COMPLAINS OF ROBBERY.

Gentleman Who Declines to Give His Name Makes Rambling Complaint to Chief of Police.

A man who refused to give his name, and who did not register at the lodging house where he stayed, complained to the police this morning that he was robbed during last night of $200.

However, the story is given little credence by the police. The man came here a few days ago and has been drinking quite heavily. He told many different stories about himself. He claimed to have been a sheriff in Texas, Georgia and other places in the East and South, but when confronted by the police this morning and asked to give a clue to work on in ferretting out the thief, he would not take any interest in the matter and left town for Walla Walla on the 8:10 train.

NEW CLUB HOUSE

TO BE ERECTED AT A COST OF TWELVE THOUSAND.

Site Has Been Selected and C. E. Troutman Has Completed the Plans Which Can be Seen at The Peoples Warehouse.

Twelve thousand dollars is a large figure for the young men of Pendleton to raise for the erection of a club house, nevertheless, it is now an almost assured fact that the building is going to be erected.

A site has been selected on the corner of Water and Cottonwood streets and C. E. Troutman, the architect, has completed plans which are now under advisement of those at the head of the move. The plans are in the window of the Peoples Warehouse where they can be seen.

When completed this club house will be a home for the young men which all may be proud of showing to strangers to the city.

The building is to be two stories high with a basement. In the basement will be the furnace room, plunge bath rooms, 18x40 feet, and seven shower baths. Through the center of the basement will run a double bowling alley 70 feet long with plenty of room for spectators. The bowling alley will have an annex or wing out from the building 24x20 feet to give it length.

There will be two entrances to the first floor with a veranda 12 feet wide around the south and east and a part of the north side of the building. At the front entrance will be the vestibule, 7x24 feet, with a lobby, office and coat room. On this floor will be the billiard and card rooms and on the east side will be the ladies club and reception rooms. The library will also be on this floor which is to be 24x32 feet.

The third floor will contain the gymnasium room which is to be 36x70 feet with a stage 16x24 feet. This will also contain three shower baths and two tubs. Here will be the shooting gallery 18x70 feet and additional galleries will be made across the ends of the gymnasium rooms. This floor will contain the committee room, locker and dressing rooms. A veranda will also encircle this floor around the south, east and a part of the north of the building. The ceilings are 10 feet for the basement, 12 for the first floor and 16 for the second at the side walls and 24 feet in the center to give ample room for the gymnasium ropes and trapeze. The whole building will be heated with hot water from the furnace in the basement and the outside of the building will be very pretty, although not touched off with costly ornaments or flourishes. Its style will be Colonial.

It is the intention of the young men to call to their aid, the ladies of Pendleton, who will be asked to help make it a place of sociability and good cheer. By doing this the ladies will have access to the house and have the same privilege as the gentlemen.

DEATH OF MRS. CAPLINGER.

Brought From Helix to Sisters' Hospital for Treatment—Leaves Husband and Three Children.

Mrs. Ella Caplinger, wife of John Caplinger, of Helix, died Saturday evening at the Sisters' hospital, after a brief illness, with diabetes. Mrs. Caplinger had been a sufferer for several weeks and a few days ago was brought to the hospital with the hopes of saving her life. However, she gradually grew worse and the end came at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. She leaves a husband and three children beside a host of friends who are shocked at her untimely death. The body was prepared for burial by M. A. Rader and shipped to Helix for burial.

"Fiddle Dee Dee."

A large and enthusiastic crowd greeted "Fiddle Dee Dee" at the Frazer last Saturday evening. As burlesque, it was a fair production. The dancing was very good, the singing and music were over the average and the characters were well interpreted and sustained. The general expression of approval heard on every side seems to warrant the statement that "Fiddle Dee Dee" met the expectations of theater-goers in this city. Burlesque is just a pastime. It has no plot, no moral lesson, no scope in which to exhibit the emotions that are real and the passions that are human. As pastime, it causes a laugh and a merriment that is soon forgotten. "Fiddle Dee Dee" as the froth on the wine of real theatricals, gives a transient flush that makes an hour of time gay, but adds no lasting ideal to life.

"Pennsylvania."

The Portland Telegram says of this popular play: "Pennsylvania," the latest addition to the army of state-named plays, gave five successful performances at Cordray's the fore part of the week. Quite naturally, it is in the melodramatic class, but the play has a rather logical plot and the situations are not as overdrawn as are usually found in this brand of drama. What made the attraction of particular interest was that it told a story of life among the anthracite miners. As the coal miners' strike has absorbed public attention for months past, the play was very appropriate. This play will be presented here Tuesday evening and seats are now on sale at Frazer's. Prices 25c, 50c, 75c, and $1.

"Hunting for Hawkins"

"Hunting for Hawkins," a comedy well defined in plot and purpose, and laugh producing from start to finish, will be the jolly attraction at the Frazer theater, on Friday, November 28.

Enjoying as this does, a place by itself in the hearts of the playgoers of this big country of ours, it is invariably greeted by constantly increasing popularity and patronage. In every place in which it has been presented there is a demand for its return, and upon every return visit it always shows increased demands for seats. Be on hand when this comedy comes to Pendleton and enjoy its humor. Seat sale will open Wednesday morning.

TUTUILLA ITEMS.

Personal News—2000 Horses Shipped From Susanville—Seeding at a Standstill.

Tutuilla, Nov. 24.—Ed Moorehead has just finished boring a well 350 feet deep for Jorgen Mumm, at a cost of over $1000. No water was found.

G. O. Miller has added to the convenience of his farm with a house and barn moved from a place recently purchased by him. His home place now is very commodious.

Peter Hansen is spending the winter in Los Angeles, Cal.

Molstrom Bros. have finished their seeding operations and have returned to their home north of Pendleton.

W. P. York is here from the Susanville country where he is engaged in stock raising. He estimates that over 2000 horses have been shipped out of that section this year, 700 going in one shipment to St. Louis.

O. P. Bowman purchased 40 head of cattle at the Craig sale near Pilot Rock recently.

W. F. Gillespie, the veteran freighter, was over from Susanville last week. The roads between here and there are in bad shape at this time of year and it took him nine days to make the trip. He brought out a load of ore and took back powder and supplies for the mining camps.

Charles Goster is down from Cabbage Hill, and reports that the inhabitants of that thriving burg are wading about through two feet of snow.

Much seeding is yet to be done in this locality. The local weather prophet sees nothing ahead but more rain, with perhaps a mixture of fog and snow for a change. Seeding operations have been at a standstill for the past two weeks. The fields are decorated with weed piles too wet to burn and too heavy for the wind to blow over onto the next man's farm.

Thanksgiving Ball.

The Jolly Club will give a grand ball at Music hall Thanksgiving evening, Nov. 27th. Kirkman's orchestra will furnish the music and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Avoid all drying inhalants and use that which cleanses and heals the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and cures catarrh easily and pleasantly. Cold in the head vanishes quickly. Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail.

Catarrh caused difficulty in speaking and to a great extent loss of hearing. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm drooping of mucus has ceased, voice and hearing have greatly improved. —J. W. Davidson, Att'y at Law, Month, Ill.

FRIEND OF BRYAN

AS ELECTION JUDGE RECEIVED BRYAN'S VOTE.

Neighbor of the Presidential Candidate—Phenomenal Mail at the Office of the Commoner—Personalities and Simplicity of the Bryan Home.

J. G. P. Hildebrand, of Lincoln, Neb., was in this city Saturday on a brief business visit and departed Sunday morning for Spokane. Mr. Hildebrand is a special agent for the Commoner, W. J. Bryan's weekly newspaper and has been a neighbor of the Bryan family for years.

As judge of election in his home precinct, Mr. Hildebrand received and deposited Bryan's vote at the recent state election. He says that a curious crowd always gathers about places where Bryan happens to be attending to business errands even in Lincoln, where every one knows him and sees him daily. Friends are more familiar with Bryan than with people of much closer acquaintance, on account of his congenial and cheery disposition. He is familiarly called "Billy" and "W. J." by men and boys who live near him and enjoy his friendship.

Mail at Bryan's Office.

"Enough letter mail comes to Bryan's office every day to fill that barrel," said Hildebrand, pointing to a 10-bushel barrel sitting near. "It is sorted out with great care, every little note and line scrawled in schoolboy script being numbered and answered by a clerk in whose division it chances to fall. Mrs. Bryan gives personal assistance to him in the private management of their business. She takes the personal mail and sorts it out and directs its answer, and thus relieves Mr. Bryan of much of the intense strain of office work.

The Country Home.

"The Bryan family lives outside of Lincoln, at the farm, where extensive improvements have been made. The street car line runs from the city to the farm and the family prefers this home. It is a great hospitable house, fitted up with the modern conveniences of a Nebraska farm.

"Mr. and Mrs. Bryan enter into details of its management with zeal. Mr. Bryan has choice breeds of chickens, hogs and cattle, and is a good farm hand himself. Many a man in that vicinity has borrowed Bryan's axe, spade, wheelbarrow or garden rake and dozens of families are regular visitors at their home, where dinner is served at 12 o'clock, as on any well conducted farm. He is a good neighbor, and often borrows articles from others that he doesn't happen to own."
