BOXING MATCHES.

Boxing matches were held at Helix last night, merely for the entertainment of the spectators. Quite a large number witnessed the exhibition, which was flanked by a colored quartet and a buck and wing dancing. The fight was a lively one, between Ed Weston and Wilson, the latter from Helix. They fought four hot rounds, which exhibited the best of both without being decisive. The seventh round was between the Helix man and a man from the town of Helix, and it was a close one. It was to have been a 10-round fight, but a decision on points, after six rounds were fought. The Helix man was declared off as a part of the audience was made up of ladies and children.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Wagon and Four-Horse Team Go Over a Grade—Driver Unhurt.
S. B. Nell, of Camas Prairie, narrates that Wednesday of last week a man, whose name he did not learn, met with a peculiar accident near his place and about a mile and a half north of Camas Prairie.
The stranger had a load of mixed freight drawn by four horses. While on a down grade at the point mentioned the tongue of the wagon broke and horses, wagon and freight and driver went over the grade together. The driver was pinned down by a large quantity of the freight piling upon him and lay helpless for an hour, or until discovered by passers-by, who extricated him. The horses were so badly tangled up in the harness and with themselves that they too, were helpless.
The driver was so little injured that he helped to get the outfit in traveling shape and drove off across Camas Prairie a few hours after the accident took place. It is said that the wagon turned over twice before it reached the bottom of the grade, dragging the horses with it. Mr. Nell regards the fact of so little injury being done as little short of a miracle.

LEFT POOR FARM.

The Insane Woman, Mrs. Poole, Found This Morning.
The insane woman, Mrs. Ida Poole, to whom so frequent reference has been made of late, escaped from the county farm last night and was not found until about 9 o'clock this morning. She was then at the home of Samuel Osborne, on East Railroad street, where she had come about 12 o'clock last night. She was not violent or troublesome, and gave no connected reasons for her leaving the farm. She was taken back without making any trouble.

Eastern Star Initiation.
