Poorer Grades. There are very few changes to record in the prices of whatever is either bought or sold in the local market this week, as compared with last, with the exception of in the hide and fur market. Green beef hides are off a half cent per pound for the best grade. The foreign market would not stand 6 cents for the top here. The green beef hide market is slow, though, not many coming in. Between 30 and 40 coyote pelts were bought during the week. There has been an advance of 15 cents on each for the best grade of coyote pelts.

This advance makes it worth while to properly prepare the hides for the market. Buyers complain because hides do not come in properly stretcued, and are always willing to pay for those that are. Nearly 3,000 sheep pelts have been bought here during grades coffee, 25c to 15c Shank & Co., but for various reasons the price is off 1 cent per pound on pext grade, $1-3c per lb. both the best and the poorer grades.
