SHOT FOR TRACY

W. E. MORRIS CRIPPLED
FOR LIFE BY POSSE.

Now Asks the State to Repay Him for Time and Injury—Was in Hospital 14 Weeks—Leg Deformed and Permanently Crippled.

W. E. Morris, of Vancouver, Wash., who was accidentally shot while pursuing Harry Tracy, the Oregon bandit, in Washington, last summer, was in Salem today, says the Journal. Mr. Morris was shot in the left leg, near the thigh, by members of another posse that was also searching for Tracy, and by whom Morris was mistaken for the fugitive convict.

The members of that posse were Deputy Sheriff Lou Wagner, of Portland; Walter Lyon and J. L. Skipton, present deputy sheriff, both of this city.

While in Salem today Mr. Morris called upon Private Secretary Lyon, at the governor's office, and also had an interview with Deputy Sheriff Skipton, whose services and assistance he enlisted in an effort that he will make to have the State of Oregon refund him the amount of money he was obliged to expend for hospital and medical bills as a consequence of the injury.

Morris is a painter by occupation, and lives at Vancouver. The scene of the accidental shooting was nine miles from Vancouver. The treatment of the injury caused Morris to be confined to the hospital for about 14 weeks. The rifle bullet shattered the bone in his limb, and two operations were necessary before the wound was properly treated. As a consequence of the accident, Morris will always be a cripple.

The injured limb is crippled and is two inches shorter than its natural length. Morris says he had to pay a hospital bill of $109 and a further bill of $200 for the services of a physician. In addition to these expense items, Morris says he was laid up all summer, and could not follow his trade.

For these reasons he thinks it would not be asking too much of the State of Oregon to refund to him at least a part of the money he has been compelled to expend because of the injury he sustained while participating in the pursuit of Tracy.

Mr. Morris will be able to resume his painting, and has the pluck and energy about him to fully make up for the enforced vacation he has been obliged to take. He departed for his home at Vancouver this afternoon.

Saved at Grave's Brink.

"I know I would long ago have been in my grave," writes Mrs. S. H. Newsum, of Decatur, Ala., "if it had not been for Electric Bitters. For three years I suffered untold agony from the worst forms of indigestion, water-brash, stomach and bowel dyspepsia. But this excellent medicine did me a world of good. Since using it I can eat heartily and have gained 35 pounds." For indigestion, loss of appetite, stomach, liver and kidney troubles, Electric Bitters are a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50 cents at Tallman & Co.'s drug store.

Coming Society Wedding.

Mr. Nesmith Ankeny and Miss Edna Eversz will be married at the residence of the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Ankeny, Wednesday morning at 8:45 o'clock. Rev. Andreas Bard, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, will officiate. Only intimate friends and relatives will be present at the ceremony. A wedding breakfast will be served, and at 10 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Ankeny will leave for their home in Washtucna—Walla Walla Union.

Fined $5 for Assault.

Ed Simonton appeared before Justice Fitz Gerald this forenoon and pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and was fined $5. Simonton and Louis Muller, farmers near Helix, became involved over some hogs and a fight occurred, which resulted in a warrant being issued for Simonton and the above fine.

Plans Finished.

Architect Troutman has completed the plans for the two-story brick, to be erected on Main street, adjoining the East Oregonian building, and work will be commenced on the foundation Tuesday. This is the building to be erected for A. Kunkel & Co., the implement dealers.

Going to Walla Walla.

WALLA WALLA HOPEFUL.

Whitman Expects to Win the Debate With Oregon University, for Northwest Championship.

The debate between Whitman college and the University of Oregon, will be the greatest intercollegiate event which ever took place in Walla Walla. It is to be a contest for supremacy in the ability to sway the minds of men. It is to be a contest between the champions from beyond the mountains and the champions of the Inland Empire. Whitman having won seven out of eight debates held with Pullman, and Moscow. Lastly, it is to be a discussion of the most momentous question which has confronted the people at large for a great many years, says the Union.

The team, which is composed of Fred Cox, John Campbell and Robert Ringer, is being coached by Rev. Austin Rice, Professor Bratton and Professor Lyman, and they promise that neither pains nor labor will be spared to land at Walla Walla the debating championship of the Northwest. The boys themselves go home for the holidays laden with books on economics and labor and under a promise to return the Monday before school opens in order that their work may be trimmed into perfect shape.

Pere Marquette Syndicate.

New York, Dec. 22.—In well-informed circles it is considered likely that the minority stockholders of the Pere Marquette railroad will be permitted to join the voting trust. The matter is to be decided at a meeting of the syndicate managers in Boston today. It is said that so many of the minority holdings have asked the privilege of depositing their shares in the voting trust, subject to the control of the syndicate managers, that it is probable the requests will be favorably considered, although the syndicate managers already control a majority of the stock outstanding.
