WALLA WALLA REPUBLICAN.

With the Exception of County Clerk and Auditor, the Entire Republican County Ticket Elected.

Walla Walla, Nov. 5.—With a cold rain falling most of the day the general election passed quietly yesterday, and the vote of the county was materially reduced by the storm and muddy roads occasioned by recent rains. The morning dawned chilly and heavy clouds hung low. Shortly after sunrise a rain began falling and it continued most of the day, intermittently.

The campaign has been one of little personal interest upon the part of the masses, and the election proved but another day of similar apathy. The vote of the county was considerably below the figure expected by politicians recently, but it shows up well in most of the country precincts. The fight was on the legislative ticket, principally, and along toward evening considerable sentiment was aroused on the position of county auditor. Had the day been bright and warm general conditions would have greatly changed, and it is said by republicans that the vote of the party would have been largely augmented.

Counting proceeded slowly last night, the ticket being a difficult one to tally. In places it required three minutes for the clerks to tally up one ballot. In the larger precincts the work required most of the night. The successful ticket follows:

- Representatives in Congress—Frances W. Cushman, Wesley L. Jones and William E. Humphrey.
- Judge of the Supreme Court—Hiram E. Hadley.
- State Representatives, 13th District—A. F. Kees and E. M. Denton.
- Sheriff—Charles S. Painter.
- Treasurer—William B. Hadley.
- Clerk—Arthur A. Hauerbach.
- Auditor—W. J. Honeycutt.
- Prosecuting Attorney—Lester S. Wilson.
- Assessor—Richard J. Berryman.
- Superintendent of Schools—J. Elmer Myers.
- Surveyor—Lewis W. Loehr.
- Coroner—W. D. Smith.
- Commissioners—Frank Smith, J. N. McLaw.
- Justice of the Peace—Jos. J. Huffman.
- Constable—Levi Malone.

Walla Walla, 2:30 p.m.—The republican legislative and county ticket was elected by small majorities except clerk and auditor. Honeycutt, the democratic nominee for auditor, was elected by about 300. Hauerbach, democrat, for clerk, by 150. The congressional ticket carried by over 500.

ANOTHER HORSE THIEF.

Basel Bushman Held to the United States Grand Jury.

Basel Bushman was before United States Commissioner Hailey this afternoon on the charge of stealing a horse from the pasture of an Indian on the Umatilla reserve.

Bushman is a half-breed, and it is claimed that he went to the pasture of the Indian owner of the animal a few days ago and taking it from the field, sold it. Complaint was made and United States Deputy Jacob Proebstel came up from Portland and made the arrest.—The crime was committed on the reserve and from one of Uncle Sam's wards, which makes it a United States case. Bushman's defense was that the animal was given to him, but the evidence was such that he was bound over and sent to Portland to await the action of the grand jury.

INDIANS CAN SELL LANDS.

Umatilla Lands Were Allotted in 1893 For a Period of 25 Years.

A mistaken idea seems to have gained foothold and is being published in many papers to the effect that a ruling has been handed down by the secretary of the interior that no land sales should be approved in the future by Indian agents which was inherited from Indian allotments. The facts in the case are that notice was sent out to all the agents to approve no sales of this land until further notice, but the statement that this ruling was perpetual is incorrect.

The above, however, has little to do with the lands of the Umatilla reserve. When the Umatilla lands were allotted in 1893 the department made it impossible for the Indians to dispose of their allotments for a period of 25 years. The ruling of the department is for other agencies which have been allotted long enough that the land has reverted to the Indian owners and they have a right to sell. It is claimed that they can be induced to dispose of their lands for a small consideration and in this way some are defrauded out of their holdings. The order for agents on the reserve not to approve sales is to protect the Indians and keep them from disposing of valuable lands.

New Road for Eastern Oregon.

The new Oregon & Idaho Central railway is now a certainty, the road having already been laid out. The road will open up a great mining country and will be 110 miles in length. It will start at Baker City, touching the Virtue mining district, passing through Sparta, one of the Eastern Oregon free gold mining bonanza lands; touching Cornucopia, which has not been worked to a very great extent because of its low grade ores, giving an outlet to the great Iron Dyke copper mine with its 1400 feet of underground work; passing through several partly developed mines and ending up in the Seven Devils country in Idaho.—Roseburg Review.

Cost of Irrigation.

While irrigation is hot in Oregon, in view of the future work that is promised in actual improvements, it is interesting to note some of the items of expense that go along with the subject. Statistics from the various Oregon counties show up some vital facts. In those counties where artesian wells have been tried, the average cost of irrigation has been $25.67 per acre. In Wasco county the cost of artesian irrigation is $30 per acre. In Crook and Klamath counties, where the most extensive irrigation experiments have been carried on, the average cost of irrigation has been $8.72 per acre. The total average of cost for the state is $4.74 per acre.

HE DIED TWICE.

Remarkable Story of Rev. Johnson, of Indiana.

Rev. Elijah R. Johnson, a well-known clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal faith, passed away Saturday at his home near Mulberry, Ind., says the La Porte (Ind.) Argus.

Mr. Johnson was 72 years old. He had the distinction of having died twice, according to the opinions of noted physicians. His first supposed demise was in June, 1869, while he was the pastor of the Oakland Hill Mission church, now Congress Street Methodist church, in Lafayette, Ind. He worked so hard in building up his congregation and erecting a new house of worship that he was overcome by nervous prostration and after a week's illness apparently died. Dr. Kiefer, then one of the state's physicians, pronounced him dead, and this opinion was concurred in by other doctors.

Mr. Johnson always had been opposed to embalming, and his body was not embalmed. To this fact he owed 33 years more of active life. The body lay three days while arrangements for the funeral were being made. Rev. I. W. Joyce, had charge of the funeral service.

The services had proceeded to the conclusion of the scripture lesson and the preacher had just uttered the name of Mr. Johnson, preparatory to pronouncing a eulogy, when a sudden gust of wind blew a door shut and the supposed dead man sat up in the coffin.

Two weeks later Mr. Joyce accompanied Mr. Johnson to his church and from the pulpit said: "Here in this pulpit with me is a man that has come back to us from the gates of death."

Many attempts have been made to get a statement as to his sensations during his cataleptic state. His invariable reply was: "What I saw then I never shall tell to mortal man."

Exports of dried apricots were, for the first time, stated separately from other "green, ripe or dried" fruits in the reports of the treasury department for the fiscal year 1901-2. They are given at 1,928,367 pounds, valued at $178,143.

Three masked men with pistols, held up the R. R. saloon at The Dalles early Monday morning and got $9. They were captured soon afterward.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES.

Roy Moorhead Walked 300 Yards With His Brain Exposed.

Roy Moorhead, the young man spoken of yesterday as being the victim of an unfortunate accident at the electric light plant, died this morning at the Sister's hospital.

When the young man was picked up yesterday he was unconscious, but soon revived and walked 300 yards to his home with the support of one of his playmates. A physician was summoned immediately, the wound was dressed and the boy sent to the hospital. The skull was found to have been crushed in and cracked so that the brain was left exposed. At first it was thought his wound was not necessarily fatal, but later, all hope was given up and the physician announced that death was certain.

Roy Moorhead was 13 years of age. His mother is a widow and in very straightened circumstances. His father has been dead 10 years. The family came here recently from Kansas, and word has been sent to the young man's grandfather in the hopes of getting help in sending the body back to Kansas for interment. Awaiting a reply from the grandfather, the body is being held and no arrangements will be made for the funeral until later.

Mrs. Brock Dead.

Mrs. E. M. Brock died this morning at the home, 427 Chestnut street, after more than three years of suffering with a complication of diseases, which has balked all medical skill. She was 76 years of age and a pioneer of Umatilla county. Arrangements have been made for the funeral services to be held at the home at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rev. Robert Warner will conduct the services.

Imports of coffee into the United States have almost doubled within the past 10 years, having increased from 563,469,668 pounds in 1892-3, to 1,091,004,252 pounds in 1901-2. Imports of tea, on the other hand, have declined during the same period from 89,061,287 to 75,579,125 pounds.
