SIXTY CENT WHEAT

200,000 BUSHELS SOLD IN COUNTY THIS WEEK.

Although Farmers Are Not Inclined to rush into the Market There Has Been a Steady Sale All Week—As Usual, Some Are Holding for Higher Figure.

Little was doing in the wheat market yesterday or today although the price still remains at 60 cents a bushel. Notwithstanding that this is a very good figure for wheat and is the highest mark it has reached for years, there has been little or no rush for the local wheat dealers' offices, although there has been a steady sale all the week. It is closely estimated that no less than 200,000 bushels was placed on the market since last Monday at 60 cents a bushel, bringing just $116,000 into the pockets of the Umatilla county farmers.

While there is little or no condition which would warrant the farmers waiting for a higher figure, the market remains bullish and further raise may come.

There is not a great deal of wheat left in the county as at least three-fourths of the 1902 crop has been disposed of, leaving a little more than a half million bushels in the county yet to be placed on the market.

Farmers, for most part, are figuring strongly on disposing of their holdings before the price drops, while some are going to hold for 65 cents. This figure may be reached and it may not, but as 60 cents is a fair price the majority will recognize this fact and let go without waiting on an uncertain market.

IN POLICE COURT.

Three Drunks Were Dealt With by Judge Fitzgerald.

Business was booming in police court again this morning. Three drunks were before Judge Fitzgerald and received sentence.

The first man up was T. J. Lowrey, charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was given a fine of $5 which he paid.

Following Lowrey came M. Bell, who was sentenced to three days in jail.

W. Littlefield was the third unlucky victim to be before the court on the same charge of being drunk and disorderly. He pleaded guilty and as he had made a nuisance of himself in general he was fined $10 and in default of the fine went to jail for five days.

SPENCE BACKED DOWN.

The Irrepressible East Oregonian Man Ran Up Against Helix Man.

Everybody knows Jim Spence, of the East Oregonian and nearly everybody has seen his bobtail dog. There is but one subject on earth that Jim thinks more of than his dog, and that is his wife. He also thinks his dog is a scrapper. When Spence is with him he will tackle anything, or run a bluff on anything from a common mouse to a railroad train. He is known as a very peaceable dog when Jim is away from town. In fact, the cats make it a practice of tantalizing him. But Jim would never believe this. He would tremble in his shoes for a lion if he should see that dog "go after" him.

But last night Jim would not back his judgment. He had just been to Helix and it is claimed that he had "packed away" a lot of "slugs" from that prosperous town for subscriptions and job work and other purposes, and some of the Helix people were playing for even.

D. B. Richardson and Jesse Moore, of Helix, met Jim on the street and the dog was with Jim. One of the boys teased the dog and he bristled up and looked as if he was just preparing to devour something.

"Don't bother that dog," said Spence. "He is a bad dog. I won't be responsible for him if you tease him."

"Pshaw," said Richardson. "I have a common house cat up at Helix that can lick that cur."

"He's not a cur," said Spence. "That's a fine bred dog. He ain't afraid of anything. Why, that dog would kill your cat in a minute—look at him, he would tear your leg off if I should tell him to."

"I'll bet you $20 that my cat can lick him," said Richardson.

"I'll go you," said Spence, and he rushed over to Fred and got a nice, shiny twenty and they agreed to put up stakes with Pete Smith at the St. George. Richardson laid down his coin and Pete took it in charge.

Spence looked at it for a minute and then said: "My dog don't fight wildcats."

"But you said he could lick anything," said Richardson.

"He can," replied Spence, "but I don't propose to have him lacerated by a wildcat," and he drew his money down and backed squarely out, the first time in his life.

PEACE IN COLOMBIA.

Have Asked Government Leaders to Meet Them in Peace Negotiations—Government Consents.

Panama, Colombia, Nov. 1.—There is reason to believe that the Colombian revolution will now end with little or no bloodshed. Confirmation from a reliable source has been received here that General Vargas-Santos, the military director of the revolutionists, has been negotiating a treaty of peace in Costa Rica with a representative of the Colombian government. Last week General Vargas-Santos sent a cable message to Governor Salazar asking leave to come here to confer with the governor personally. Yesterday General Vargas-Santos repeated this request and General Salazar replied by cable telling him to come. Much is expected from the approaching conference between these men.
