ARTICLES ON THE NORTHWEST.

Magazine Will Run Interesting Series of Letters During Season of 1903.

Ray Standard Baker, one of the popular of the younger American magazine writers, has just returned from a trip of several weeks through northwestern states, during which time he has been gathering material for a series of articles "The Great Northwest," which will appear in the March Century. The growth of the cities, how the wheat farms are managed, the logging industries, cattle raising—these will be told in Mr. Baker's crisp and picturesque way, with striking illustrations by Mr. Edward L. Blumenfeld, who accompanied the writer on his journey.

The series will include articles on "The Conquest of the Forest," "The History of Mormonism," "Salmon Fisheries," "The Day of the Run" (a description of the opening of the Indian reservation), "Yellowstone Park," etc. The first article, which will appear in the March Century, on February 28, tells of the striking things to be seen in Portland, Spokane, Tacoma, Seattle, and Liberton.

THE ONLY WOMAN JUDGE.

She Was Annexed to the United States With Hawaii.

The only woman judge in the world is a citizen of the United States and has been on the bench in Honolulu, the capital of the Hawaiian Islands, for 10 years.

Mrs. Kailli Populono Nakikuna is the best educated woman in Hawaii. French and German are among the languages which she has mastered, and she has made a careful study of the industries, legislation and social conditions of her people. She has had charge of the government libraries and museums, and had acted as court interpreter when she was appointed commissioner and made Judge of the court. She has straightened out many a legal tangle resulting from the changing governments of the islands, and from her decisions the supreme court is the only appeal. Mme. Nakikuna has been twice married, her first husband being a cousin of the reigning king. She is devoted to her home. The judge is nearly six feet tall and of commanding presence. —Kansas City Star.

Scale on Fruit Trees.

There is more than the usual amount of complaint about the presence of scale and aphid on the fruit trees in this vicinity, and the owners of fruit trees are preparing for a vigorous campaign with sprayers and brushes. Those interested in methods of fighting scale, aphid, and other fruit tree pests are also interested in knowing who the horticultural commissioner for the eastern district of Oregon is. The present commissioner is Judd Geer, and his address is Cove, Or.

Will Improve Roadbed.

P. Grant, the genial roadmaster of the O. R. & N., on the La Grande division, spent yesterday evening in the city. He has been superintending the construction of the grade at the recent washout near Bingham Springs. He says the mountain division, east of Huron, will be graveled and put in the same condition as the track from this city to Huron this season, if gravel can be found.

Aged Man Had Measles.

P. Wilcox returned to his home at Eugene this morning. Mr. Wilcox came to Pendleton several weeks ago to visit with John Brown and Charles Bales, and was taken down with a severe attack of the measles, although he is over 70 years of age. He suffered severely and recuperates very slowly, and is still quite feeble.

Returned to La Grande.

Engineer Frank M. Jackson, who has been in the St. Vincent's hospital for six weeks with an injured eye, has returned to his home at La Grande. His eyeball was removed and several pieces of coal were scraped from it, when it was replaced and is sound as ever. He received a painful injury by being struck in the eye with a fragment of coal and it was feared for a time that he would lose the sight.

From Meacham.

Ben Marlin, proprietor of the Meacham hotel, is in the city on business today. Mr. Marlin says there is strong sentiment among the O. R. & N. officials in favor of rebuilding the Log Cabin eating house. He has a large herd of dairy cows at Meacham as an adjunct to his hotel business.

Considerable Scab.

It is reported by J. E. Smith, of the J. E. Smith Livestock Company, that there is considerable scab among the sheep now, with a tendency to spread. Mr. Smith disclaims being an alarmist, but hopes that the inspector will rise to the occasion if he has not yet done so.

Seven Hundred Acres of Wheat.

J. S. Wheeler, who lives three miles west of the city, has in 700 acres of wheat this season that is all fine that is up, 300 acres. Four hundred acres was not sown until January and while there is no reason to suppose it is not fine, it is too small to show up much. Mr. Wheeler will cut 300 acres of his wheat for hay.
