PENDLETON MAYOR

INVITES IRRIGATORS TO FEAST IN UMATILLA.

Carload of Potatoes Will Run to Portland Without Aid, if it Could Get Over Foster Hill—Arid Land Figures.

Mayor Bailey, of Pendleton, who was the spokesman for the Umatilla county delegation, kept the irrigation convention in a roar, while speaking of his county, although he shrewdly sandwiched his facts in between his jokes, says the Telegram. He said Umatilla was modest, like the other counties. After Uncle Sam had finished with all the others, if he had any more time or money left, would he please come into Umatilla; the citizens would like to feed him on their almonds, walnuts, pumpkins, fruit that was raised three weeks earlier than in the Willamette valley, and sort of give him the jolly hand. Incidentally, they would show him some arid land along the Umatilla River and in Morrow county, where something like 100,000 acres in the latter county and 50,000 acres of land in Umatilla could be irrigated by storing the floods of the Umatilla River, which ran from an elevation of 4000 feet in the Blue mountains, to 300 feet at its mouth. On Willow River was a fine proposition, where 20,000 acres could be reclaimed at a nominal cost, which would give a value of $500 an acre, 10,000 acres of which was dead land. There were other prospects, but not for the government, for private capital.

"Why, we can start a carload of spuds from Pendleton," said Mr. Bailey, "and it will roll into Portland of its own gravitation. This winter we will winter 5000 head of cattle along the Lower Butter Creek, a little strip of land. We don't have to drive them to market and lose the difference in weight. We fatten them ourselves."

"I could tell you a whole lot more about Umatilla if the time would permit. All I ask, is come and see us."

PRES. MARTINDALE NO BETTER.

Has Been Sick for Two Weeks and His Friends Fear the Worst.

Weston, Nov. 21.—President Martindale, of the Eastern Oregon State Normal School, is seriously ill and his friends fear for the worst. Two weeks ago Mr. Martindale was taken suddenly with congestion of the lungs and since that has been quite low. Everything has been done that is known to medical science, but so far little benefit has been received, and today he is quite low with little hopes of his recovery.

The Baker City high school football team defeated the Weston Normal team on their own grounds Wednesday by a score of 6 to 0. The game was a very fast one from start to finish and the normal team held down the Gold Diggers pretty well. The Baker team is much the heavier and thus had the advantage of the home team, as they did not play any better football than the normals.

THE PILOT ROCK RECORD.

Paper to Be Launched by McManus and the Brown Brothers.

Pilot Rock, Nov. 21.—John P. McManus, the veteran newspaper man of Pendleton, and one of the ablest writers in the county, has completed arrangements here for a new paper, the first number of which will be published on the 6th of December, and will be called the Pilot Rock Record.

While Mr. McManus is at the head of the enterprise, the paper is to be published by Win Brown, McManus and Clint Brown. A plant has been purchased in Sumpter and will be shipped here at once. The business men are taking hold of the new enterprise and are determined to help it along.

Pilot Rock is gradually coming to the front as a business center and the addition of a live newspaper is one of the enterprises which has been needed by the people for many years.

R. M. TURNER HONORED.

Elected Representative on Republican Ticket in New Mexico.

The following from the Silver City Enterprise, of Silver City, N. M., will be read with interest in this city by the friends of R. M. Turner:

R. M. Turner, the newly-elected representative from Grant and Luna counties, made a splendid race and we predict for him an excellent record in the legislature.

Mr. Turner is well known here where he grew to boyhood. He is the step-son of Mrs. C. A. Turner, of the corner of Thompson and Alta streets, his father having died here several years ago. He spent most of his younger days in this city until about four years ago, when he went to New Mexico, where he was nominated and elected representative of Grant and Luna counties on the republican ticket. He is a lawyer by profession and is a man of exceptional ability and no doubt will give satisfaction as a lawmaker for the people he represents.
