EXPERIMENT WORK

CARRIED ON AT UNION IS MOST SATISFACTORY.

Professor Leckenby Thinks $20,000 Appropriation Sufficient for All Purposes.

In reply to the East Oregonian's inquiry in regard to the needs and purposes of the Eastern Oregon Experiment Station for the next two years, Prof. Leckenby, in charge, writes as follows:

"Union, Ore., Jan. 28.—(To the Editor.)—Your letter of yesterday just received and I am gratified to know that you take so much interest in the Eastern Oregon Experiment Station.

"It appears to me that the Eastern Oregon Experiment Station, to be worthy of the name, must be one in fact, which it cannot be if it ignores the greatest problem that confronts the people, viz.: the improvement of the semi-arid lands. This in my opinion should receive our best thought and most earnest efforts. To this end some work will, of necessity, have to be taken up upon the semi-arid land itself. It should be representative land, wisely chosen for demonstrative and educational purposes. This would require the expenditure of some money but I think $20,000 would be ample for all purposes. Any one who cannot manage 600 acres of good land and make it produce a considerable revenue, is unfit to have charge of it.

"Twenty thousand dollars is ample for all purposes, with the resources we have, I think more would be a danger instead of an advantage.

"Sincerely,
"A. B. LECKENBY."

"A Gambler's Daughter."
"A Gambler's Daughter" is the title of a play that has scored a success this season unprecedented in recent years, and it is to be given here in all its entirety by the original company which first carried it on to prosperity and popularity. It will be produced next Monday, Feb. 2, at the Frazer and it is certain to play to packed houses. "A Gambler's Daughter" is a sensational melo-drama. There is much of a tragic nature in it that excites to an intense pitch the emotions of the spectators, but all ends happily and the lovers after many adventures, and after foiling the dire conspiracies against them by black-hearted villains are finally united. The play is also enlivened by excellent comedy, and when the spectators are not in tears over the misfortunes of the beautiful heroine and the shadows that appear to threaten her future, they are laughing and applauding uproariously at the funny antics and comical sayings of the comedian and comedienne.

"WATER, YOU'RE A BUM!"

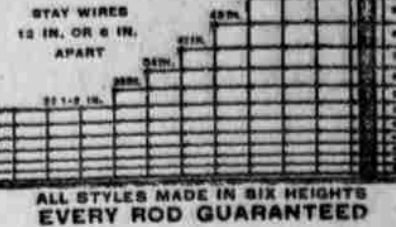

"Strathmore."
It is said of Virginia Drew Trescott, the star of David Traitel's big dramatic production of Ouida's "Strathmore" announced at the Frazer for Wednesday, February 4th, that she never tires of her exacting impersonation of "Lady Vavasour" but gives each evening as spirited and spontaneous an interpretation of the difficult role, as though it were a new task in hand instead of one she has rendered so often; and she is always seemingly as fresh an eager for the characterization as she was at the beginning of the run of the production this season. Manager Traitel has surrounded this clever artist with an excellent company, evenly balanced, each one carefully selected for the various roles which they enact.

Last October a Chicago firm put agents in the states of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska and practically swept them clean of turkeys, geese and ducks.

ALEXANDER'S EMBROIDERY SALE

THIS EVENT IS OUR GREATEST EFFORT AND YOUR OPPORTUNITY

A SALE WITHOUT A RIVAL

BEAUTIFUL SHEER INDIA LINEN SOLD THE WORLD OVER AT 18c SALE PRICE, 11c.

THINK OF IT!—Two hundred and fifty-seven miles of beautiful, dainty embroideries. Enough, and more, if stretched out to reach from Pendleton to far beyond Portland. It's most impossible to imagine. They are direct from St. Gall, where the expert peasant embroiderers have aided us in their dainty charming work, and we imported these to make this sale memorable. Not cheap, maimed work, but far beyond the ordinary. The Swiss are noted for their needle craftiness. And, too, we will add the larger materials, Paris muslins, cambrics, linens and long cloths. They will greet you here just as if they had been bought at unreasonable prices. "And maybe they have." It's not customary for other shops to do this, but the Alexander Store is always doing something exceptional—out of the ordinary—and you will find the good-natured smile of goodness upon these materials although they do receive the deep cut. Remember the odds and ends of the greater sale will be united with the embroidery sale at the Alexander Department Store commencing Monday, Feb. 2, 1903.
