MERCHANTS MAKE VERY SENSIBLE ARRANGEMENT

As an Up-to-date City Hereafter the Stores Will Close at 6:30 p. m.—Not Only for the Good of the Clerks But for the Merchants Themselves.

After tonight no dry goods, clothing or shoes can be purchased in Pendleton for the next three months after 6 o'clock in the evening except Saturday nights.

This is the agreement entered into between the business houses of Pendleton. For several months the clerks of Pendleton have been trying to get a shorter day. Most of the business men were in favor of the move but some held out that they were going to run their own business and would keep open as long as they wanted to. This caused a break, but now all the clothing, dry goods and shoe stores have signed the agreement which goes into effect the first of the year and will last throughout January, February and March.

The time limit was put on the closing movement to give the merchants a chance to see how the early closing would work. If satisfied at the end of the first three months, the movement will be continued.

All the grocery stores have not signed the early closing agreement, but it is expected that most of them will close. Some have signs in their windows announcing that they would close at 6:30, but whether all will close at this time or not is not known.

IN THE COUNTY JAIL

SMALLEST NUMBER OF INMATES FOR MONTHS.

Three Men Are in Jail for Stealing Horses—Two for Petty Thieving—Three Others for Lesser Offenses.

The Umatilla county jail now has eight inmates. This is the smallest number in jail for several weeks. Three or four men have served out their time and have been released within the past few days.

Among the eight now in jail three are charged with horse stealing, one with forgery, one with house-breaking, two with petty thieving and one, a Japanese with assault.

The men charged with horse stealing are J. B. Linder, Ira Rose and Dick Briscoobis. Linder is the young man who hired a horse and saddle from the City Livery Stables to ride a few miles into the country to collect some wages due him. Instead of returning with the horse in a few hours, as promised, he remained away all day and was arrested the next day at Umatilla by Sheriff Taylor. He had disposed of the horse and saddle at Echo for $20. Then he concluded that he would show the card sharps of that burg a trick or two by doubling up his $20 two or three times and getting money enough to get out of the country on. In this he was shown the trick himself. Within a very short while from the time he went into the game of poker his $20 had vanished like magic and Linder discovered that he was broke. He then started to walk to Umatilla, where he intended to board a freight train and get out of the country. Instead of getting on the freight, he walked into the arms of Sheriff Taylor and was brought back to jail.

Ira Rose is accused of hiring a horse at Weston and disposing of it and the saddle. He came to Pendleton, where he traded the saddle for a revolver at a second-hand store. He then met a young man on the road, and representing himself as an officer, with a warrant for the young man's arrest, took a saddle from him as a bond for his appearance at court the next day. The young man's suspicions were aroused and he immediately reported the matter to the officers. Rose then drifted around the country for a couple of weeks when he was arrested near Athena by Constable Lieualien.

Dick Briscoobis is charged with taking a horse belonging to William Murray and disposing of the animal. At least the animal has never been found since and Briscoobis is charged with being responsible for its disappearance. He was arrested at Milton and bound over to the district court.

John McCabe is the man charged with forging checks in Weston and securing $22.50 from a business man. After the forgery he suddenly dropped out of town, but a few days later was arrested at Nampa, Idaho, upon advice from the officers here. Sheriff Taylor brought him back to Pendleton and placed him in jail.

Louis Albee and Tim Kelly are in jail awaiting the action of the court on the charge of larceny of bedding and clothing. They are charged with robbing a roomer in the Last Chance lodging house and trying to get out of the country. They were arrested at Umatilla, where they were preparing to board a freight.

J. Morris is the house-breaker. He is one of the trio who broke into D. B. Richardson's general merchandise store at Helix and blew open the safe. They secured $28 and some cheap jewelry which was recovered on them when arrested. Sheriff Taylor found these men while they were asleep near the railroad a few miles this side of Bingham station. They were taken entirely unawares and placed in jail. Two of them confessed and are now serving six-year sentences, but Morris refused to plead guilty. Instead of only having the charge of house-breaking filed against him, he will face three or four charges when he comes to trial.

S. Suzuki will be discharged in a few days. He is one of the Japs who assaulted the yard crew here last summer and was fined $200. In default of the fine he was committed to jail for 100 days.

The seven criminals have all signified their intention of standing trial and their hearings will be had during the January term of court.

IN COUNTY JAIL.

Herbert Mundell, the Boy Who Robbed the Alba Postoffice, Arraigned This Morning.

Herbert Mundell, the Alba postoffice robber is now in the county jail. Postmaster Clarke and Constable Reynolds arrived in town Tuesday evening with the lad, who was arraigned this morning before United States Commissioner Halley.

Mundell will have a further hearing Monday when United States Attorney Hall will arrive here from Portland. The lad is only 15 years of age and it is not likely that he will be sent to the penitentiary, but will be committed to the reform school. Most of the money taken from the postoffice was recovered and the age of the lad will save him from a long prison term.
