CLUB BUILDING PROGRESS.

Committee Enlarged to Assist During Holiday Season.

The committee of the Commercial Association, consisting of R. Alexan-Jesse Failing and C. E. Roosevelt, having the club building proposition in charge, held a meeting yesterday evening to discuss the proof the undertaking.

While no aggressive public action has been taken, yet a quiet and telling campaign is among the business men, and the committee has made progress that places the plan upon a sure basis.

The proposition is one of great magnitude and considering the presence of other public issues before the people has met with a cordial reception and is in hands that will bring it to a successful termination, within due time. Chairman Alexander expresses satisfaction at present progress in the warmest terms and feels confi-dent that no obstacles will be met.

The committee feels so highly encouraged with the result of their work carried on quietly among the business men of the city, that two more mem-bers were added, at yesterday evening's meeting, to push the work of organization as fast as possible.

The greatly increased trade at the beginning of holiday season, makes such demands upon the time of those comprising the committee, that Chairman Alexander decided to relieve the his knee cap. excessive pressure of private and public business combined, by enlarging the committee, and accordingly walking on his hands and knees. appointed Leon Cohen and Judge G. A. Hartman to assist in the work in hand.

At present the work is of a preliminary nature. The business men are being interviewed and all the made as comfortable as possible, but strength possible is being enlisted.

AT THE FRAZER.

Eugene V. Debs Will Lecture Wednesday Night on "Modern Problems."

The Lansing, Mich.) Tribune, speaking of Mr. Debs, says: "One striking thing about the audience which Mr. Debs draws is the large percentage of educators and students. When he led tures near a university or college it s a common thing for an excursion to be run from the institution of learning All to hear the great teacher of labor ethics and economics.
