NORMAL SCHOOLS

TWO WOULD SUFFICE FOR NEEDS OF OREGON

R. Alexander, President of the State Board of Regents, Thinks That Five Members on the Board Would Be Sufficient—Speaks Highly of Western Normal.

R. Alexander, president of the state board of normal regents, when interviewed by an East Oregonian reporter this morning about Governor Chamberlain's recommendation to cut the number of state normal colleges from four in number to two, was not very communicative.

He had no objections to being quoted to a certain point, but declared he had little to say on the subject at this juncture. However, he expressed himself unreservedly to the effect that under no consideration would he favor abandoning the Weston normal, it being the only normal the entire eastern portion of the state has, while its efficiency is increasing every year, and for the past year or two at a rapid rate.

He considers the present president and faculty as efficient and capable. During the past two years between $50,000 and $60,000 has been expended on the Weston normal, and the board of regents is asking for $37,000 this legislature. These reasons—more particularly the location of the Weston normal—in Mr. Alexander's opinion, forestall the presentation of any arguments for the abandonment of this college that will have any considerable weight with the legislature.

He believes that one normal in Western and one in Eastern Oregon, properly maintained, would meet all natural or legitimate demands of the people for state normals.

Mr. Alexander incidentally favors reducing the number of regents of the state normal from seven to five. The most forcible reason for the reduction being the fact that it is very seldom that any amount of persuasion or good reasons for a full board meeting actually secures the attendance of all the members. Usually there is but one session in the year at which all the members are present, and that is the session at which the teachers for the ensuing year are hired. Even for this meeting a good deal of persuasion is necessary to secure the attendance of all of the members.

HELIX HAPPENINGS.

Much Sickness Among Children—Many Attended K. P. Convention—Miss Myrtle Hill Entertains—Personal Notes.
 Helix, Jan. 13.—There is considerable sickness in Helix and vicinity, among children, although nothing serious so far. There is one case of measles, but every precaution is being taken to keep the disease from spreading.

The protracted meeting at the Christian church is progressing very successfully.

Several K. P. members attended the convention at Pendleton last Saturday, among them being B. B. Richards, D. B. Richardson, H. B. Richmond, C. M. Aispach, A. F. Raymond, C. A. Logan, C. E. Rushmore, Burr Johnson, Tarmon and Charles Barger, Alex Montgomery, Emmet Rees and Lyman Griswold.

Mrs. Rena Walker and little daughter, of Spokane, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Whiteman. G. E. Allen went to Pendleton Saturday.

Charles McAlvy was called to Valley on account of the serious illness of his mother.

Mrs. Sias, of Athena, came to Helix yesterday to join her husband, who is engaged in the meetings here.

Miss Pearl Smith was a Pendleton visitor Friday and Saturday.

Elliot Richardson, of the firm of Richardson Bros., of Adams, is confined at the home of D. B. Richardson, at this place, with a slight attack of la grippe.

Miss Nellie Herndon, primary teacher of the public school, is suffering with la grippe.

On Saturday evening Miss Myrtle Hill entertained a few friends. A delicious dinner was served.

A DELIVERY WAGON MERGER.

Pendleton Firms Will Discard Private Teams and Use City Delivery.
 A movement is well under way now which promises to do away with the many private delivery teams now in use by the business firms of this city.

An effort is being made to form a city delivery, under the management of one firm, which now operates five wagons. The merchants are taking very favorably to the proposition, as the cost of maintaining the delivery teams is about equal to the cost of hiring this service performed.

The principal merchants have been conferred with by the promoters of the plan, and much favorable sentiment has been expressed. The maintenance of a system of city delivery, with teams enough to meet the business requirements of the city promptly, would meet with universal approval among business men, and the scheme will be pushed as fast as possible.

Already a limited number of the business firms have disposed of their teams and as the proposition under progress is developed, it is expected to do away with their entire delivery enterprise by private parties.

A well-regulated delivery system, with sufficient teams to handle the immense trade of Pendleton, will do much to systematize this important branch. It is the plan to fix regular delivery hours for the convenience of patrons, besides keeping extra teams constantly on hand for calls at any time.

FOR NEW SCHOOL DISTRICT.

Large Influx of Settlers Make It Necessary to Form Another District.

A petition was presented to the county court praying for the organization of a new school district out of new territory adjoining districts 105 and 86. The new district, if organized, would lie on the county line, almost directly north of the city, but a little to the westward from the city. The first petition was incorrect, and was returned to the promoters by County Superintendent Nowlin for correction and re-circulation. The influx of new settlers has rendered the organization of a new district in the territory designated necessary.

Addition to District 89.

W. P. Ross, of Meacham, is bestirring himself to have about 25 sections of land—parts of the old reservation and partly government land and considerable of it railroad land—added to school district 89. The project would add over four miles of O. R. & N. railroad to the district and greatly increase the amount of taxable property, which is, of course, just what the promoters of the scheme are after. It is a very level-headed move on their part. The land sought to be annexed lies along the southern line of town 1 in in ranges 35 and 36. The petition in support of the project, will be ready for presentation at the county court at the March session.

Methodist Meetings.

There were three meetings to the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday last. Attention is called to the young people's prayer meeting at the parsonage this evening as well as to the regular prayer meeting for the older people and the general public, which meets in the church Thursday evening. The Ladies' Aid Society will hold an all-day session Thursday at the church. It will be a meeting of special interest and importance. The new song book, "Pentecost No. 2," will be first used Friday evening at a song service at the church, conducted by the choir, but to which all attendants upon this church are invited, to familiarize themselves with the new songs and music.

Settled Out of Court.

The case against L. Christiansen, accused by Lewis Nell of assault and battery, was settled out of court before it came to trial this morning. The motion to dismiss was made by the complaining witness, and the motion was granted and the case dismissed.

County Court Makes Levy.

The county court last evening made the tax levy for the ensuing year, as follows: For school purposes, 5 mills; for state and county funds, 22.9 mills; for roads, 1 mill. Total, 28 mills.

FELLOWSHIP MEETINGS.

Opening Session This Afternoon at the Congregational Church.

The fellowship meetings which have their opening session at the Congregational church this afternoon, will be attended, or that is the expectation, at least, by members of the church in particular, and to a considerable extent by orders, from all parts of the county. The general public is cordially invited. The program is as follows:

The opening exercises of the regular program is a general discussion of the topic, "Practicing the Divine Presence," led by Rev. R. A. Olds, of Walla Walla. There will then be an adjournment until the evening session, which will open at 7 o'clock, with the program proper to commence at 7:30. The first exercise of the evening will be an address by Rev. Austin Rice, of Walla Walla, from the topic, "The Pilgrim's Spirit in the Life of Today." It will be followed by an address by Rev. Stephen B. L. Penrose, D. D., president of Whitman College, from the topic, "The Contributions of the Pilgrims to Education." The addresses mentioned above are expected to be the especial "features" of the session, and the local membership of the church is anticipating them as intellectual and spiritual treats. Wednesday forenoon will be devoted to a business session to consider the affairs of the church in this part of the state. Wednesday afternoon the regular program will be made up of two addresses, one by Rev. J. D. Jones, of Dayton, Wash. His subject will be, "Loyalty to the Home Church." The second Wednesday afternoon address will be by Rev. Elvira Cobleigh, her topic being "How to Cultivate the Spirit of Service and Sacrifice in the Church's Members." The fellowship meeting will be preliminary to a series of meetings which will be held in the Congregational church every evening for some time, conducted by Rev. C. F. Clapp, of Forest Grove, superintendent of the C. H. M. society for the state of Oregon.
