COUNTY NEWS.

NEWS OF ADAMS.

Pendleton Not the Only Town in Umatilla With a Building Boom.

J. O. Hales sold 9000 bushels of red chaff wheat Tuesday to Malcolm McIntyre for 60 cents a bushel.

Mrs. M. A. Ferguson has returned from Pendleton, where she visited several days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bently.

Mrs. Ella Bolling and little daughter, Alleen, Mrs. John Geiss and Mrs. J. E. Stanfield went to Pendleton yesterday and will remain until tomorrow.

J. H. Ferguson, who resides at Pendleton, was in Adams Wednesday. Mr. Ferguson owns a fine farm near Adams and was looking after his farming interests.

John Bean, sheep inspector for Umatilla county, passed through Adams Sunday last on his way home from the state line, near Milton, where he received a number of sheep from Washington. Mr. Bean says that there is absolutely no scab among the sheep of this county, nor has there been for nearly three years. Prices are still firm, yearling wethers selling as high as $2.90 and $3 per head. Those that are now being brought in from the mountains are fit for the block, grass being abundant. In fact, the inspector says he never saw sheep looking better at this season of the year.

F. W. Schmidt, of the well-known Pendleton firm of F. W. Schmidt & Co., druggists, and J. B. Mumford, a substantial farmer of this county, now a resident of Pendleton, were in Adams yesterday. They drove up from the county seat and after feasting their eyes on the beautiful scenery surrounding the city of Adams and satisfying the "inner man" at the Hotel Oregon, they drove on to the town of Helix in the neighborhood of which Mr. Mumford's farm lands are located. These gentlemen were very much surprised at the number of new buildings in course of erection in Adams, and remarked that Pendleton was evidently not the only town in the county that the building boom had struck.—Adams Advance.

WESTON A CLOSED TOWN.

Walter Melton Bumps Against Stick of Wood and Breaks His Jaw.

Weston is now a closed town on Sundays and no business is allowed to be running except that exempt by law. For several months there has been a move to close the saloons and card joints in Weston but up to a few weeks ago the proposition did not extend to any other business. The agitation was kept up by the saloon men who remained open for two successive Sundays and each Monday morning the proprietors were fined and it was seen that in order to promote harmony and gain the desired end without too much friction, everything would have to close. Gambling was suppressed several weeks ago and now Weston is among the moral towns.

Walter Melton is the victim of a serious, though not necessarily fatal accident. A few days ago he was working with a wood saw when a stick of wood caught in the teeth of the revolving saw and was hurled against his jaw. Melton was knocked senseless for several minutes, but soon revived and when examined it was found that his jaw was fractured. He is now out, but the break and bruise was quite painful.

Today the football teams of the Eastern Oregon State Normal school and the Walla Walla high school, will vie with each other for honors on the gridiron. The normal team is quite well trained and are husky lads. They confidently expect to win the honors from the farmer boys.

Weston.

The enterprising town of Weston, Oregon, has an association known as the Weston Improvement Association. It is an organization in which the people get together and work for the advancement of Weston. Weston is a live town, made so by its enterprising residents and backed up by natural advantages. Many other towns in Oregon would do well to follow the example of Weston.—Heppner Gazette.

INDIANS FACE A JUDGE.

Pendleton Red Men Drink Portland Whisky and Get Fined.

Three real native Americans—Indians from Pendleton—John Morris E. A. Thomas and Logan Larkin, were before Municipal Judge Hogue Thursday charged with drunkenness. Larkin was the speaker for the crowd and said: "All that I know is, we came to town to appear as witnesses in a case before the United States court, and we took whisky we were not used to and got drunk."

"Where did you get this whisky?" asked Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald.

"In a saloon, but I do not know where it is located," answered the Indian.

"If you had taken a scalp or two, you would have known where you got the firewater, would you not?" queried Mr. Fitzgerald.

The three Indians shook with suppressed laughter, and were fined $5 each.—Oregonian.

Girls Who Work

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female ills, especially when obliged to stand feet from morning until night.

Day in and day out, month in and month out, the year through, the working girl toils; she is bread winner of the family, and must work that others may live; whether she is sick or well, she rains or shines, whether it is warm or cold she must get to her place of employment and duties exacted from her.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifest by weak and aching pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach; in consequence of frequent wetting of monthly periods become painful and irregular, and frequently faint and dizzy spells, with loss of until life is a burden and it is hard work to drag about. All these symptoms point to a derangement of female organism, and if taken in time can be easily and permanently cured.

A Cordial Invitation to Every Sick and Ailing Working Girl.

It is to these girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand, extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. Her unrivalled success in treating woman's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl, and from her wide experience and skill quickly points the way to health. Her advice is free, and all letters held by her in the strictest confidence. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Don't put off writing her until your health is wrecked.

Grateful Words from Working Girls Who Have Been Helped.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I want to thank you for what you have done for me. I was so tired, I stand over my work all day, and no one who hasn't tried it knows how it makes your back ache. I couldn't sleep, and had no appetite, but thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel entirely different now; it is a wonderful medicine. I do not feel that my work is hard now, and I can recommend your medicine to other girls who are always tired."—Miss ISABEL SURGIN, 293 West 125th Street, New York City.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done so much for me that I wish to recommend it to all girls whose work keeps them standing on their feet all day long. The doctor said I could not live and I must give up work, and stay out of doors; but I seem to realize that a girl cannot afford to stop working. My back ached, my appetite was poor, I could not sleep; menstruation was scanty and very painful. One day when suffering I came to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me, I soon found that my periods were free from pain and natural; now my health is fine, and every one is surprised at the change in me, and I cannot be too grateful for what you have done for me."—Miss JANET PAINE, 125th Street, New York City.—$5000.00 forfeit if originals of above letters proving genuineness cannot be produced.

WAGONLOAD OF GEESE.

Pendleton Marksmen Bring in the Southern Emigrants by Wholesale.

A wagonload of wild geese on the streets early this morning was the novelty.

They were dead, but they were freshly killed and just looked tempting enough to cause the citizens to rush after them and pay the sum of 50 cents apiece for them.

There were just exactly 242 of them and they were big, fat, juicy ones. They were the earliest birds and they were caught by Pendleton marksmen. It was the biggest kill within the history of the state in the given length of time. It only required two days for a party of three to do the work.

Joe Nolt, Otto Turner and Will Lane started out Wednesday with their Winchester "pump guns" to the heat fields near Arlington and returned this morning with the results announced above.

The wild geese have just begun their southward trip in earnest and the boys happened to get in the midst of the best of them. They are noted for their good marksmanship and they did not lose their reputation in this instance. Flocks of nine and 10 attempted to pass over them, but they claim that they did not permit one to escape. "It was just like finding them," said Joe Nolt. "We took them as they came and we were strictly impartial. But as a remarkable coincidence, we did not kill a bad goose. They were all large and fat. You see the 242 fill this wagon to the gunwales. If there had been another we should have had to get another wagon."

Then he was cut short by a dozen citizens clamoring for geese. Tomorrow promises to be the greatest goose feast in the history of the town.

MISS MONIE BOWEY

No. 38 Perry Street, DETROIT, MICHIGAN

A couple of winters ago I slipped on a frozen sidewalk and fell flat on my back. On being examined I found that I had sustained internal injuries which laid me up for more than two months. After that I noticed that I had pains in the back and groin which I never had before. I doctored and doctored for several months but as the pains increased instead of growing better I decided that I was not having the right treatment. Reading in the papers of the wonderful cures performed by Wine of Cardui I wrote to one of the parties and received a very satisfactory reply and I immediately sent for some. In a very short time I felt generally better and after seven weeks faithful use I was once more well and strong. I have never had a sick hour since and I daily bless your splendid medicine.

Miss Monie Bowe.

Wine of Cardui is a medicine that should always be kept on hand in every home for immediate use when female weakness first makes its appearance. Miss Bowe's painful and dangerous accident would not have resulted so seriously had she taken Wine of Cardui promptly.
