THIS IS OLD DOCTOR KESSLER

one of the World's Greatest Specialists, Who Has Kept Hundreds From an Early Grave or the Insane Asylum.

Now, look here, young man, don't be so careless. Don't put off any more, have your case attended to. For your looks tell on you. You conclude to get married some day and to live happy you must be in good health. So many divorce cases are the result of men who are mentally weak. So many investigations would disclose the fact that men and nervous weakness of the mind causes the wife to finally leave him. Women love a manly man, as much as men love beautifully shaped, healthy, red-cheeked women. Blisters and pimples show a man is wrong. All kinds of diseases are cured by this old doctor. It is not necessary to go to see him; in a few diseases where surgery is required or cancers, old ulcers and such it is better to see him, but all weakness and private conditions can be cured at home. He has a perfect system of home treatment; he always answers your letters in a plain envelope and keeps every case a profound secret. Pay no attention to the little books you find on streets, but trust yourself to an old doctor who has been curing cases like yours for over a quarter of a century in this city. Always inclose 10 2-cent stamps when writing for consultation, and send small bottle of urine if possible. Address,

ONCE IN PENDLETON

EDWARD S. FARROW, WHO COMMANDED INDIAN SCOUTS.

Writes a Little Volume on Frontier Life and Camp—Illustrates With Photographs by Major Lee Moorhouse—Campaign Against "Sheep-eaters."

A book that will excite much local interest in Pendleton and the Inland Empire has just been issued by the American Press Publishing Company, of Philadelphia, entitled "Camping on the Trail," and is written by Edward S. Farrow, late assistant instructor in military tactics at West Point, and commanding officer of scouts in the department of the Columbia, during the Indian wars of 1878-'79 and '80. The book is illustrated by four excellent photographs from the collection of Major Lee Moorhouse, of this city. The subjects of the photographs are Peo, ex-chief of the Umattilas, Shaplish, Chief Joseph, of the Nez Perces, and a picture of Fish Hawk, who, by a mistake in the manuscript, is called Yia-tin-i-a-wits. Edward S. Farrow was a lieutenant under General O. O. Howard during the Bannock Indian war in Idaho, and Oregon, and it was he who took a company of Indian scouts, among whom were Shaplish, Peo, Yia-tin-i-a-wits and other Umattilas, whose names are not now obtainable, together with a picked squad of white soldiers and went into the Salmon River fastness in search of the "Sheep-eaters."

Renegade Braves.
The "Sheep-eaters" were a mixed lot of renegade Bannocks, Plutes, Crows and a few from other neighboring tribes, who left the main body of their people and went into the almost inaccessible mountains of Salmon River, where they murdered miners and packers and stole stock from neighboring settlements. Several companies of soldiers had attempted to dislodge them, without avail. Finally Farrow took his motley company of scouts into their territory, captured the marauders and brought them to Fort Vancouver, where they were kept for several years. Buffalo Horn, the leader of the renegades, was killed at the battle of South Mountain. This band of renegade Indians was given the name of the "Sheep-eaters" on account of the mountain sheep flesh being their principal food. The Salmon River war of 1879 and '80 is called the "Sheep-eaters" campaign.

The book is true to its name. It is "camping on the trail," with all the minute details of mountain travel and frontier life explained in smooth and elegant terms. The illustrations are masterpieces of the photographer's art and lend an additional charm to an already charming subject.

UMATTILA COUNTY HISTORY.

with agents here, each of whom do a large business. The Walla Walla Produce Company, with N. W. Mumford agent, The Shields Fruit Company, S. S. Shields, buyer, and the Local Fruit Growers' Union, represented by Elba Rogers, all make large shipments. Mr. Mumford estimates that his company ships annually at least 300 car loads of fruit and vegetables, there being an average of 12 tons to the car. The company has loaded 500 cars this season, and estimates that the company does $300,000 worth of business annually.

Mr. Shields probably does an equal amount of business and quickly summed up a number of important shipments this season. He shipped 5000 crates of berries, 1000 boxes of cherries, 5 carloads of vegetables, 5 carloads of prunes, 4 carloads of apples, one carload of pears.

Mr. Rogers, of the local union, which is composed of local producers, was absent from the town, but it was claimed that his shipments are also large in all of the different lines.

Other Products.
While this section makes no particular boast of raising grain, yet the output would seem large outside of Umattila county. There are three mills in the two places and while

"Saved My Life."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me when all else had failed. I suffered a long time with female troubles."
"Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine saved me from a surgical operation. Doctors said an operation was necessary."

Thousands upon thousands of women throughout this country are not only expressing such sentiments as the above to their friends, but are writing letters of gratitude containing just such expressions to Mrs. Pinkham until she has more than a million from women in all classes of society who have been restored to health by her advice and medicine after all other means had failed.

Women should remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is performing such remarkable cures, assisted by Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

If you are asked by a druggist to take something else, demand the medicine which you know is best—the medicine which has made the greatest number of cures—the medicine whose record is unequalled by any other medicine, exclusively for women, in the world.

MISS ROSE OWENS,
No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual organs. It strengthens the nervous system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

August 13, 1900, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of Cameron, Mo., writes:
"I suffered terribly at monthly periods for three years. I would sometimes go for seven months with no flow at all. Now I have my health back again and am expecting to be confined in January. I cannot praise your medicine enough."

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

these buy grain from the outside, yet they report the local production exceedingly large.

The Peacock Mill Company, a Walla Walla concern, has two large mills at this place with an approximate cost of $75,000. The two mills have an actual capacity of 65 barrels of flour a day and probably turn out 180,000 barrels a year. Probably 200,000 bushels of this wheat is raised in the home market.

Miller Bros. also have a mill which cost them about $10,000 and has a capacity of 60 barrels a day. Their product is entirely consumed by the local trade.

Barley is also raised here on a large scale.

The alfalfa product is reported as the greatest in the county. It is claimed that as many as five crops are raised in one year. It is verified that as many as four successful crops are cut in one season. Following are some of the most noted alfalfa producers in this country: W. S. Goodman, 700 tons; H. E. Young, 1000 tons; Phil Hoon, Martin Combs, A. Martin, Dan Kenney and Mrs. Emma Rice, 400 tons each. Joe Hoon raises 250 tons; Will Hoon, 150, and there are many other small alfalfa producers.

Timothy hay is also produced on a large scale. In fact the resources are so varied and so large that an attempt to describe them in limited space does not do the community substantial justice.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
