WAS ONCE A SAILOR

NOW A PROMINENT STOCKMAN OF UMATILLA.

Henry La Zinka Left the Sea Twenty Years Ago and Became a Sheep-herder—Proud of it.

Henry La Zinka, one of the most prominent stockmen of Camas Prairie, accompanied by his family, is in town. Mr. La Zinka's experience in this country is another illustration of what industry and economy can do here. He had been a sailor for eight years, having visited nearly every port in the world. He left a vessel at Seattle 20 years ago and came to Portland and afterwards drifted out into Morrow county. He first engaged in sheepherding and afterwards owned sheep of his own, and finally sold them and bought cattle and a home in Camas Prairie. He now owns more than 2000 acres of land and a fine band of cattle and a large number of horses.

Mr. La Zinka tells some interesting stories about early days. He had wonderful experiences at sea and in his early life in Oregon. He had ambition to become a sea captain, and when he reached the station of sheepherder out in a dry desert country, he at first felt humiliated at his fall. However, as time rolled on, he saw his wages accumulating and afterwards his own sheep growing about him, he became weaned from the sea. He afterwards went to his old home in Germany and married the girl of his boyish love and came to Oregon to stay, and now he is proud of it all. He has unbounded faith in the future of this country and does not see why any man should not succeed here who tries.

Mr. La Zinka and family will return to their home tomorrow.

WANT GOOD ROADS.

Tons of Supplies Hauled From This City Hauled Daily Into the Interior.

As he was loading the last box of 4000-pound purchase of provisions on his wagon in this city today, a Susanville teamster said to an East Oregonian representative:

"What do we want in our section? That is easy to answer; we want first, good wagon roads, all the way. At places it is almost impossible to travel at this time of the year. Most of our supplies are hauled from this city. Coming in this trip I met one load of potatoes of 2500 pounds; one load of general merchandise, consisting of flour, bacon, lard and clothing; one load of mill feed and one load of barbed wire. These commodities are bought in Pendleton and distributed through the interior settlements. The demand for them is increasing and better roads must be provided to hold the trade, until a railroad is built into that district."

"What new developments in mining have been made this fall?"

"One of the latest features in this line is the movement against the working of mines by the old arrastra method. It is absolutely wasteful. Much of the mineral is left in the dirt. We are going to agitate up-to-date plans of mining that will not spoil ground for future developments. All that is needed is transportation and machinery. The Susanville district will be one of Pendleton's best feeders when it is given an outlet for its vast resources."

Irrigation at Freewater.

The Loundagin Irrigation Company of Freewater has purchased the ditches and land formerly owned by the Farmers' Bank of Weston. They propose to put an extensive system of irrigation in and will be able to furnish water for irrigation of a large area of land heretofore arid.

Noted Indian Chief.

The Yakima Indians have the most noted chief of the Northwest. He is known as Chief Spencer and is over 100 years old. His name is mentioned in Sheridan's memoirs as a noted Chinook scout. The old chief rides his pony to Toppenish and takes part in all the councils of the tribe. He opposed the selling of their lands for 25 cents an acre and has always been a safe man as leader. At one time he received a pension of $500 a year from the government, as a chief. He and Moses, the warrior, could not agree, and Spencer was removed from his position. In early days his family was killed by some Indians. His wife and children were found with ropes around their necks. When he investigated and satisfied himself that Indians had committed the deed he became an earnest friend of the whites. He is one of the old-timers, whose record during the Indian wars shows him always on the side of the white man and peace.—Tacoma News.

Deschutes Ditch.

Work on the Swulley irrigation canal, which takes water from the Deschutes River about a mile below Bend, is being pushed rapidly and it is expected that the ditch will be completed inside of a few weeks. Construction work has been finished to a point some distance below Long Butte and the course of the main canal will now be headed towards the canyon which enters the river near Pickett Island. The surplus water will be turned into the river at this point.—Deschutes Echo.

The Indian government has refused the Standard Oil Company permission to prospect in the oil fields of Burmah.

Guatemala produced 600,000 bags of coffee this year. The total output for the world was 13,000,000 bags.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Place to Live.

Weston is among the prettiest home towns in Oregon and has the only state educational institution—the Eastern Oregon State Normal School—in this part of the state. Weston is abundantly supplied with pure water and has granted free water for household purposes for 10 years to all persons who build houses prior to April 1, 1903. You can obtain a good building site on Normal Heights, with water, sidewalks, grading and shade trees free, at a low figure. If you are seeking a pleasant home at an educational center, address the Weston Improvement Co., Weston, Or.

The Old Remedy Best.

Despite the excellent theories as to the rearing of children to be advanced at the Mothers' Congress, it is not probable that any up-to-date contrivance will wholly supplant the good old slipper as an incentive to juvenile reform.—New York World.
