THEY PASSED US BY

BIG BATCH OF IMMIGRANTS CONTINUED WEST.

Intimated That Pendleton Lost Her Grip by Not Advertising—Reduced Rates Off November 1.

The two special cars loaded with homeseekers, who were advertised to arrive here this morning from Missouri valley, did not arrive and it is now stated on pretty good authority that they are not coming. In other words they are not going to stop off at Pendleton as was announced.

These two cars, containing from 40 to 50 heads of families, were to have been here on delayed No. 5 passenger train this morning, but if they were on this train they did not stop here. This train was loaded with immigrants going to Western Oregon, but only one family stopped. It is intimated that this train contained the crowd of people who were going to stop here, but owing to the fact that Pendleton people made no effort to assist the railroad company in getting these people here and no arrangements were made to receive or entertain them they passed on through, refusing to stop and see Umatilla county. This statement is not verified, but looks very much as though it was true.

J. H. O'Neil, traveling passenger agent for the O. R. & N. Company, who was here yesterday, left on last evening's train to meet the Easterners and return with them to show them the most interesting points of travel and incidentally to guide them to Western Oregon, where they could find timber and ranches which they could procure at small cost.

"This looks very much as though Pendleton was being passed up," said a prominent citizen this morning. "Pendleton was asked by the railroad company to aid them in advertising the resources of Umatilla county, but the proposition put to the Commercial Association did not appeal to that body and the matter of printing folders advertising the county was dropped. It is now stated that unless Pendleton does show herself to be alive and spend some money in advertising matter little effort will be made by the transportation companies to get people to stop off here to view the country."

The homeseekers' rates have brought thousands of Eastern and Middle States people to the West. Few of them have stopped in Pendleton or Umatilla county. Each train is loaded down with immigrants, but they either transfer here for Eastern Washington or go on to Portland. These rates will be off after the first of next month, and after that, unless other arrangements are made, those traveling will have to pay the regular fare from the East to the West.

McKinley Memorial.

Canton, O., Oct. 25.—The trustees of the McKinley National Memorial Association held their first annual meeting here today, former Secretary of State Day presiding. The report of Treasurer Myron T. Herrick showed that gratifying progress is being made nearly the entire memorial fund now being subscribed. Following the business meeting the trustees visited the tomb of the late president and afterward inspected several sites proposed for the memorial. The definite selection for the site will probably be announced at an early date.

His Life in Peril.

"I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Bee, of Welfare, Texas, "biliousness and a lame back had made life a burden. I couldn't eat or sleep and felt almost too worn out to work when I began to use Electric Bitters, but they worked wonders. Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work." They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, run-down people. Try them. ATTRACTIONS.

Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels Wednesday, Oct. 29th.

Haverly's mastodon minstrels carries more scenery than any other similar organization on the road. The first part setting bids fair to eclipse anything of its kind ever attempted before in this country, is by Moses and Hamilton of New York, and represents a Venetian water scene, showing the gondoliers carrying aeronauts through the beautiful waters of ancient Venice, and a new departure with mechanical lighting effects of an indescribable nature. When the drop curtain first ascends, a picture of unique beauty strikes the eye. The auditor forgets the stage, and only sees the effect in general. The color scheme has been so arranged in conjunction with the mechanical part of the setting, as to do away with anything that looks like painted scenery; a work of art which promises to become the talk of the city.

The company is larger and better than any other, and besides George Wilson, of "Waltz me again" fame, who is the star, it contains such noted people as the Carl Dammann troupe, seven in number, the world's most phenomenal troupe of agile, elegant and power-acrobats, in wonderful feats performed by them alone. Geo. Morgan the world's greatest minstrel contralto, direct from Moore & Burgess' Minstrels, St. James Hall, London, England; John S. Roland, basso profundo, late of the "Bostonians;" Charles Richards, the wonderful boy baritone, and Francis W. Sutherland "The Sousa" of minstrel band masters. A vocal corps of 20 and an orchestra of 15, in fact a company of half a hundred artists.

Prices 25, 50 and $1.00.

TO CLOSE TONIGHT.

Final Bill of a Prosperous Week to Be Daudet's "Sapho."

Standing room was at a premium at Frizer's again last night, the usual large audience thoroughly enjoying the Clara Mathes Company in "A Royal Spy." It is a five-act melodrama with strong comedy interest, and kept the audience in a state of breathless expectancy throughout. The plot, dealing with a persecuted French captain of artillery, is so vividly suggestive of the late Dreyfus sensation that one wonders why the management has not made capital of that phase of the play, unless it be that Manager Welch's ambition for the original and unconventional would render such a course distasteful.

Several new specialties were introduced and all served to while the waits between acts pleasantly.

At the matinee this afternoon the farce-comedy, "A Wife Wanted," is being presented, witnessed by a large audience, composed largely of ladies and children.

The week's engagement closes this evening with Daudet's immortal play, "Sapho." Great interest is manifested in the production, as it is known that Miss Mathes presents a clean and wholesome version of the masterpiece. A large audience will witness it, to laugh with the foxy Cessaire, the hypochondriacal Hettema, and be carried from laughter to tears upon the varying emotions of Fanny Legrande.

CASCADE RESERVE.

Contains Enough Timber to Supply the U. S. One and a Half Years.

Report from government geological survey of the Cascade forest reserve, says:

"The area of the reserve, including the recent additions, is 7,254 square miles. It is the largest of all the reserves, extending from the Columbia river on the north southward across the state nearly to the California boundary.

"The total area of the reserve is 4,883,588 acres, of which 4,161,761 acres, or 85 per cent are forested, only 8 per cent, or one acre in 12 and one-half, is burned; only 5 per cent, or one acre in 20, is open country, and one per cent of the land consists of barren rocks, ice, etc., the remaining one per cent consisting of water surface and of logged and cultivated land.

"The total stand of timber upon the reserve slightly exceeds 50,000 million feet B. M., or enough to supply the U. S. for a year and a half. Upon the west of the Cascade range red fir forms 63 per cent of all the timber. East of the range yellow pine constitutes 37 per cent of the timber. The average stand of timber upon the timbered area of the reserve
