BAR ASSOCIATION

ANNUAL MEETING DISCUSSES MANY IMPORTANT CHANGES.

President Clelland Calls the Association to Order With Very Light Attendance.
 Portland, Nov. 19.—The Oregon Bar Association is now in session in this city. Owing to the absorbing interest of the irrigation convention, a very light attendance was present when Judge Clelland, president of the association, called the meeting to order. However, an interesting session has been held, and many important changes in the code of practice will be recommended.

The following members are present: Charles B. Bellinger, George E. Chamberlain, J. B. Clelland, F. D. Chamberlain, C. A. Dolph, R. R. Dunaway, A. F. Flegel, W. M. Gregory, W. C. Johnson, C. E. Lockwood, W. Y. Masters, O. F. Paxton, C. J. Schanabel, T. V. Vreeland, A. P. Tift, O. J. Kraemer, W. R. Willis and W. B. Thomas. Many more came in after the session was called to order.

Applications.
 The first thing to come up before the meeting was the roll call, which showed a great many absent. The following applications for membership were read: Frank S. Grant, C. U. Gantenbein, Fred W. Mulkey, John V. Henderson and E. Wilson, which were referred to the membership committee.

The report of the executive committee was read. It is very extensive and deals with numerous important questions to be considered. Chairman F. D. Chamberlain, of the grievance committee, made a lengthy report to the meeting, the following being the principal theme discussed: "The case against Henry St. Rainer, for unprofessional conduct in altering a transcript, has been heard and determined by the supreme court and the defendant disbanded."

"The case against Henry C. Eastham is now pending before the supreme court, the evidence has been taken and the case will probably be heard in the near future."
 "In this case, the complaining witness, notwithstanding he was duly subpoenaed, and his witness fees paid, and notwithstanding the referee and the committee's attorney traveled to Baker City to take his testimony, failed to appear at the appointed time and kept out of town until the referee and the attorney had departed. It is evident that the complaining witness and the defendant came to a satisfactory settlement without taking the committee into their confidence."

"The attorney for the committee, New York, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Annie Yeamans, the veteran actress, who is playing a leading role at the Casino, today celebrated her sixty-seventh birthday and the fifty-seventh year of her appearance on the stage. Her many friends in and out of the profession remembered the anniversary by arranging a benefit performance and at the matinee at the Casino today the venerable player found her dressing room banked high with floral tributes from her innumerable friends and admirers. There are but one or two actresses of any note on the American stage who are older than Mrs. Yeamans and none who have had a longer or more varied theatrical career. Born in the Isle of Man of Manx and Welsh parentage she was taken, when a baby, to Australia and in that far-off land she made her stage debut. When still quite young she joined a circus and in the next few years went on a trip around the world with the show. When the circus stranded in Shanghai, Mrs. Yeamans got together a few of the performers and they toured through all the possible parts of China. Subsequently she appeared in Singapore, Java and the chief cities of Japan. In 1868 she came to the United States and settled in New York. During her 30 odd years' residence in this country she has visited all the leading cities and been identified with many theatrical productions.

MEMPHIS IN GALA ATTIRE—PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT DELIVERS ADDRESS—GRAND BANQUET TONIGHT.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 19.—General Luke E. Wright, vice-governor of the Philippines was honored by his home city today, President Roosevelt and many other noted guests took part in the program and the occasion was one of the most notable in the recent history of Memphis. Residences and business houses were gay with bunting, the streets were jammed with people wearing Wright buttons and Wright badges during the entire day, and all business was generally suspended pursuant to a proclamation of the mayor. General Wright was escorted to the city hall and welcomed by hundreds of the most prominent citizens of Memphis. In company with President Roosevelt, Secretary Cortelyou, President Stuyvesant Fish of the Illinois Central railroad and numerous other visitors of prominence, General Wright reviewed a procession composed of all the military organizations and numerous civic societies of Memphis and vicinity. When the parade had passed Chairman Crawford of the general reception committee presented to Gen. Wright resolutions commending his conduct in the Philippines. Gen. Wright accepted in a speech full of gratitude. President Roosevelt delivered a brief public address expressing the nation's appreciation of Gen. Wright's services.

The festivities in honor of Gen. Wright conclude tonight with a grand banquet, which promises to be an affair of unusual note. In addition to the president and Gen. Wright, the invited guests include Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, Melville E. Stone, of New York, and other men of national prominence. Immediately after the function is concluded President Roosevelt and party will leave the city by special train for Washington.
