To Preserve Fraunce's Tavern.

New York, Dec. 12 .- Leading members of patriotic and historical socletics of New York and other persons interested in the preservation of historical relics made up a delegation that visited Mayor Low at the city hall today and presented plans for the purchase by the city of the historic Fraunce's Tavern, at Pearl and Broad streets, where the first meeting of the chamber of commerce was held, and in which the famous "long room," where Washington bade fare-well to his officers at the close of the Revolution is included. The structure is admirably preserved and is still occupied as a tavern. It is pur-posed to purchase enough adjoining property to make a public park. It is estimated that the cost to the city will be about $370,000.
