MONSTER LOG-ROLLING.

One of the Greatest Gatherings of Woodmen in Washington to Take Place in Walla Walla May 1.

Walla Walla, Feb. 16.—The local camp of Woodmen of the World is arranging for a monster log-rolling in this city May 1, when it is promised that 349 candidates will be initiated into the order in one of the greatest gatherings ever witnessed in the state. General Organizer W. C. Krum, of Denver, Col., is in the city making arrangements for the event.

The Woodmen have ordered a number of electric signs and advertising matter is being prepared which will be scattered all over Eastern Washington. Prizes of $75 have been hung up for the member presenting the most names of applicants acceptable to the camp, and other forms of rivalry will be introduced. The initiation has been scheduled for May 1, and will continue three days. Bands from all the principal cities will enter a competition for prizes, and other attractions will be offered the public. To perform the initiatory work a special degree team is being organized in this city, consisting of 45 men, and a branch of the uniform rank of the order is being perfected among the same men. As an inducement for enthusiasm to present itself quickly, a special gathering of the lodge has been called for this week, when an oyster supper will be served to all members.

The entire contract is to be closed up within 60 days, and it is expected that most of the horses will arrive here within a month. In the competition a number of horsemen made bids, most of the men interested in Eastern Oregon and Washington making figures considerable higher than those of the successful bidder. Since the arrival of the Ninth at this post the men have been un-

PLEA OF INSANITY.

Dentist of Waitsburg Being Tried for Attempting to Kill His Wife Friday.

Walla Walla, Feb. 16.—Dr. J. W. McLean, a dentist of Waitsburg, is being tried in the superior court today for insanity, the matter being brought on by an attempt on the part of the doctor to kill his wife Friday night. Mr. McLean was tried a few weeks ago and released, the temporary spell seeming to have passed. A few days ago the trouble returned and resulted in the attempt upon his wife's life. The demented man was brought to this city, and a number of witnesses were called to testify as to his actions for five or six years past. It seems that nervous trouble has affected the mind of the doctor, the effects being noticeable by neighbors for several years.

FOUNDERS' DAY.

Whitman College Celebrates the 93d Anniversary of the Birth of Rev. Ellis.

Walla Walla, Feb. 16.—Today is being celebrated "Founders' Day" at Whitman College, the day being the 93d anniversary of the birth of Rev. Cushing Ellis, the founder of the college, and its first instructor. At chapel this morning Allen H. Reynolds, who was intimately acquainted with Rev. Ellis, spoke of the life, work and character of the pioneer.

A number of friends of the college were present. Rev. Ellis was born in Blandford, Mass., February 16, 1810, and established Whitman College in 1868, in honor of Marcus Whitman. Two grandchildren of the founder are students at the college, Walter Ellis, of Twana, Wash., and Miss May Ellis, of Tacoma.

WARD'S MINSTRELS.

Arrive in Two Special Cars—One of the Best Minstrel Shows on the Road.

The Harry Ward Minstrel Company which will appear at the opera house tonight, arrived in town this morning in two special cars.

The parade given at noon by the company was one of the finest ever seen in Pendleton. There were 30 men, two bands and a quartet of megaphone singers in the parade, the quartet rendering a medley of popular songs in the street concert.

This season Mr. Ward guarantees his show to be one of the best minstrel shows on the road. The first part setting, called "A Night in Old Vienna," is very elaborate and was designed especially for the Ward show after Mr. Ward's own ideas. New songs and new jokes will be heard in the first part. The olio is a strong one, being made up of seven pleasing vaudeville acts, including Harry Ward's original monologue, Hershel's exclusive electrical bag punching act and Manvro's peculiar "Lone Hottentott" act.

For those who appreciate good music, clean comedy and excellent vaudeville the Harry Ward show will be an attraction not to be missed.

The minstrels spent an open date in Pendleton several weeks ago and were entertained by the local lodge of Elks.

is Shearing Sheep.

Charles Cunningham, the veteran sheep breeder, was in town today buying wool sacks. In answer to the inquiry of a representative of the East Oregonian, he said: "Yes, I am shearing already. I have been shearing for the past three days. I have sheared about 1,500 bucks so far. While I have tried machine shearing, I am still shearing by hand, though to tell you the truth, I like the machine work much better. I have merely neglected getting the sheep shearing machines." It is not generally known what a large volume of business is conducted in the sale of pure bred stock by the Eastern Oregon sheep breeders.

Froome-Lark.

A pretty and quiet wedding took place last evening at the home of Mrs. Chas. Finch, at 621 Maple street. The contracting parties were C. M. Froome and Mrs. Olive Lark, both of Pendleton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Rigby, in the presence of a small party of relatives and neighbors and a few other invited guests. Afterward all sat down to a wedding supper. Mr. and Mrs. Froome have been acquaintances and friends during the 20 years or so that both have resided either in or near Pendleton. Their mutual confidence and respect are shared by a very wide circle of people. Mr. and Mrs. Froome are at home at 503 Garden street.

Socialists Meet.

There was a large turnout yesterday to the Socialist Club meeting in the Despain building, and 12 new members were voted in. The subject discussed was "Why Should a Union Man Become a Socialist?" The address by Perry Houser on this subject was particularly entertaining and sound. The next session of the club will be an open meeting Monday evening, February 23. It will be addressed by Rev. Jonathan Edwards, from the subject, "Benefits of Cooperation."

Broke into Office.

Last Friday evening the deputy in the county assessor's office forgot to turn off the electricity in the office. The incident was probably responsible for some one during the night, breaking in the door of the office. The door was securely fastened and the interloper, whoever he was, surged against the door with sufficient force to break the lock from its fastenings. At what time in the night this took place is not known; neither can any object be surmised that affords a good explanation for the assault on the door. There was no evidence whatever that anything in the room, either public or private property, had been in any way molested.

W. H. Huffman, one of the pioneers of Union county, died of dropsy at his home in Pyle's Canyon, near Union, Sunday, February 15 aged 65 years.

Mr. Huffman came to Union county about the close of the civil war, from Illinois, and his continuous residence has been in Union county ever since. He was married in 1867, in Union county, to Catherine Stanley, whom he survived six years. The funeral and interment will take place at Union this afternoon.

Among those attending are Bert Huffman, his son, and editor of the East Oregonian. Mr. Huffman was called to the bedside of his father Saturday last and was with him at his death. Five children, four sons and one daughter, survive him.

Pendleton people who have been acquainted with Mr. Huffman for many years, say of him that he was a man of a very equitable temper, generous, just and in every respect a practical, honest American. Also that he was and had always been an exceedingly well-informed and progressive man.

Trust Legislation.

Congress is grinding out trust legislation not of the metal from which can be forged anything detrimental to trust. As usual when public sentiment begins to show signs of unrest, the trusts, ever on the alert, exploit some scheme in the form of law that enables them to carry on business at the old stand.—Freewater Times.
