, but are doing much for the good of the town.

AN OLD GUN.

Relic of Colorado Indian War Found After 50 Years.

"What do you think of it? I nearly butted my face into it, else, I suppose, I never would have found it."
As he said this, Chancy Kline, of 1608 Champa street handed over about as interesting a relic of the old Indian fighting days as has been seen in many a year. It was a rust-entreated and old-fashioned cap-and-ball revolver, which had lain out of doors, enduring all the vagaries of Colorado weather for, perhaps, half a century.
"It was while I was crawling up on a bunch of antelope, out near Pawnee Buttes, some 200 miles northeast of here on the old Cheyenne trail, that I ran across this ancient piece," Mr. Kline continued. "Rudolph Neef was just back of me moving slowly and quietly toward the game, but when I saw, five inches ahead of my nose, the barrel of this gun sticking out from under a rock and apparently aimed right at me I exclaimed:
"What the—"
"And Rudolph stood up and said: 'You durned chump, you've scared every antelope out of the country!'"
"But I didn't mind him. I was busy digging this old weapon out of the grass and weeds."
Persons familiar with the history of the West are confident that the revolver was lost from a soldier's scabbard away back in the early '50's when the Pawnee Indians were surrounded and starved out on the big butte, which, with its twin, half a mile away, is called after the name of that fierce and bloody tribe.
The revolver has an eight-inch barrel, with six chambers in the cylinder, three of which are still loaded the rusted remains of the "caps" still clinging to the nipples. Under the barrel appears the number "144,891." On the cylinder is the inscription "Patented Sept. 10, 1850." Along the top of the barrel runs the line:
"Address Col. Sam Colt, New York, U. S. America."
The wooden pieces on each side the steel framework of the "grip" are weatherbeaten and "shakky," but are still held in place. It is a valuable relic, this old-time implement of war, and were its history at hand, columns of most entertaining matter might be made of it.—Denver Post.

It is probable that the entire 11,000,000 feet of lumber needed by the government for Manila may be shipped from Portland.

E. D. Cummings, of Seattle, representing Pacific Coast capitalists proposes to build a $600,000 beet sugar plant at North Yakima if the farmers will agree to take $100,000 in stock so as to insure sufficient beets to run the establishment.

A non-union union was organized by Seattle Sunday night. It is composed of butchers who are working in shops where boycotted Frye-Bruhn meats are being sold.

Hundreds of pounds of dried prunes are being brought into Albany daily and a large number of men are constantly at work preparing them for shipment to the East. Four carloads have already been shipped from there.

MEN'S OUTFITTERS

FOR THE MINERS.

A Total of $94 Has Been Sent From Pendleton.

From the miners' benefit sale at the Peoples Warehouse last Saturday, a total of $31 was sent to the anthracite coal miners' families who have been reduced to want by the long-drawn-out strike.

Mr. Cohen announced that he would give 5 per cent of the entire sales made from his store Saturday to the miners and C. W. McLyman, of the Painters' Union, was secured to stay at the store on this day and check up all the sales to see that this amount went as intended. The money donated has been sent to the proper authorities from where it will be distributed to the ones needing it. This makes $94 which has been sent from Pendleton to the strikers' relief fund, and shows that Pendleton has the welfare of the suffering miners at heart. The other $63 was gathered by public donation under the auspices of the Painters' Union.

Congressman Jones Speaks.

Walla Walla, Oct. 22.—Congressman Wesley L. Jones spoke at the opera house last night, to a large audience. The band furnished music, and the meeting was a splendid success. Mr. Jones dwelt at length upon the history of the democratic party, and the future of the republican party as a party for young men. The address was enthusiastically applauded.
