SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Concerning the People of Pendleton and Vicinity • Notes Personal and Otherwise • By Our Regular Correspondent

Holiday Questions.

Socially, the past week has been rather quiet. Outside of the sale and dinner given by the Parish Aid Society, and one evening entertainment, there has been little doing. Christmas shopping has begun in earnest, and it is probable that until after the holidays are past little thought will be given to social pleasure. At this time people are lying awake nights wondering what to give this one and that one. Asking their friends if they can offer any suggestions in the way of suitable gifts, and then after they have their list made out, the idea comes to them, whether the gifts assigned to the different ones will be appreciated by the recipient or not until one is thrown into such a state of unrest, that at times it seems as if Christmas was a bore, instead of a pleasure, and the outcome is that the presents are sent, regardless of whether the recipient is pleased or displeased at what they receive.

Current Literature Club.

The Current Literature Club held a pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. Homer Hallock, on Johnson street, Friday afternoon.

The program was highly interesting. Among the entertaining features was a paper by Mrs. R. Alexander, on "Indian Dances." Mrs. T. M. Starkweather read a poem by Eva Emery Dye, the well-known Oregon historian. "The Story of John Astor, and the Founding of Astoria," also selections from Irving's "Astoria," were read by Mrs. W. H. Carmine. Mrs. R. Alexander gave an interesting talk on "The Contest Between the Chinook and the Cold Wind Brothers," which was seasonable and highly appreciated. Mrs. T. M. Starkweather followed with a talk on "Lieut. Bonneville, and the Fur Traders," reading also from Irving's "Bonneville." Mrs. Fee gave an original list of questions on Oregon History, which furnished a spirited guessing contest by those present. Mrs. Roscoe Bryson and Mrs. Maggie Clark were elected to membership in the club. Mrs. Clark is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Starkweather and was a prominent club member in her former home at Caribou, Illinois.

Mrs. T. G. Halley Entertains.

One of the most delightful parties of the season was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Halley, on the north side, Friday evening, when the young ladies and gentlemen who gave the private dances at Music hall this winter, were entertained; also the young gentlemen who entertained on December 6, 1901, three of whom have since become bachelors. The house was beautifully decorated with a profusion of chrysanthemums, numerous candleabra being interspersed about the rooms, giving a pretty effect. Various amusements were the order of the evening, the first of which was a guessing contest. Slips of paper with the name of someone present written on the top, were distributed, and each guest was asked to write a description of the party whose name appeared at the top, 30 minutes being the allotted time. The slips were then gathered up and the descriptions read aloud, names being withheld. The one guessing the largest number of names correctly was awarded the prize. Miss Ethel Johnson proved the lucky one and received a large bouquet of carnations, she having 29 correct. Another feature of the evening's pleasure, which gave much sport was when cards with the name of some animal written on the top, and a piece of chewing gum, were distributed, the hostess requesting the guests to make, as best they could, with the gum a likeness of the animal named on the card. Toothpicks were given to aid them, and it is needless to say it must have brought to memory the days when they made mud pies. Mr. Bryson carried off the honors in this contest, and was awarded a huge candy cane, having made a very good likeness of a monkey. The cards were then put on display, and it is said some of the guests are still laughing.

Refreshments were then served by the hostess, who was assisted by her sister, Miss Beach. Miss Frazier, James B. Welch and Oliver Kelsey sang a number of coon songs, which brought to a close a most enjoyable evening. Those who responded to the invitation were: Misses Fanchon Borie, Flo Hallock, Elsie Folome, Ida, Harriet and Edna Thompson, Eva Froome, Stella Alexander, Mable Nye, Lenore Sheridan, Ethel Johnson, Ralphy, Roberts and Frazier; Messrs. Charles Bond, George Hartman, Jr., Oliver Kelsey, Fred Lampkin, Mark Moorhouse, Roy Rittner, Charles Sampson, Wynne Stewart, Harry Thompson, James Welsh, Guy Wade and Messrs. and Madames C. J. Ferguson and R. S. Bryson.

United Artisans' Social.

Alpha Assembly No. 9, United Artisans, held a "necktie and apron" social Thursday night and about 175 people visited the hall during the evening. The program opened by a selection by Kirkman's orchestra and was followed by a duet by Misses Nellie Hardman and Ethel Kimball. Following these two selections the sale of neckties began. The ties had been made by the ladies from the same cloth that the apron which they wore was made. Those getting ties were told to find the lady with an apron on to match his tie and take her to supper. As soon as supper was over the floor was cleared and from 10:30 to 12 was spent in dancing to music furnished by Kirkman's orchestra.

Sunday School Social.

The intermediate classes of the Congregational Sunday school had a social at the house of Judge Lowell, on Johnson street last evening. The time was spent pleasantly in progresssive games and a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Lowell.

This afternoon the members of the Junior Society had a social with a jolly good time at the house of Mrs. Laura Hampton on East Court street.

High School Drama.

Some of the high school students are rehearsing a pretty little drama, "Up Above the Clouds," to be given at the Frater opera house some time near the holidays. Five of the young ladies who took part in "The Military Girl," will take the leading roles, which means a great deal towards the success of the entertainment.

Card Party.

A pleasant card party was given by Mrs. William Matlock at her home on Garden street Thursday evening. Only a few friends were present, but the affair was very pleasant to those who attended.

Green-Gray.

At the parsonage of the M. E. church, South, by Rev. E. B. Jones, pastor, on December 9, 1902, Mr. Charles E. Green to Miss Cora C. Gray were united in marriage. The wedding was very quiet, the sister of the bride, Miss Edith Gray, being the only relative of the contracting parties present. May long life and great happiness come to these new voyagers on the great sea of matrimony.

Bush-Bell.

William Bush and Mrs. Lottie Bell were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wagner, in Athena Wednesday, Rev. Armfield officiating. A number of relatives and friends were present, a reception and wedding dinner following the ceremony.

Social Notes.

Mrs. Edwin P. Marshall entertained a few friends at dinner Wednesday evening.

Miss Ena Uren, niece of Mrs. Robert Warner, has arrived from Spokane and is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Warner.

Miss Freda Roesch, who has been attending school at Bryn Mawr for the past few months, has returned home, intending to remain permanently.

A New Years Health Guide.

The edition for 1903 of the famous Hostetter's Illustrated Almanac is now ready, and may be obtained from your druggist or general dealer, free of charge. It contains much interesting reading matter, both for the young and old, and it should therefore find a place in every home throughout the country, as a handy reference. Their celebrated Stomach Bitters should also be found in the medicine chest as a means of counteracting serious illness. No other medicine is so good in cases of heartburn, loss of appetite, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipated bowels, liver and kidney disorders, or malaria, fever and ague. Be sure to try a bottle. It will surely cure you. The genuine must have our Private Stamp over the neck. Avoid all substitutes.

Signed With Cleveland.

Jess Stovall, brother of George Stovall, of this city, passed through town Friday evening on his way to his old home at Kansas City. Jess was the whirlwind pitcher who played with Seattle last season and holds the second highest batting average of any player in the Northwest league. He has signed with Cleveland, Ohio, team for the coming season.
