WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

Q. A. M. is the Name of a New Dancing Club.

"Q. A. M." is the name of a new dancing club formed here to give entertainments each Saturday evening at Armory hall. Just what "Q. A. M." means is a puzzle. The management of the club refuses to tell, but offers a season's ticket to the first one to guess what the letters stand for.

It is the intention of the club to give clean dances each Saturday evening, where the best people of the town can assemble and enjoy themselves. Invitations have been printed and will be handed to the young men. These will have the names on them and without they are presented at the door, accompanied by the 50 cents admission fee, they will not be admitted. Kirkman's orchestra will furnish the music. ## GAMBLING ISSUE

CORRESPONDENT FOR REVIEW DREAMING.

Careful Inquiry Among Gamblers in This City Fails to Disclose Any Activity—No Move on Foot to Break Weak Place in Charter, if Such Exists.

In Tuesday's Spokesman-Review appeared an article which read in part: "As a solution of the gambling question in Pendleton, an attempt is being talked of by the gambling element to break Pendleton's city charter, in which some irregularity has long been supposed to exist."

After careful search and inquiry among those who are in touch with the gambling element of Pendleton, an East Oregonian representative has been unable to find any one who knows of any such thought having been entertained by the gamblers. There is no apparent place where the gamblers could attack the charter. Gambling is forbidden by the state statutes and should the gamblers discover a discrepancy in the charter which would give them a chance to break it, there would be nothing to gain. Gambling would be held in check just the same by the state law regardless of whether or not Pendleton had a charter. Mayor Hatley is also district attorney and he would exercise his rights as such and keep gambling closed.

The Review says further: "The first probable move is to make the offices of city marshal and city recorder elective instead of appointive. It is considered far easier in Pendleton to get an open policy marshal in than a majority of the council and mayor for open gambling. At present the marshal and recorder owe their appointment to the city executive, and consequently are entirely governed by that body. This is a unique condition existing in few Western towns. Pendleton's next election will probably see a hard, close town fight."

It is a fact that some are agitating the electing of the city marshal and recorder by the people, but if this was done nothing would be gained here, as the mayor would have the same power then as he now has. If the marshal did wank at gambling and overlook it as much as possible, the mayor would have the reins in his hands and could issue orders to keep gambling closed and if the marshal refused a man could be secured to make the arrests and the gamblers would be fined just the same.

The gambling element had the say in the electing of a mayor the first of last year, and they will have a chance of doing the same again. Then the only relief will be to elect a mayor who will tolerate an open policy.

EUGENE V. DEBS ARRIVES.

Noted Reformer and Lecturer Warmly Greeted by the Citizens of Pendleton.

Eugene V. Debs, who is to lecture on "Modern Problems" at Frazer's opera house tonight, arrived on the 12:30 train today.

Mr. Debs needs no introduction to the people of the West.

He was greeted at the train by a party of friends who escorted him to Hotel Pendleton, where he has been kept busy all afternoon answering questions and getting acquainted.

The national movements in which Mr. Debs has taken an active part have made countless friends for him, in advance of his coming. His genial personality and wide sympathies, the peculiar experiences of his career, endeared him to every class of people.

Mr. Debs expresses keen delight at the hearty reception accorded him at every point he visits.

He loves the West, knows its broad, rugged sympathies, and is enjoying his visit hugely.

TOUCHED IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.

Fifty Dollars Melt From Sight Suddenly and Mysteriously, This Afternoon.

A young man who asked that his name be withheld because of the position of trust he holds, and which he might lose, were the company to find it out, reported to the police this afternoon that he had been touched for $50.

The young man apparently lost the money. He was not drunk and was paid off today, receiving a check for $50. He was, on Main street in company with another fellow and they walked into one of the saloons to take a drink of beer. He had had the money a few minutes before while standing on the street and when he left the saloon the money was gone. He has no idea who did it and is at a loss to know how a man could get his hand in his pocket and extract $50 in loose gold without him knowing it. The police are working on the case.

No Reliance in Vaults.

Since it has been proven that the strongest built vault can easily be opened by expert safe-crackers, the treasury department has decided to add to their massive vaults and complicated locks a novel electric burglar alarm. While the government is endeavoring to protect the nation's wealth in the best manner possible, it is very important that we should endeavor to protect our health from the inroads of disease. The safest medicine to do this is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. By strengthening the stomach, perfecting the digestion and purifying the blood, it prevents disease from obtaining a foothold. It will also cure dyspepsia, flatulency, constipation, biliousness, nervousness and malaria, fever and ague. One bottle will convince you of its value. Don't fail to try it.

Boise Visitor.

Mr. M. B. Gwinn, general manager of the New York Life Insurance Company at Boise City, state secretary of the Idaho Woolgrowers' Association, and a brother of J. W. Gwinn, of this city, is now attending to business in The Dalles. He visited here a few days with his brother, en route.

OUR DOLL DAY

Last Saturday was a great success, and will cheer the hearts of many children this Xmas. We propose to do still better next Saturday. Read the offer below and learn how:

Saturday, Dec. 20, with a dollar purchase more of crockery or glassware we will present a novelty worth 50c.

They consist of card trays, sugars, creamers, bonns, jellies, etc., and are lacquered so that they will not tarnish in the open air.

FURTHER—With a 50c purchase of crockery or glassware we will present a gold-plated picture worth 25c. Both presents will make fine gifts for themselves, and cost you absolutely nothing.

Come early, as our supply is limited.

Young man, if you want to touch a woman's heart, buy her a piece of china.

Buy your wife a new set you prefer NOW

Josh Billings said, "Court the girl's mother half the time. The girl won't object and the mother likes it."

When you stay over night, come to us for something in the morning. Select a nice present and will square you with a better seven-eighths. Something pleases a woman better than nice china.

Josh was right. Buy the old lady a dainty piece of china and the old lady will do the rest.
