is not a building boom, either. It is a case of property owners either putting up substantial buildings for themselves or for rent. Both business property is being im and resident proved. And there is no risk in investing either. Long before a building is completed and often before the plans are made application is made to rent it. In fact, it is said that prop-erty owners are besieged to put up CANDIDATES FOR LA GRANDE more buildings of all kinds

They Show For Themselves.

One may walk down most any street and see improvements going New buildings are being com pleted, or under construction, or the ground is just being broken at many points. In a ten minutes' interview with two architects and two contract ors, it was learned that the number of improvements going on ran way many that could not be taken into surrounding the plum acount in so short a time. The archiments of the rights of tects' services are usually only rehulldings.

Some of the Buildings.

Besides the new Catholic hospital and the Pendleton Academy building and the new Christian church build-dleton, is armed with a stick that ing, each of which is under constructives tion and will cost a large sum of money, there are numerous business blocks and residences of a substantial nature that will cost large sums also. Then there are many small cottages and other improvements that do not very much in individual cases, but that will sum up a large total. It estimated that the early spring will find a large number of improve-ments added to Pendleton and the coming year will witness the largest bullding activity in the history of the place within the same period for a number of years. Architect T. F. Howard reports the
