Died in Missouri.

The North Missourian, published at Gallatin, Mo., says in its issue of Jan. 30: "The little son of W. W. Harrah, who arrived here from Pendleton, Ore., died Sunday, Jan. 25, of scarlet fever. The child was 2 1/2 years old and was sick when the family arrived here. The funeral was held Monday at Pilot Grove Baptist church and the interment took place in Pilot Grove cemetery, the oldest in the county."

W. W. Harrah and family left Pendleton two weeks ago to pay a visit to the old home in Missouri and this sad misfortune will be learned with regret by their many friends in this city.

They are expected home next week.

Snow 15 Feet Deep.

W. F. Murray came down from the Greenhorn district yesterday and will remain until next May. He got out of the Greenhorn country just in time to get out at all probably, as the snow there was 15 feet deep when he left. Mr. Murray is the sole owner of the Old Man, and one-half owner of the Eagle, mining claims which are now yielding $50 per ton. He is confident he has a good thing in both properties.

Revival Meetings Continue.

The revival meetings now in progress at the Baptist church are being well attended with the most satisfactory results. Last night five new members were baptized and several others are awaiting baptism. Conversions are being made constantly and the meetings will be held each evening until further announced.

Epidemic of Measles.

The measles are still epidemic around Missouri Gulch. The Powers and Hughes families and the family of Fred Searey are said to be afflicted. As far as can be learned there is no attempt at a quarantine, people coming and going with scarcely any attempt to avoid the disease.

ON EAST OREGONIAN FORCE.

Well Known Newspaper Man Accepts Position of Circulation Agent.

Fred Lockley, Jr., of Salem, the well-known correspondent and writer, who has been connected with the Northwest Livestock and Woolgrowers' Journal of this city, the Pacific Homestead of Salem, and whose interesting descriptive letters and pioneer sketches in the Oregon Daily Journal have been widely copied in the Northwest, has accepted the position of circulation agent on the East Oregonian and is now in charge. Mr. Lockley needs no introduction to the many patrons of the East Oregonian, as he has traveled extensively through all parts of Oregon in the interest of the publications named, and enjoys a wide personal acquaintance. Mrs. Lockley accompanies him to this city, where they will make their future home.

Christian Science Meeting.

During the stay in the city of Miss Stimson, of Portland, the Christian Science healer, the friends of that faith will hold regular sessions every Sunday at 11 a. m. and every Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Rosa Campbell, on Cottage street. Miss Nell Fanning is first reader and Mrs. Ed Ebon is second reader. The church here now numbers 15 members.

California Woman's Federation.

Fresno, Cal., Feb. 2.—All preparations have been completed to entertain in comfortable style the California Federation of Women's Clubs, which will meet in annual convention here tomorrow, under conditions perhaps more favorable for a successful meeting than since the organization. Almost every county in the state will be represented, and many delegates are already arriving. The local clubs are especially strong, and on them will involve the work of entertaining the visitors. Their efforts have proven so successful that every visitor will be entertained at a private house. The meeting will undoubtedly be the largest in point of attendance of any yet held in California. Women's clubs of all kinds will be represented, and subjects of interest to women will be discussed.
