GENERAL NEWS.

Jeffries has refused to fight Corbett for $20,000.

Three of the biggest coal companies in the United States have formed an alliance which for all practical purposes will be a combination.

Miss Dora Meek, of Centralia, Ill., went to sleep during the excitement of a lover's quarrel, September 28. After 100 days she is still asleep.

Cole Younger has applied to the Minnesota state board of pardons for a full pardon. The purpose of the application is to enable Younger to return to his old home in Missouri.

It is stated in railroad circles that the request of the committee of trainmen of Western systems for an increase in wages of 20 per cent has been refused by all the roads in St. Louis.

Joseph Chamberlain has been given a royal welcome by the Boers in South Africa. Generals Delarey and Botha both attended the banquet lately given at Pretoria in Chamberlain's honor.

Steps were taken at the annual meeting of the Western railway executive officials at Chicago recently, for a general advance in all commodity rates. How great the advance shall be was left for future determination.

A blizzard is raging in the central west. Heavy snow and severe gales are reported and many buildings have been damaged. Telephone and telegraph wires are down in Nebraska and Western Iowa. Traffic is badly delayed in Illinois by heavy snows.

The reply of the foreign powers to Venezuela suggesting a settlement without arbitration, only goes so far as to offer to treat for a settlement out of court after the payment of cash or the giving of a sufficient guarantee for the payment of $335,000 to each power.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS.

The Prince Arthur, a Norwegian bark, was wrecked January 2, on the Washington shore near Cape Flattery. Out of the crew of 20 only two were saved.

A search party has been organized at Union to find S. Sisson, who left there for the mountains several weeks ago and has not been heard from since.

John McMahan, one of the most desperate criminals in the Oregon state penitentiary, made an assault on a guard Tuesday with a brick dug out of the wall of the prison.

Six cars and an engine were ditched in a wreck on the Great Northern Tuesday evening. Engineer Palmer was slightly injured. The accident was caused by a rock slide.

Governor Morrison, of Idaho, in his message Tuesday, pays special attention to the subject of irrigation and declares that 65,000 square miles can be reclaimed in that state.

The trial of T. H. Williams and Truxton Beale on the charge of assaulting Editor Marriott, of San Francisco, was ended Tuesday. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

The Great Northern in Washington is again open for traffic, but there is still great danger from washouts and slides. The Northern Pacific will not be in working order for at least 10 days.

Elsie McMann, an 8-year-old girl of Norport, Wash., was run over by a sleigh Tuesday and killed. She slipped and fell in jumping from the sleigh and the runner ran over her body.

The grand jury at Seattle is uncovering much corruption and many of the most prominent gamblers are on the rack. It is said that the jury has for its object the investigation of the police force and is leading up to it by taking the gamblers first.

WESTERN OREGON

C. E. McLELLAN WRITES OF WILLAMETTE SCENES.

Business Industries of the Webfoot Districts—Poetry of Simpson and Higginson—Oregon No Mean Commonwealth.

Oregon City, Jan. 2.—(To the Editor.)—The resident of Eastern Oregon, who had lived there long enough to get the first dark brown taste out of his mouth and has learned to regard an occasional dust storm as a pleasant break in the monotony of living, is very apt to finally settle down to the conclusion that he is living in the best country under the sun.

While this is true, he also finds if he stirs from home that there are other portions of his state worth seeing, and as he journeys down the Columbia and up the Willamette rivers and notes the various industries along these streams, the salmon canneries, and saw mills, flouring mills, woolen mills, and more significant still, the large fleet of sea-going vessels gathered in these waters from all quarters of the globe to take to their own shores the products of this state, he is very apt to find himself saying as did the Roman of old, "I am a citizen of no mean commonwealth."

Oregon City, which our train has just passed, is beautifully situated on the Willamette, 30 miles above its mouth. It is a hive of industry and boasts the best water power in the state. The train running close beside the river gives a good view of the falls, and here Dr. John McLoughlin one of the historic figures of the state, lies sleeping.

Sam L. Simpson and Ella Higginson have sung the beauties of this region with no uncertain note. Spring's green witchery is lacking now, but the crystal deep in which the poet saw:

The picture of the sky,
Like those wavering hopes of Aiden,
Dimly in our dreams that lay;
Breathing sunshine on the morrow,
Breathing fragrance round today.

Are ever here and here are many picnic-looking nooks, where now as then

Love may wander here and ponder;
Hither poetry could dream;
Life's great questions and suggestions—

Whence and whither throng thy streams.

A company of webfoot school-ma'ns and students bound for some educational center up the valley, have boarded the train and scraps of discussions on Browning and other highly intellectual subjects are floating in the air.

In the fields through which we are passing, flocks of sheep, Angora goats and forests of hop poles are so many evidences that the webfoot farmer is grappling with the problem of diversified farming.

Rail fences, orchards and meadows are more in evidence than barbed wire and stubblefields. Towns seem to grow so thick that any attempt to keep track of them was given up some time ago.

On a hill overlooking one of the latter and the surrounding country, a peculiar looking stone building, somewhat suggestive of a fortress of some kind, but which one of the school-ma'ns has just explained was built for an observatory, is seen standing.

Daylight is getting scarce, the mountains are nearing and the valleys are narrowing. A backward glance takes in a picture of which the eye does not easily tire, and it is not hard to understand how the early settlers of this region, after toiling across a continent, thought they had found here an Eden, which they never exchanged, but to enter that habitation, whose low, green door never outward swings.

WHAT CAUSES DANDRUFF.

Greatest European Authority on Skin Diseases Says It's a Germ. The old idea was that dandruff is scales of skin thrown off, through a feverish condition of the scalp is exploded. Prof. Anna Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says dandruff is a germ disease. The germ burrows under the scalp, throwing up little scales of cuticle, and sapping the vitality of the hair at the root. The only hair preparation that kills dandruff germs is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect." Not only cures dandruff, but stops falling hair and causes a luxuriant growth. Delightful hair dressing.

Heads Should Never Ache.

Never endure this trouble. Use at once the remedy that stopped it for Mrs. N. A. Webster, of Winnie, Va. She writes: "Dr. King's New Life Pills wholly cured me of sick headaches I had suffered from two years." Cure headache, constipation, biliousness. 25c at Tallman & Co.'s drug store.

A dispatch from Vienna of December 5, says that in Korea, because of short harvests parents are selling their girls to get means to live. They are sold at from $15 to $20. "Merchants have found the trade in girls so profitable, that they are engaging in it on a large scale," says the dispatch.

Many women and doctors do not recognize the real symptoms of derangement of the female organs until too late.

"I had terrible pains along my spinal cord for two years and suffered dreadfully. I was given different medicines, wore plasters; none of these things helped me. Reading of the cures that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought about, I somehow felt that it was what I needed and bought a bottle to take. How glad I am that I did so; two bottles brought me immense relief, and after using three bottles more I felt new life and blood surging through my veins. It seemed as though there had been a regular house cleaning through my system, that all the sickness and poison had been taken out and new life given me instead. I have advised dozens of my friends to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Good health is indispensable to complete happiness, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has secured this to me." —Mrs. LAURA L. BREMER, Crown Point, Indiana, Secretary Ladies Relief Corps. —$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Every sick woman who does not understand her ailment should write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.
