WHY THEY SUCCEED.

Because They Are for a Specific Purpose. Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They're for sick kidneys. They cure backache, every kidney ailment.

Here is undeniable evidence to prove it: Mrs. A. M. Weaver, of 115 N. A street, Cripple Creek, Colo., whose husband is superintendent of the U. P. R. F. quarries, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a remedy in which I have great confidence and I heartily re-endorse what I have before stated about them in our Cripple Creek papers. Some three years ago I gave them to our little girl, who was troubled with a weakness of the kidneys. A few doses checked the annoyance and in a short time after a continuation of the treatment cured her. She has had very little trouble since, with the exception of when she caught a severe cold; then there were symptoms of a recurrence, but a few doses of the pills never fail to ward off an attack. I recommended them to a lady friend of mine some time ago, who used them and was greatly benefited. I keep them constantly in the house so as to have them on hand in case of recurrences. I do not hesitate to advise any mother to use them in her family where necessity demands."

THE INSANE ASYLUM

COST OF LIVING HAS INCREASED IN PAST TWO YEARS

No Deficiency in the Asylum Fund—Will Ask for Increased Appropriations for Next Two Years—Table of Salaries Paid.

The report of the superintendent of the Oregon Insane Asylum says: "There was appointed by the last legislature the sum of $288,000 for the maintenance of the insane asylum for the two years ending December 31, 1902, for the payment of the salaries of the officers and employees and for the maintenance and general contingent expenses of the asylum, being the same amount as appropriated for the preceding two years. We are pleased to be able to report that, notwithstanding the increase in population and advance in the price of the necessary supplies, fuel, etc., the cost of maintenance has been kept within the appropriation, and there will be no deficiency. The superintendent reports the daily average per capita as $2.55 cents; average cost per month, per capita, $9.90.

O. R. & N. CHANGES AT BAKER.

Mr. Hallock Has New Set of Assistants in His Office at the Mining Center.

Baker City, Jan. 16.—Since the advent of H. H. Hallock as agent for the O. R. & N. Co., at Baker City, there has been a number of important changes at this station. Mr. Hallock stated yesterday that these changes do not indicate that he was making a clean sweep and that there was a general rustling of dry bones. All the men, he said, who have quit, are good men and most of them go to other positions on the same road, just as lucrative.

J. Van Zant, who for some time has been working for the company in different capacities and who for two weeks has been cashier in the Baker City office, has resigned and will go to Wardner, Idaho, to act as cashier in the O. R. & N. office. He will be succeeded by J. R. Hamilton, whose father is the O. R. & N. agent at Washtucna, Idaho.

Ike Hermann, who has been ticket clerk since January 1, has resigned and accepted work in another field. His place will be filled by R. D. Bancroft, who has for some time been night operator at Tolocasset. Mr. Bancroft is an old railroad man from the East and was formerly with the Grand Trunk.

THE YOUNG CASE

COMES UP FOR TRIAL NEXT WEEK.

A Grandson of Old Brigham Young to Be Tried for Brutally Murdering Mrs. Anna Pulitzer.

New York, Jan. 16.—With the Molineux trial still fresh in the public memory and the Louis Disbrow murder trial now on, still another notable murder case, and one of absorbing interest to criminologists, will come up for trial next week. This is the case of William Hooper Young, a grandson of Brigham Young, who was indicted in October last for the murder of Mrs. Anna Pulitzer, a woman whom he had lured to his rooms in West Fifty-eighth street.

The crime was one of the most brutal the police have been called upon to deal with since the Golden-Suppe murder. For some time prior to his alleged commission of the crime Young had been occupying a room in the luxurious apartments of his father, John W. Young, a promoter and capitalist of wealth and high financial position, and who was at the time absent in Europe on business. The son had the reputation of being a ne'er-do-well, drifting from one occupation to another and living at various times in Utah, the state of Washington and various other parts of the country. Evidence collected by the police, strengthened by the confession alleged to have been made by Young after his arrest, goes to show that the young man took the woman, with whom he had had some previous acquaintance, to his rooms on the night of the murder and there drugged her and then proceeded to cut up the body in the most diabolical manner. The remains were then taken in a trunk across the North river, where they were thrown into the shallow waters of a canal. The body was found next day weighted down with a hitching weight. The first clue to the identity of the murderer was furnished by a Jersey liverman who identified a photograph of Young as the man to whom he had hired a rig the day before and who also identified the hitching strap and weight as his property. A visit to the Young apartments furnished ample evidence of the commission of the crime. About the same time the Chicago police discovered a trunk which had been shipped to that city by Young and which contained the dead woman's clothes and valuables. For two or three days the New York police scoured the city in search of the young man. Before the end of the week he had been captured in Connecticut in the disguise of a tramp. It is alleged that he made a full confession to the police, but implicated another person in the actual murder. The authorities, however, refused to credit the story of an accomplice as all the evidence tended to show that Young alone committed the crime and hid the body.

The relatives of the accused, who are leaders in the Mormon church, will bring to his defense all their wealth and influence can command. The finding in Young's room of writings and Biblical quotations on "blood atonement" have suggested that the victim was sacrificed by a religious fanatic, and this has stirred the Mormon church to angry protests and bitter denials. The church authorities, in fact, assert that they are not at all interested in the defense of the young man and that despite his descent from the great Mormon leader he was not one of their number, having renounced the faith of his fathers a number of years ago.

John W. Young, father of the accused, is expected to be present at the trial. Eminent counsel has been engaged to conduct the defense. The police consider their case so complete that they expect a plea of insanity to be entered. It is known that Young for many years has been a victim of the use of morphine, cocaine and other drugs.
